(c) Messages from the Governor may be received at any stage of the proceedings.

(d) When a bill shall have been made a special order for a definite time and an adjournment shall intervene for a time beyond the time fixed for such special order, then in that event the bill so made a special order shall be placed in its order on General File. The unfinished business in which the Legislature was engaged at the adjournment of the last preceding sitting shall have preference in the special order of the day.

(e) Upon call for the introduction of bills, any member or any standing committee to which bills are referred for consideration may introduce one or more bills.

Introduction of bills. Rule 6, Sec. 1, page 28.

(B) Voting Machine

Sec. 2. Voting, Electric Roll Call. (a) All votes shall be taken viva voca unless otherwise provided for herein. Questions shall be distinctly put in this form, to wit: "Those who are in favor of the question say 'aye'; those who are opposed to the question say 'nay' ".

(b) If a machine vote is called for or if the presiding officer is in doubt, he shall cause the result to be obtained by means of the electric roll call system, and in such event shall accept only machine tallied votes except that voice votes shall be accepted on a motion before the House while the House is under call. The Presiding Officer may vote by voice. Only the totals shall be printed in the journal. Once having voted aye or nay, Senators may call in a change to not voting prior to the locking of the voting board.

Voice votes shall be accepted on Final Reading

(c) Upon the final passage of a bill, or of a resolution if the same required the same consideration as a bill, the vote shall be by yeas and nays, and the elcetric roll call system shall be used.

(d) Whenever the "ayes" and "nays" are taken by machine vote no member shall be permitted to vote after the decision is announced by the presiding officer or the Clerk. Votes not registered on the electric roll call system shall not be counted for or against a proposition. In announcing such vote the Clerk shall announce the ayes, the nays, those present and not voting, and those absent and not voting. Any member may request a roll call or a record vote and further that the same be verified.

(C) Motions

Sec. 3. Motions, in Writing, Withdrawal. (a) A motion shall be either stated by the presiding officer or read by the Clerk in writing before a vote is taken. All motions shall be submitted in writing if requested by the presiding officer or any Senator.

Once motions are stated they may be withdrawn or modified by the mover before a decision, amendment, or ordering of a vote has been made A motion to reconsider may be withdrawn only with unanimous consent or a majority vote of the elected members.

When a question is under debate no motion shall be considered except one of the following, which motions shall take precedence in the order stated.

a. To adjourn
b. For the previous question
c. To postpone to a time certain
d. To recommit to a committee
e. To amend
f. To postpone indefinitely

Such motions shall have precedence in the order in which they are arranged, except that motions to postpone indefinitely and amend do not yield to each other.

(b) When a motion or other proposition is under consideration, a motion to amend and a motion to amend that amendment shall be in order.

(c) Amendments to the title shall be made by the Enrollment and Review Committee.

(d) No motion, proposition or subject, different from that under consideration, shall be admitted under color of amendment.

(e) Any member may call for the division of a question, which shall be divided if it comprehends propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Legislature. A motion to strike out and insert shall be deemed indivisible, but a motion to strike out being lost, shall not preclude an amendment or a motion to strike out or insert.

(f) When motions are made for reference of the same subject to a select committee and to a standing committee, the question on reference to the standing committee shall be considered first.

Sec. 4. Shall the Debate Cease. The previous question shall be in this form, "Shall the debate now close?"

The previous question shall be in order when demanded by five or more members and must be sustained by the vote of a majority of the elected members, and until decided shall, except as provided in this section of this rule, preclude further debate and all amendments and motions, except one motion to adjourn.

On a previous question there shall be no debate. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for a previous question, and pending such motion, shall be decided, whether on appeal or otherwise, without debate.

When the previous question shall have been ordered on a proposition under debate, the mover, proponent or introducer of such proposition shall be given the right to close the debate thereon.

Sec. 5. Call of the Legislature. A call of the Legislature must be seconded by at least five members. Thereupon, and upon call of the presiding officer, each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members elected, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members present and voting thereon. When the Legislature has been under call for fifteen minutes, and if all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the call raised.

Sec. 6. Postpone to Time Certain. No motion to postpone to a time certain, to commit or to postpone indefinitely being decided, shall again be allowed on the same day at the same stage of the bill of proposition.

Sec. 7. Reconsideration. (a) When a question has been decided, it shall be in order for any member voting with the prevailing side, or not voting, to move for a reconsideration thereof. A motion to reconsider must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on the next legislative day, except when it be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading. In such case, it must be made on the same day the original question was decided or on one of the next three legislative days. A motion to reconsider must be disposed of by the Legislature within five legislative days after making the same or it shall be deemed defeated. If the Legislature shall refuse to reconsider, or upon reconsideration shall affirm its first decision, no further motion to reconsider shall be in order unless by unanimous consent.

Motion to reconsider cannot be withdrawn without leave. Rule 7, Sec. 3, page 37.

(b) Every motion to reconsider shall take precedence over all other questions, except a motion to adjourn.

(c) For its adoption, a motion to reconsider shall require the vote of a majority of the elected members, except:

RULE 7

- i Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading, then a three-fifths vote shall be required for adoption.
- ii Where such motion be to reconsider the vote on a bill which lacked the constitutional majority on a Final Reading with the emergency clause attached, but which received the constitutional majority with the emergency clause stricken and the purpose of the motion is to again add the emergency clause, then a two-thirds vote of the elected members shall be required for adoption.

Sec. 8. Strike the Enacting Clause. A motion to strike the enacting clause if adopted, is equivalent to rejection of the bill. It shall not have precedence over a motion to amend nor a motion to indefinitely postpone.

Sec. 9. Motion to Adjourn. A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

- a. While a member is speaking.
- b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
- c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.

A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall have precedence over a motion to adjourn. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE FIRST SESSION

FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 2, 1973

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 10, Article III of the Constitution of Nebraska, the Eighty-Third Legislature, First Session of the Legislature of Nebraska assembled in Legislative Hall of the Capitol Building at the hour of 12:00 o'clock (noon) on Tuesday, January 2, 1973, and was called to order by Speaker Hasebroock.

PRAYER

Prayer was given by Pastor Robert MacLennan.

> Father, as we enter into this new year we are reminded that there is always a new beginning in life--we can begin again in our efforts to discover ways to make our homes, our cities and towns, and our state into a more humane place.
> We ask that you would give to each one of us the courage to make the kinds of decisions which are important to the health and welfare of all peoples in this place.
> In all of the issues give to us the ability to risk even our careers if it means that we have to make decisions which are right and creative. Make us into men who act out of our sense of justice, rather than out of expedience.
> We pray to you, father, because we need the insights and the visions which you want to give to us--as we deal with the affairs of men, your primary concern. Amen.

LETTERS FROM ATTORNEY GENERAL

December 28, 1972

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
Legislative Council
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

This is in reply to your letter of December 7 in which you point out that the Legislative Council on December 5 passed a motion asking that in the future that whenever we prepare an opinion for an individual senator that a copy of it be provided to the Clerk for publication in the daily journal. We will do everything possible to comply with their request.

As the members know, we have in the past given legal advice to individual senators in an effort to be helpful. I regret that our efforts in this regard have caused some dissatisfaction and that it has been found necessary to lay down rules governing our future relationships. Much of the work of a lawyer involves giving of confidential advice for the guidance of individuals in conducting their affairs, and this office has been extremely careful in respecting the confidences which have been entrusted to us. We would soon lose all of our clients if this were not so. We have assumed that the public officers who are our clients and the recipients of our advice, will reveal that advice when it is in the public interest that this be done.

In studying the motion, and in reading the debates which preceded its adoption, there are a number of areas where questions remain, and so I will need the help of the Legislature in developing a future policy which will be satisfactory to all concerned. My past experience indicates that individual senators, and especially committee members, frequently are attempting to work out solutions or compromises in sensitive areas, and ask for our advice regarding approaches they could constitutionally use to effect a solution. If they cannot receive legal advice on this in confidence I doubt that they will come to us.

There are a number of other situations and gray areas, but be that as it may, we will operate under the motion. Copies of replies to formal requests for legal advice from individual senators will be filed with the Clerk of the Legislature at the time the answer is forwarded to the individual senator. Requests received other than by a formal, signed letter will only be answered orally, even though it may involve a complex legal matter on which we have found it necessary to prepare a memorandum.

For the benefit of new members, it may be well to call attention to certain policies which we have always followed. Unless requested by the entire legislature, we will not give an opinion as to the effect of a proposed constitutional amendment after the Legislature has taken final action to place it on the ballot. This policy was developed many years ago, apparently after a situation where an opinion of the Attorney General was used in an attempt to influence the vote on a proposed constitutional amendment. Also, we will not give an opinion to an individual senator on the constitutionality of or interpretaion of a bill which has already become law. If there is a question as to its interpretaion, we will be glad to work with the senator and the bill drafter in developing clarifying legislation.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Clarence A. H. Meyer
Attorney General

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 2.

Introduced by Orval Keyes, 3rd District.

WHEREAS, the United States Department of Agriculture has caused:

1. Stopping the funding for soil conservation practices through elimination of the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP); and
2. The calling in of grain without reseal privileges by the Commodity Credit Corporation to keep the price down and that forcing grain on the market does not lower the price of food to the consumer but only forces the price of grains to decline making it possible for the Communist countries of the world to live cheaper at the expense of the American farmer; and
3. The shutting off of the money available for loans for grain storage facilities;
4. Increasing and removing privileges of the quotas of meat import into the United States; and
5. Discontinuing emergency disaster loans by the Farmers Home Administration; and
6. Changing the loan program for Rural Electrification whereby rural areas will be faced with higher interest charges for electricity.

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the 83rd Legislature of Nebraska, First Session:

1. That the Legislature of the State of Nebraska wishes to go on record as opposing the aforementioned actions of the United States Department of Agriculture and to encourage the Congress of the United States to re-evaluate its programs in the interest of rural America;
2. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States and to members of the Nebraska delegation in Congress.

RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 3.

Introduced by Maurice A. Kremer, 34th District.

WHEREAS, the National Water Commission, established in 1968 by the 90th Congress by the passage of P.L. 90-515, has recently distributed a draft report for review by the States and other natural resources interests pursuant to its assigned responsibilities of submitting a final report to the President and to Congress; and

WHEREAS, the National Water Commission has undoubtedly devoted much time and energy to the preparation of such a report; and

WHEREAS, the draft report contains much material and numerous recommendations, some of which seem improperly conclusive or unfounded in fact, such as the prediction of greatly reduced national needs for irrigated acreage by the year 2000, which was apparently based upon theoretical economic assumptions, or the recommendation that all costs of future federal irrigation projects should be recovered from the irrigators, without any recognition that irrigators are not the only class benefitting from irrigation projects; and

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska has a great interest in the future development and protection of its natural resources and the final report of the National Water Commission may have extensive impact upon that future;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Eighty-Third Legislature of Nebraska, First Session, that the Legislature commends the National Water Commission for its time and energy devoted to the preparation of such an extensive report, but cautions the Commission to carefully reconsider their work, being certain that each statement is proper and leads to a valid conclusion based upon fact so that he Commission's ultimate recommendations are the best possible, and the ommission's final report may become a foundation for proper natural sources development and protection nationally;

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the National Water Commission, and the Nebraska Congressional Delegation.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 4.

Introduced by Richard Maresh, 32nd District.

WHEREAS, on December 22, 1972, the Secretary of Agriculture advised all Agricultural Conservation and Stabilization Service State offices in the nation that the Rural Environmental Assistance Program would be terminated immediately; and

WHEREAS, the Nebraska Legislature has long recognized the impact of land and water conservation practices; and

WHEREAS, the Rural Environmental Assistance Program, through cost-sharing, has well illustrated the importance of governmental assistance for conservation of the soil and water resources on the farms and ranches of this nation, because the economic returns from such practices accrue more generally to the community than to the landowner; and

WHEREAS, the environmental usefulness of the program has been capably demonstrated by cost-sharing on practices that provide both water for fish and cover for wildlife and enhancement of recreation, and the value has further increased through recently instituted cost-sharing on feedlot pollution control; and

WHEREAS, the economic situation of rural America was well recognized during congressional hearings on the Rural Development Act of 1972; and

WHEREAS, Congress passed the Rural Development Act; and

WHEREAS, the recent announcement by the administration of the discontinuance of the Rural Environmental Assistance Program appears in direct violation of congressional desires on rural development;

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by members of the Eighty-Third Legislature of Nebraska, First Session assembled, that:

1. The Rural Environmental Assistance Program be reinstated immediately;

2. Funds for the program be continued on a realistic basis to provide for the continued federal cost-sharing for the application of conservation and water quality improvement practices; and

3. Copies of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture, and the members of the Nebraska congressional delegation as a means of transmitting to these distinquished gentlemen the very high priority that the members of the Nebraska Legislature establishes for the Rural Environmental Assistance Program in our State.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Our Father, before we become involved in the routine of another day, we stop to seek Thy help. Experienced in the ways of men so well, we know all too little of the ways of God. But Thou knowest each one of us, by name and by need. Therefore turn our wayward minds and hearts to Thee. Forgive our faults and failures that we have committed in the past and set us free from them. Forgive our failure to apply to ourselves the standards of conduct we demand of others. Forgive our slowness to see the good in others or to see the evil in ourselves. In our differences may we be kind; in our agreements may we be humble, that Thy will may be done in us and through us in our beloved state. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

LETTER FROM NEBRASKA EDUCATIONAL TELEVISION COMMISSION

January 4, 1973

Mr. George C. Gerdes
Executive Director
Legislative Council
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Gerdes:

Pursuant to the action of the Legislature on December 5, 1972, wherein a motion by Senator Carpenter was adopted, the Nebraska Educational Television Commission submits this proposal for implementation of that action.

As contained in the attached letter (see Appendix A) of December 6, 1972, from Mr. Vincent D. Brown, Clerk of the Legislature, the motion was as follows:

"I move that the Educational Television Network be directed to televise and record all proceedings of the legislature in session; that at least thirty minutes of said proceedings be broadcast each day the legislature is in session; that the Educational Television Commission make available its legislative television programs to commercial television stations to permit said commercial television stations to obtain sponsorship for the same for viewing during prime time; that the Educational Television Network be directed to televise those public hearings held before legislative committees which they deem to be of importance to the public; that audio tapes of said legislative television programs be made available to all radio stations within the State of Nebraska."

Also as contained in Mr. Brown's letter was: "Another portion of the motion as an amendment offered by Senator Burbach and adopted by the Legislature provided that adequate lighting must be provided so as to reduce the intense glare of the lights."

To implement these actions certain basic assumptions must be made by the Nebraska Educational Television Commission:

1. The programs should be recorded in color. With virtually all television stations in Nebraska producing programs in color, to record the programs in monochrome would lessen the probability of their use. The capital equipment and annual operating dollar figures requested herein reflect the assumption that the programs will be recorded in color.

2. The second assumption is that some action will be taken by the Legislature to provide for permanent lighting necessary to produce programs in color. The amendment by Senator Burbach reflects this need. The Nebraska Educational Television Commission is aware of plans and specifications drawn by Imero Fiorentino and Associates to provide for the lighting level necessary for color recording and at the same time diffusing the light to reduce the glare.

3. It is assumed by the Nebraska Educational Television Commission that all post-production distribution expenses will be borne by the using commercial television stations. The cost of making the duplicate copies of each program would be provided by the Commission, but the videotape stock, shipping charges, and other miscellaneous out-of-pocket costs would be paid by the using stations.

4. Any programs recorded would be available to Nebraska commercial radio and television stations. Since its inception in 1954 Nebraska ETV has made available all locally funded and produced programs to Nebraska commercial stations.

THE PROPOSAL–To provide the daily, continuous coverage of Legislative debate and committee hearings held in the Legislative Chamber, the Nebraska Educational Television Commission proposes to install a permanent color camera system in the Legislative Chamber. The pictures from these cameras and the sound from the existing public address system would be fed into a control room located in the Capitol Building where a director would select the appropriate camera to be fed into an audio and video cable to the Nebraska Educational Telecommunications Center at 1800 North 33rd Street. Two video recorders would be used to provide continuous recording of Legislative proceedings. During the Legislative day an assistant director would be taking notes to facilitate the later selection of scenes to be used in the editing of the daily program. Following adjournment, the program producer, working with the recording engineer would assemble a complete program to be aired on the network later that night.

Following the completion of the program editing, multiple copies of the program would be made for distribution to the Nebraska commercial television and radio stations. If the commercial stations preferred, each station could make a simultaneous off-air recording in their own stations at the time of broadcast on the Nebraska ETV Network.

To provide the daily thirty minute Legislative program, edited from recordings of the total proceedings of the Legislature, the following equipment and personnel would be required:

A. CAPITAL EQUIPMENT (See Appendix B for detailed cost breakdown)
1. Color Camera Equipment	To provide continuous color origination from the Legislative Chamber	$239,293	Jan. 1, 1974

1. Control Room	Approximately 600 sq. feet to house control equipment and to store cameras when not in use	No Cost*	Required by Aug. 1, 1973

*Additional electrical power may be required depending on space made available.

There are alternate, less expensive methods of providing expanded coverage of Legislative activities. The following alternative proposals are listed in the order of decreasing cost and coverage.

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSAL NO. 1

The Nebraska Educational Television Commission has $160,000 contained in its budget request for 1973-74 to be used for local matching funds in a proposed application to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the acquisition of a color mobile unit. Current HEW regulations allow up to a maximum of 75% federal funding of the broadcast television equipment contained in such units. The total cost of this unit is estimated to be approximately $640,000.

If this application were funded by HEW the same level of service as contained in the basic proposal could be provided with the following additional equipment and personnel:

	ITEM	USE	COST	AVAILABILITY
A.	CAPITAL EQUIPMENT
1.	Mobile unit	To provide coverage of Legislature and other Nebraska Programming	$160,000 (see above)	Jan. 1, 1974

ALTERNATIVE PROPOSAL NO. 2

This alternative proposal would allow for increasing the current coverage of the Legislature from the present two days per week and the resultant sixty minute program to three days per week and two sixty minute programs.

With the acquisition of the color mobile unit as outlined in Alternative Proposal No. 1, the Nebraska Educational Television Commission would propose to devote two days per week in coverage of Legislative debate and one day per week in coverage of committee hearings. This coverage would then be edited into one sixty minute program of Legislative debate and one sixty minute program on committee hearings. This proposal would increase our Legislative coverage by 100%.

As contained in the basic proposal, copies of these programs would be made available to the Nebraska commercial stations.

To provide this coverage the following equipment and personnel would be required in addition to present personnel and equipment:

	ITEM	USE	COST	AVAILABILITY
A.	CAPITAL EQUIPMENT
1.	Mobile Unit	To provide coverage of Legislature and other Nebraska programming	$160,000	Jan. 1, 1974 (If HEW responds prior to 9/1/73)
		TOTAL CAPITAL EQUIPMENT	$160,000
B.	ANNUAL OPERATING COSTS
1.	Salaries	Personnel:		Dec. 1, 1973
		1 Producer/Director	10,000
		1 Assistant Director	5,500
		Employee Benefits	1,837
		TOTAL	$17,337
2.	Tape Stock	To record program mat.		Jan. 1, 1974
		10 one hour @ $170	1,700
		20 audio tapes @ $3	60
	TOTAL ADDITIONAL ANNUAL OPERATING COSTS		$19,097

From time to time various senators have requested facilties for the preparation of audio and film recordings to be sent to their local radio and television stations. The following two recommendations are submitted by the Nebraska Educational Television Commission in response to those requests.

RECOMMENDATION 1

Establishment of a Permanent Audio Recording Room

It is proposed that a room be made available for use as a permanent audio recording room under the maintenance and direction of the Nebraska ETV Commission.

Any room conveniently located near the Legislative Chamber and containing approximately 250 square feet is of an appropriate size to handle audio recording. Professional audio recording equipment would be permanently located in this room and a professional communications specialist would be available for an 8 hour period each day to operate the equipment, to interview or question senators on tape, and to counsel them in the best use of the radio medium. Senators would at their convenience come to the room and record on audio tape short statements, interview, comments. The audio reels would then be placed in shipping cartons by the specialist and mailed to radio stations of the senators' choosing.

The audo Recording Room and its equipment woulf be available as well to Nebraska radio station representatives for interviews and other programming with senators as instigated by the stations. The Room would further be used by the ETV Network producer for public affairs (Joel Fowler) to record segments for use on weekly legislative programs.

It is proposed that the costs of outfitting and equipping and manning the Room be borne by the State, with the costs of the audio tape, reel shipping carton and mailing to be assumed by the using senator. Typical cost to a senator for a 3 inch reel (3½ minutes) plus carton and mailing would be $1.50. It is believed that this is a more equitable method of operation than having the State subsidize the total cost. Senators would need to establish schedule and length of use restrictions and other operational procedures equitable to all members.

COST:

-Audio Equipment, Including Recorders, Microphones, Control & Editing Equipment	$ 7,500
-Initial Supply of Tapes & Reels	200
-Wall Sound Proofing & AC Wiring	200
	$ 7,900
-Audio Communications Specialist, Incl. Employee Benefits/Per Year	$10,800
TOTAL COST	$18,700

(It is assumed that the State Superintendent of Building and Grounds would provide a desk, chairs, and other appropriate furniture without charge.)

RECOMMENDATION 2

Establishment of a Permanent TV Film Recording Room

With little additional cost, the same Room could be made to function as a TV Film – as well as Audio – Recording Room.

The room would be permanently equipped with professional TV film as well as audio recording equipment, and maintained and operated by the same individual who would be a combination Radio/Film Communications Specialist assigned to the ETV Commission. The specialist would again provide advice to senators as to the best use of the TV medium. Senators would be able at their convenience to come to the room and quickly record simultaneously on color sound film and audio tape, or separately on film short statements, interviews, comments. The color film would be delivered by the specialist to Station KOLN-TV in Lincoln where arrangements would be made, on behalf of the Nebraska broadcasters, for processing that same day. Processed film would then be placed in a shipping carton and mailed to the tlelvision station of the senator's choosing.

Similar time and other operational limitations would have to be developed. The film equipment would be available to the ETV public affairs producer for recording segments for use on ETV Network programming from the Legislature. The room would also be available to Nebraska commercial TV stations personnel for their special programming with senators.

It is proposed that color film equipment and TV communications specialist costs be borne by the State, with out-of-pocket costs for film stock, color processing and mailing reimbursed by the senators using this service. Typical cost to a senator for a 100 foot (3 minute) film segment sent to a TV station would be approximately $20.00.

COST:

-Film Equipment, Including Camera, Control, Lighting	$ 8,000
-Initial Film, Reel and Shipping Carton Supply	2,000
-Additional Wiring and Room Preparation	900
TOTAL ADDITIONAL COST	$10,900

(Assumes salary for communications specialist as listed in Recommendation 1.)

We will be pleased to provide elaboration on these proposals and recommendations. We would appreciate the opportunity to meet with you to discuss the several aspects of the proposals.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Jack McBride
General Manager

January 5, 1973

Honorable Richard Proud
Speaker 83rd Nebraska Legislature
State Capitol
1445 "K" Street
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator Proud:

In compliance with the Legislative motion as adopted by the Legislature on December 5, 1972, the Nebraska ETV Network is prepared to be at the Legislature each day it is in session, and fully cover the daily proceedings beginning Monday, January 8, 1973 (see attached letter).

At present we cover two Legislative days per week, and this results in a one-hour special Unicameral program seen each Sunday night on the Network. The new proposed daily coverage will result in a thirty-minute program presented each night over the Network facilities, and will replace the Sunday night review. Further, we are directed to provide each of the 54 radio stations in Nebraska with the audio portion of this coverage on a daily basis, and each of the nine commercial television stations with video-tape copies of our coverage on a daily basis.

Our purpose and goal is to serve the people of Nebraska, and to carry out the wishes of the Legislature to the best of our abilities.

To meet these increased demands we are prepared to employ all existing resources we have at our disposal, however, the complexities and significant amount of work involved necessitates certain additional expenses not covered in our current ETV budget.

This is to inform you that we stand ready to comply with the wishes of the Legislature in this and all instances.

Cordially,

(Signed) Ron Hull
Program Manager
Nebraska ETV Network

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

January 5, 1973

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

Your letter states that the Legislature has directed you to request an opinion with reference to a situation which arises when a new Legislature is organizing itself, and its first order of business is to adopt rules for its guidance, which step is followed by a formal swearing in ceremony for newly elected and appointed members. The question raised is whether those new members can properly vote for adoption of rules. The answer is that the new members may vote on the adoption of rules under the procedures which were followed.

Section 32-4,100, R.R.S. 1943, provides:

> "The county clerk or election commissioner, as the case may be, immediately following the completion of the canvass by the county canvassing board, shall transmit by mail, or otherwise, to > the Secretary of State a copy of the abstract of votes cast for members of the Legislature, and the Secretary of State shall make out and deliver a certificate of election to the person having the highest number of votes in each district."

In 1955, the Legislature provided that the State Board of Canvassers should also canvass the vote of members of the Legislature, but the section quoted above was not amended. However, this is not of great significance, because as a practical matter the Secretary of State must wait until all of the information is available to the Board of Canvassers before he cann issue a certificate of election. The important consideration here is that the election process is completed as soon as that certificate of election is issued, and this takes place well before a new Legislature goes into session. There is no requirement that votes for members of the Legislature be canvassed by that body, such as in the case of executive state officers. (State ex rel. Caldwell v. Peterson, 153 Neb. 402, 45 N. W. 2d 122.)

The election process having been completed, the only further step to be taken is that, "members of the Legislature, before they enter upon their official duties shall take and subscribe to the following oath, ." (Sec. 1, Article XV, Constitution of the State of Nebraska.) Each newly appointed member of the Legislature, and each newly-elected member did take and subscribe to the appropriate oath of office before the Secretary of State prior to the time that the Legislature went into session on January 2, 1973. They thereupon became entitled to claim that they were duly elected and qualified members of the Eighty-third Legislature of the State of Nebraska when it convened at 12:00 o'clock on January 2, 1973, and were qualified to vote on the rules which were adopted.

A better understanding of the basic considerations involved can be obtained by going back to the first session of our Legislature, when the law provided that at the time of the meeting "some person claiming to be elected a member shall call the house to which he belongs, to order, and the persons present claiming seats in that house as members shall elect a clerk for the time being." (R.S. 1866, Chap. XXXI.) The next statutory step was to "make a roll of the members who thus appear to be elected," and thereafter a committee of five was selected to "examine and report upon the credentials of those claiming to be elected members of their respective houses, and when such report is made, those reported as elected shall proceed to the permanent organization of their respective houses." Those laws still remain on the books, substantially unchanged. (Sec's. 50-101 & 50-102, R.R.S.)

In going back through a number of the old Legislative Journals, it appears that the practice usually followed was to first elect a temporary clerk, who checked the credentials of those claiming to be elected and call the roll, after which someone moved to adopt temporary rules and perhaps to elect some other temporary officers. The committee on credentials was then appointed, and when their report was accepted, the formal swearing in ceremony took place, and the announcement was made that the Legislature was organized and ready for the transaction of business. Permanent officers were then chosen and the regular business of the Legislature went forward.

It was thought that helpful information might be obtained from the first session of our Unicameral Legislature since they were all newly elected, but they apparently overlooked the matter of adopting any rules either before or after the formal swearing in ceremony. In later sessions the matter was handled by early adoption of this motion: "I move that we adopt the rules of the last session until the further order of the Legislature."

The formal swearing in ceremony which follows temporary organization is simply a formal recognition of membership which flows from the constitutional mandate that the Legislature shall "be the judge of the election, returns, and qualifications of its members." It has no bearing on the right of those lawfully claiming to be newly-elected members to vote on matters which have preceded that ceremony. If it were otherwise, then completely new legislatures could never get organized because of the lack of the constitutionally required quorum.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Clarence A. H. Meyer
Attorney General

> We know, our Father, that there is a time to speak and a time to keep silent. Help us to tell the one from the other. When we should speak, give us the courage of our convictions. Teach us the sacraments of silence, that we may use them to know ourselves, and, above all, to know thee, then shall we be wise. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Monday, January 15, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. E. L. Jeambey, Associate Pastor of Westminster Church.

> Our Father and Our God: We acknowledge Thee, as the Creator and Sustainer of the universe and the Saviour of mankind.
> We admit that in Thee we move and live and have our being, and without Thee we are nothing and can do nothing. Yet we are promised that with Thee, all things are possible.
> We confess our limitations and weaknesses in the administration of human affairs, and realizing our inadequacies, we know that without divine help we become unprofitable servants.
> Therefore we invoke Thy diving blessing to rest upon us as we proceed with our patriotic duties of the day.
> We need wisdom because the problems are complex; we need inspiration from above because of the pressures from below; we need great convictions because the forces of evil are endeavoring to run a world on low standards and low ideals.

Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

You have requested advice as to whether a state senator, maintaining a home away from home during the Legislative Session, may deduct an agreed upon sum as a per diem expense without further verifying every item of expense. It is noted that the senators receive no reimbursement for living expenses and receive reimbursement for mileage for only one round trip per session.

There is no provision in the Code for using a fixed sum for these expenses. Since the senators do not receive reimbursement for living expense while away from home they must maintain documentary evidence to support all expenditures for lodging, but the daily cost of their breakfast, lunch, dinner and other elements of such travel may be aggregated, if they are set forth for in reasonable categories (such as for meals, gasoline and oil, and cab fares).

The record keeping rules are set forth in the enclosed Publication 463.

The senators may use a standard mileage rate of 12 cents a mile for the first 15,000 miles of business automobile use and 9 cents a mile for each succeeding mile of business use.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Richard P. Vinal
District Director Internal Revenue Service

EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE
FIRST SESSION

EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 16, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. E. L. Jeambey.

> The first prayer in the Continental Congress on Sept. 7, 1774 was offered by the Chaplain of the day, Dr. Edward L. Jeambey, Asst. Minister of the Westminister Presbyterian Church. A copy of the picture in the Carpenters' Hall was shown, and the following preliminary remarks.
> "In Thatcher's Military Journal, under the date of December 1777, is found a note containing the identical "First Prayer in Congress", made by Rev. Jacob Duche, a gentleman of great eloquence."
> "O Lord Our Heavenly Father, High and Mighty King of Kings, who dost from thy throne behold all the dwellers on earth, and reignest with power supreme and uncontrolled over all kingdoms, empires and governments: Look down in mercy, we beseech thee, on these American States, who have fled to thee from the rod of the oppressor, and have thrown themselves on thy gracious protection, desiring to be henceforth dependent on Thee. They have appealed for the righteousness of their cause to Thee. They now look up for that countenance and support which thou alone canst give: take them therefore Heavenly Father, under thy nurturing care. Give them wisdom in council, and valor in the field: defeat the malicious designs of our cruel adversaries: Convince them of the unrighteousness of their cause: and if they still persist in their sanguinary purposes, O, let the voice of thine own unerring Justice, sounding in their hearts, constrain them to drop their weapons of war from their unnerved hands in the day of battle. Be thou present, O God of Wisdom, and direct the councils of this honorable assembly: enable them to settle things on the best and surest foundation that the scene of blood may be speedily closed, that order, harmony and peace may be effectually restored: and truth and justice, religion and piety, prevail amongst thy people. Preserve the health of their bodies and the vigor of their minds; shower down on them and the millions they here represent, such temporal blessings as thou seest expedient for them in the world, and crown them with everlasting glory in the world to come. All this we ask in the Name and through the merits of Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Savior. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Proud and Nore who were excused.

COMMUNICATIONS

January 15, 1973

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
Legislative Council
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

Pursuant to Section 39-1320.01 R.R.S. Nebraska 1943 I am submitting a report to the Legislature on the status of the Outdoor Advertising Control program of the Nebraska Department of Roads.

The subject statute requires that this report shall include information on the number of signs, displays or devices removed and the cost thereof Federal and matching funds expended or obligated, an estimate for the succeeding year, and such other information as the Legislature or the Legislative Council shall officially order the Department to provide.

I and the staff of the Nebraska Department of Roads stand ready to provide to the Legislature or the Legislative Council any additional information which might be desired on this program.

Sincerely,
DEPARTMENT OF ROADS

Director-State Engineer

GENERAL DESCRIPTION OF PROGRAM

On March 27, 1972 the Nebraska Unicameral passed Outdoor Advertising Control Bill LB 1181 with the emergency clause. This report summarizes the activity of the Department in the implementation of this act under Section 39-1320 of the Nebraska Statutes. It also provides an estimate of the program activity for calendar year 1973. This report is intended to provide a concise summary of the program, and specific documentation for all of these activities can be provided should they be desired.

Between the effective date of March 27 and December 31, 1972, 5,582 outdoor advertising signs were removed as a result of the Department of Roads Advertising Control program. Most of these signs were such that they were regarded as abandoned, badly deteriorated, or of generally nominal value.

The total cost to purchase and/or move these signs was $74,342. Of this cost the State of Nebraska share was $25,129 and Federal matching funds amounted to $49,213.

For calendar 1973 it is estimated that a total expenditure for the sign removal program will be such as not to exceed $500,000. Of this amount, $125,000 would be State funds and $375,000 will be Federal matching funds under the National Beautification Program. The following is a summary of amounts obligated at this time for work to be performed in calendar 1973.

Agreements for future purchase	1,558 signs
Total agreed future cost of these 1,558 signs	$52,288
Agreed future purchase cost to State of Nebraska	$13,072
Federal matching funds in purchase	$39,216
Agreed labor cost to remove the above 1,558 signs	$14,022
Labor cost to State of Nebraska to remove	$ 3,505
Federal participation to remove	$10,517

The balance of the estimated $500,000 maximum expenditure would be expended under a controlled program which will consist of selecting specific areas throughout the State and specific sign types for acquisition and removal. This controlled program will provide necessary cost data for an expanded program during calendar years 1974 through 1976 which is the present completion date for removal of all outdoor advertising signs.

In this regard, it should be noted that a National Cost Schedule has been prepared and submitted to the states for use in removal of outdoor advertising signs and devices. However, Nebraska has some reservations as to whether this schedule is appropriate in our own particular case and feels that it is essential for our program to be evaluated on the basis of actual experience rather than to rely totally upon any such national schedule of signs.

In closing, it should be noted that certain provisions in the Outdoor Advertising Control Statutes apparently require clarification. For example, we are not certain that present statutes adequately spell out the authority of the Department in establishing rules and regulations, especially relative to requiring of permit and permit fee schedules, and expect that the Nebraska Unicameral will be requested to consider clarification of such laws. This submission is expected to be made as soon as practicable.

It should be noted that the anticipated program for calendar year 1973 is dependent upon the availability of Federal matching funds. Should such funds become either unavailable or seriously restricted, the Department would curtail the outdoor advertising programs accordingly as provided for under Subsection (2) B. of 39-1320.01.

Requestes for additional information should be directed to the attention of Permits Officer, Byron R. Warlick, Nebraska Department of Roads, Telephone Extension 625 or 648.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

January 16, 1973

Senator Herbert J. Duis
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator:

You state that in L. B. 1513, Second Session, Eighty-Second Legislature, an appropriation was made to the University of Nebraska in the amount of $100,000 for a "Life Science Building – Physical Planning." You also state that in visiting with the officials of the University you learned that this money was being held up because of L. B. 1323, 1969 Legislature. You then state that it is your earnest belief that the Department of Administrative Services should not hold up the money which would be used in the planning and you ask if this restraint can be placed by that department upon this fund appropriated in L. B. 1513.

In previous discussion with this office you indicated that you were interested in this program and that you desired our advice for the purpose of taking legislative action, if needed. We have reviewed L. B. 1513 as enacted by the 1972 Session of the Nebraska Legislature and find no basis for holding it other than a valid appropriation for the purpose specified.

The problem raised is that L. B. 1323, Laws 1969, Chapter 772, Page 2922, creates a Capital Facilities Planning Bureau in the General Services Division of the Department of Administrative Services. These sections are incorporated into the statutes as Section 81-1108.02 to 81-1108.09, R. R. S. 1943. Section 81-1108.06 provides in part:

> "No state agency or department may contract for the planning, design, or construction of new facilities or major modification or repair of existing facilities unless the conditions of the contracts are approved in writing by the Governor;."

If, as construed by the Director of the Department of Administrative Services, these provisions were intended to be applicable to the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, then a part of the authority of the University of Nebraska would be subjected to the control of the Governor. However, Article VII, Section 10, Constitution of Nebraska, provides in part:

> "The general government of the University of Nebraska shall, under the direction of the Legislature, be vested in a board of not less than six nor more than eight regents to be designated the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, who shall be elected from and by districts as herein provided.."

The question thus presented is not whether the Legislature can expand or contract the powers of the Board of Regents as this has been clearly established. See State ex rel. Bushee v. Whitmore, 85 Neb. 566, 123. N. W. 1051. The question is whether or not the exercise by the Board of Regents of their authority can be made subject to the control or approval of one of the executive officers of state government by the Legislature. We think not. In the case of State v. Chase, 175 Minn. 259, 220 N. W. 951, the Minnesota Supreme Court pointed out that when the people had declared by the Constitution that certain powers shall be possessed and duties performed by a particular officer or department, their exercise and discharge by any other officer or department, are forbidden by necessary and unavoidable implication. Every positive delegation of power to one officer or department implies a negation of its exercise by any other officer, department or person. If this were not true, the whole constitutional fabric might be undermined and destroyed. Under similar constitutional provisions to those of Nebraska, the Minnesota court stated that the whole power to govern the University was put in the Regents by the people so that no part of it could be put elsewhere except by the people themselves. In the case of State ex rel. State Railway Commission v. Ramsey, 151 Neb. 333, 37 N. W. 2d 502, the Legislature attempted to give the regulation of common carriers by air to the State Aeronautics Department. Our court held that the regulation of all common carriers was vested by the Constitution in the State Railway Commission and stated:

> "The Legislature has no power to divest the State Railway Commission of its constitutional jurisdiction to regulate and control common carriers by air by transferring it to another body or jurisdiction.."

This office has consistently taken this position with reference to those offices established by the Constitution. See Opinion No. 110, 1969-1970 Report of the Attorney General, Page 164.

The planning for the needs of the University are certainly a part of the constitutional authority, under the direction of the Legislature, of the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska. This authority cannot be taken from the Board of Regents of the University and given to another department or agency of state government nor subjected to the control of another department or agency of the State of Nebraska by the Legislature. If this is to be done, it should be done by constitutional amendment. If Section 81-1108.06 is to be construed to apply to the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, then to that extent it would certainly be invalid. If, on the other hand, it is construed not to apply to the Board of Regents, then there is no authority in the Director of the Department of Administrative Services to attempt to withhold the expenditure of the appropriation authorized by the Legislature. In either event, amendatory legislation might be advisable to clearly delineate the extent of the authority granted in this section. We would be willing to work with you and the bill drafter in preparing the appropriate legislation.

Yours most sincerely,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

Thursday, January 18, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. E. L. Jeambey.

> Help us to keep our lives in tune with the divine will by open hearts and submissive minds. We realize that if our attitudes are right, the experiences of life, and the programs of our labors, will yield greater assets than liabilities.
> Help us to keep well balanced and out of the overdrafts and not become bankrupt morally or politically.
> Grant that we might realize that under divine direction our gains will exceed our losses; our blessings will be greater than our hardships, and our delights will be greater than our disappointments.
> Be pleased to keep us from the anxiety that robs us of our efficiency, but help us not to become indifferent to the needs of humanity, and the problems that we face for solution.
> May direction from above be ours today, and as a result of today's deliberations, conclusions shall be drawn, and programs developed that shall become widely beneficial.
> In the name of Christ our Lord we pray. Amen.

EASE

The Legislature was at ease from 10:50 a.m. until 10:58 a.m.

The Committee escorted Governor J. James Exon to the rostrum.

The Governor presented his Budget Bills to the Speaker of the Legislature.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice and Associate Justices of the Supreme Court, Members of the 83rd Nebraska Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

For the third time in as many years, I stand again at this podium to offer for Legislative consideration an Executive Budget specifically designed to meet the legitimate needs of Nebraska State Government and tailored to holding the line on the equivalent of state sales and income tax rates that were in effect in 1970.

The Executive Budget is presented in both Bill and Narrative Form for the first time to allow better understanding and discussion in both legislative and other forms. This is not offered as a document that represents perfection but is reasonable, workable, and is based on what I believe to be continued constructive progress.

I have no illusions that this budget will be accepted without alterations by due legislative process. But I do wish to stress that the suggested total appropriation of $563,510,000 including General Fund increased appropriations of $10,000,000 for operations, plus additional General Fund increased appropriations of $11,000,000 which represents new authorizations approved last year by this body are the near maximums allowable. I charge you with the responsibility to limit your authorizations accordingly or forthrightly take the only other honest alternative which would be to force an increase in general state tax rates.

When Revenue Sharing was approved, I immediately directed that all such funds be placed in a special account from which only the Legislature could appropriate. I do recognize the constitutional separation of powers between our two branches of government. Later in this message you will learn of my concern over the generally misunderstood concepts in this area. The net Revenue Sharing monies of approximately $31 million should be appropriated as follows, in my opinion: $6 million to fund the Personal Property Tax Bill passed over my veto last session, plus $4 million for high priority Capital Construction needs. The balance of $21 million, then, I suggest, should not be disintegrated by the financing of a host of pet projects but rather should be conserved specifically for Real Estate Tax relief. To do otherwise, it seems to me, would be breaking faith with what the vast majority of Nebraskans anticipate and expect from such funds. This will not be possible unless all resist the temptation to consider Revenue Sharing as a bonanza that brings forth an opportunity for new spending sprees.

Please allow me to digress from strictly budgetary considerations for a few minutes to comment on the generally healthy conditions of the state.

The state of the State is excellent. Nebraskans have a right to be proud as never before of their accomplishments. Anyone not "bullish" on Nebraska is uninformed. We are showing a steady growth rate in population, economy, jobs, tourism, and last year set a new record in the establishment of new industries. We have reversed the previous outmigration trend. Our number one industry, agriculture, is currently receiving relatively good prices for its products. With all of this good news, we are assured future progress and further expansion of "Nebraska and the Good Life."

But as I view my responsibilities, this is a time for me to cite not only the encouraging but some possible troublesome areas that require our collective attention and considerations in the months and years ahead.

Nebraska, with all its assets, is but one of 50 states in our great republic. We are locked into a federal system whose actions have a dramatic effect on our economic well-being, especially as they affect agriculture. I am deeply apprehensive about what appears to be the National Administration's long-range agriculture plans and how such considerations will affect Nebraska's family farms.

While all recognize 1972 as a good crop year, many of our food producers were severely handicapped by an unsatisfactory fall harvest season.

On November 16th last, I call for a federal declaration of an emergency area for certain counties thereby qualifying farmers, who could prove losses, low interest loans, among other considerations, as they plan their 1973 operations and expenses. As a result of my request, federal officials were able to establish a conceded farm loss of approximately $50 million in Nebraska although they then dilly-dallied until the U.S.D.A., under instructions from Secretary Butz, had sufficient time to expedite his previously announced plans to "phase out" such historic agriculture emergency relief that was initiated 35 years ago. I suggest that a policy of loans to lockheed but not to farmers, is, at best, inconsistent.

The agricultural policies of the administration including sharp curtailment of R.E.A. loans, extension of liberalized beef import quotas, crippling of long standing farmers home and ASCS policies, abrupt decreases in 1973 crop assistance and acreage set aside programs, severe cutbacks in watershed, flood and water conservation assistance, and cancellation of the rural environmental assistance program, all add up to long-range agricultural planning that short changes the family farmer while banking on continued crop failures in the Soviet Union as opposed to the sound management of this nation's most precious economic asset...Our great food producing plant! And what might you do about this as members of the Legislature? You could join in expressing your opposition and concern in the form of a strongly worded resolution to the President and the Nebraska Congressional Delegation on all of these anti-rural America pronouncements. I urge your action accordingly.

Turning to another matter of concern to all, road building, we see more inconsistencies. The Federal Administration's impoundment of some five billion dollars of Highway Trust Funds, already collected and paid into the fund by special Highway User Taxes, and its detrimental effect on State Road Construction Programs remains of great concern to myself and all my fellow Governors. That five billion represents more than one year's total federal highway authorizations. The Governors have made our objections known in Washington.

As you may know, we have been kept closely advised by the State of Missouri in their thus far successful challenge, through the Federal Courts, of the administration's actions in this regard. The U.S. Supreme Court will eventually decide on an appeal by the Federal Government from a lower Federal Court's decision directing the administration to release all such funds. This month prominent elected Congressmen and U. S. Senators have intervened as a "Friend of the Court" on the side of the State of Missouri. Here again I suggest that a resolution of support to proper authority of the position I have taken would be in order from the Nebraska Legislature, including language to place us in opposition to the announced policy to divert parts of the fund to mass transit systems.

The Nebraska share of these impounded funds will reach an estimated $30 million this year. With Nebraska currently receiving only 74 cents back for every dollar our citizens pay into the Federal Highway Trust Fund, and in consideration of the $30 million withheld but legitimately due us, it would be foolhardy and the height of fiscal irresponsibility for Nebraska to now sink further into interest crippling bonded debt as a few vocal special interest groups and irresponsible spenders continue to demand. There seems to be a modern mania advanced by some that bonded debt is the "in" thing. I must remind you that for each dollar of bonded debt Nebraska assumes we must pay back an additional 63 cents because of interest and service charges. That is very expensive deficit financing under any economic manipulations. Please remember that well, as you listen to the pressure groups.

Fault me, as some of you have and will, for resisting bonded debt. At least you know and hopefully appreciate my position.

Let me set the record straight, once again! This state has not lost one penny in Federal Highway Funds because of your Governor's refusal to plunge Nebraska further into bonded debt. Nevertheless, I again specifically request that the Legislature authorize, but not attempt to direct, executive issuance of up to $10 million in additional bonded debt, should some become necessary to finance an unanticipated construction emergency or to meet federal matching requirements.

Before returning to the state budget, there are some additional concerns with regard to the interlacing of federal and state funds that should be reflected upon. I wish to salute the President for finally taking measures to control overall skyrocketing spending. The dramatic steps now being taken, however, indicate lack of long-range fiscal planning. It should be pointed out that the shock treatment methods currently being employed make a mockery of previously announced prodigious programs, such as the commendable water pollution efforts. The yo-yo approach to fiscal management in Washington confounds those of us who attempt businesslike procedures in government.

The much heralded Federal Revenue Sharing Program announced by the President last October apparently turns out to be not additional federal dollars, as billed, but more likely a convenient vehicle for providing less total funding to the states. Since Revenue Sharing was proclaimed by the President from Independence Hall in Philadelphia, there has been a steady withdrawal of federal funds from a host of programs that had been historically federally funded. Until the budget message of the President, we will not know the details of his plans. Suffice to say, let us proceed with caution in our state spending commitments. I can anticipate that the doors of the Capitol Building may be spinning merrily by those who will demand state funding to replace the loss of Federal dollars for a host of projects that will be described as "mandatory."

Let me urge caution before pursuing any massive spending programs, especially where present or anticipated federal funding is involved. This is a time for for careful consideration of priorities. This is a time when pet projects, however laudable, must be reviewed with caution and as they affect the total budget and available revenues.

An important subject that will face this session of your honorable body will be the employment of state tax collections to provide real estate property tax relief. In my budget recommendations, you will find outlined possible plans to employ the majority of Nebraska's share of federal Revenue Sharing for such tax relief.

A committee of distinguished Nebraskans whom I have asked to help develop our administration's plan is considering the specifics which I will present to the Legislature.

Without going into detail at this time, I have the obligation to advise the Legislature that no plan for fair tax equity and equality will have my endorsement unless we level with the people and guarantee real, long-term relief which presupposes a reasonable and effective lid on school expenditures. From my knowledge of the measure being sponsored by the Legislative Committee on the subject, it meets none of the tests that I have outlined and is merely a warmed-over version of such legislation that I successfully vetoed in the last two sessions. They have steadfastly refused to publicly estimate total cost of their plan or give its impact on the sales and income tax rates. I cannot agree to any plan that ignores the interests of or fairness to the rent payers in Nebraska. I have noted with alarm the almost total indifference of legislative proposals regarding these Nebraskans. Rent credits are in effect in the States of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Vermont and California and are proposed in many others, including Colorado and Michigan.

I cannot agree to any bill that commits the state to doubling the state sales and income tax rates. A property tax relief proposal should not require an increase of more than 1 percent in the sales tax and a required matching contribution from the state income tax for total funding of the plan. Let me emphasize again that no tax increase is necessary unless you pass a Property Tax Relief Measure.

The specific budget recommendations that accompany this message outline in detail our suggestions for expenditures in Fiscal 1973-74. Please allow me to comment on some specific areas.

We have a fine University and higher education must continue to receive our monetary support.

The University Budget request to the Board of Regents for fiscal 1973-74 was over $11,000,000 over this year's University expenditures for a proposed total of $106,500,000. The Regents took action that reduced the requested increase by $2,400,000. We have, after careful review and consideration, reduced the request an additional $2,700,000 and are recommending a total budget of $101,300,000, including General Fund authorizations of $50,800,000. That represents total funds net increase of 6.2% over last year's legislative funding approval for the University system, but is half of their original requested increase.

Our four state colleges have experienced rather substantial drops in both enrollment and credit hours taught from 12 to 14% respectively. In view of this, I am recommending an approximate 3.5% reduction from last year's total authorizations for the colleges.

Nebraska is nationally recognized for our overall leadership in mentally retarded programs. In community based programs, which we have expanded rapidly the past two years, we surely are among the state leaders. Using a combination of matching local, state, and federal funds, we have gone from $2 million in fiscal 1970-71, doubled to $4 million in 1971-72, and doubled once again to $8 million during the current fiscal period.

Our budget recommendations for such programs call for a further 20% increase in state general fund contribution, raising from the current $1 million to $1,200,000 for fiscal 1973-74. Provided local and federal support continue to increase percentage wise as in the past, we could envision an expansion of some $1,600,000 or up to a total of $9,600,000 for our fine community base facilities for 1973-74.

While we have made significant progress in the treatment and training of the generally more severely retarded programs at the Beatrice State Home, including reduction of population from 2,200 to 1,300 residents in the last few years, we have not made what I feel to be enough advancement in professional staff and certainly no Nebraskan can be proud of the general living conditions in old buildings without facilities for normalization in living patterns or air conditioning.

We are therefore recommending, to assure a balanced program for all our mentally retarded, the beginning of a plan for modernization of the Beatrice facility which we hope will eventually be further reduced to a population of approximately 600 to 800 as the community based programs continue to expand. This program calls for general fund expenditures of $2,150,000 for 1973-74, and projected possible further improvements of an additional four million in succeeding years.

It is our suggestion that we continue the administration's plan for gradual decentralization of the state's mental health services. We envision more localized state financed facilities stressing out-patient type clinics where practical and dedication to even better professional treatment.

The total budgets for the Regional Centers should remain approximately the same as last year but due to declining number of patients, the net result is that we will still be providing more dollar care behind each resident.

The Department of Institutions is carrying on an aggressive program for recruitment of more professional staff in all state facilities.

In regard to our correctional programs, we are in the process at this time of upgrading facilities at the outstate institutions at York, Geneva and Kearney.

During the past two years much progress has been made in the areas of community based treatment. I refer to work release, educational release, as well as furlough programs. Our Parole System has been upgraded. Today we have more inmates under parole supervision than we have in-house at our institutions. In addition, we have rapidly expanded our educational programs, basic skill training, and vocational rehabilitation program. These improved services are in line with recommendations of national penal organizations.

In the broad area of the Penal Reform Study, no one denies the need for upgrading the existing facilities at the penal complex and the reformatory. I shall provide you my suggestions on this subject at a later date.

During 1972 we were able to reduce the previous year's record death toll on our highways by seven even during further increases in our gross traffic volumes and miles traveled. In my opinion, this was accomplished only by a concentrated traffic safety effort primarily promoted by the news media which resulted in public awareness and better driving habits. In October, during the first days of Super Safety Day, we were 27 deaths ahead of 1971 record breaker pace. We were able to reduce this figure by some 35 between late October and December 31. We have much more to do. I suggest that the Legislature review irrefutable statistics that show an increase of 63% over the previous year in fatalities on roads affected when the night-time speed limit was increased from 60 to 65 MPH in 1971. I ask again that you pass legislation to reduce this night-time speed limit back to 60 MPH on such roads. I further request that you enact measures which would make mandatory revocation of driver's licenses for 30 days for anyone convicted of driving under the influence of alcoholic beverages or drugs, and enact other "Get Tough" legislation for better highway safety that will recommend in the form of bills. Among them will be mandatory blood testing for all drivers and pedestrians involved in fatalities, 30 day automatic loss of license for speeding in excess of 15 MPH in areas posted for 60 MPH or more, a habitual traffic offender statute, and mandatory reporting of all convictions for driving while intoxicated.

The needs of Nebraska's older persons are many and varied. However, a most especially pressing need. . .about which comparatively little is presently being done. . .is that for the services and assistance which will make it possible for the elderly to continue to lead independent lives in their own homes. To this end I have charged a task force of state administrators to help coordinate our efforts.

In our mobile society, much of the assistance which families formerly provided to parents and grandparents is just not possible. It is for this reason that state government intends to play an active and aggressive role in a federal-state-local partnership designed to make available at the local level such services as Homemaker Assistance, Specialized Transportation Services, Home Handyman Services, Home Health Care, and Special Group

Dining and In-Home Nutrition Services tailored to the needs of the elderly.

State agencies, such as the Commission on Aging, can do much to assist local communities and organizations to initiate such services, but local imagination, effort, and resources will also be required. I call on local leadership, therefore, to inventory their communities, their resources and the needs of their elderly population, and to begin to plan with us those undertakings which can make life more satisfying for our senior citizens.

You will note further expansion of Nebraska's top flight State Patrol and its important duties of not only highway safety but criminal and drug investigation efforts. We are suggesting an increase in State Patrol strength by 24 including necessary equipment to support same.

During recent months several cases of severe hardship have come to my attention, because families did not qualify for the Crippled Children Program or other welfare categorical programs. These cases usually involve the families of children suffering from conditions not currently covered and so expensive that they create a catastrophic situation for the family. In most instances a working father would be better off financially to quit work and thereby qualify for a host of welfare benefits.

I recommend that a fund of $100,000 be set up to assist the counties in matching their funds in order to secure federal emergency assistance to help in such situations. This appropriation could result in $100,000 county funds, $100,000 state funds and $200,000 federal funds for a total $400,000 fund for the purpose. Rules and regulations would be set up to handle such cases by the Department of Public Welfare working in conjunction with the counties.

It is time that we face squarely and fairly an equitable Election Reform Bill in Nebraska. The expenditures of funds to seek elective office is becoming prohibitive. We all recognize some elections may be "bought". This is not right, so let's do something about it. Recognizing that this is an issue that is given great lip service, but little action, I will again present the Legislature a bill that I hope will be a basis for necessary corrective and constructive legislation, with enforcement teeth to make it meaningful.

Once again I call for the elimination of the so-called "Wyoming Clause" from the State Environmental Protection Act.

There has now been enough experience in other States with No-Fault Automobile Liability Insurance and I urge passage of a workable measure this session in hopes of reducing insurance costs to Nebraskans.

For many years we have struggled with the matter of the forced sale of school lands. I believe existing legislation not to be in the best long-range interests of the School Trust Fund and the future educational opportunities of Nebraska's school children. Because of my direction such sales are currently prevented by the courts. I respectively urge your consideration in changing present statutes.

Capital Punishment for certain types of murders will again receive my active support. I would anticipate that the sentiment for passage of such legislation is favorable. We must be cautious and seek expert legal approval of any measure passed as it will undoubtedly have to meet the constitutional test of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York has had great experience in drug related problems. We should at least listen to his advice. He has recently conceded that one billion dollars have been wasted in New York with a host of popularly sold programs that have not been successful. Here is what the Governor said on January 3 to the New York Legislature:

"We have this choice:

Either we can go on as we have been, with little real hope of changing the present trend; or we must take those stern measures that, I have become convinced, common sense demands.

We must create an effective deterrent to the pushing of the broad spectrum of hard drugs.

In my opinion, society has no alternatives."

Many drug pushers are a far worse threat to our society than most murders.

I suggest that the Legislature enact tougher mandatory long-term sentences for convicted hard drug criminal profiteers. For their favorite victims, the user turned pusher to support his enslavement, we should provide more incentives for voluntary rehabilitation and if refused we should provide prisons terms with good time only for cooperation with enforcement officials for prosecution of the professionals.

One of our problems, I believe, is that we spend too much time pampering and protecting those "Hooked Pushers" and not enough caring about their young victims of tomorrow and the next day . . .and it happens right here in Nebraska every day.

In closing, I assure you the cooperation of my office and all the code Departments of the Executive Branch. I repeat, especially for the information of you new Senators, that we have a "Wide Open Door Policy" in the Governor's Office.

There will be differences as each of us view our responsibilities and obligations to the citizens of our Great State. Effective communication between the Legislature and the Executive can minimize misunderstandings.

Two years ago we set upon a goal to unify Nebraska for the common good. I feel that great strides have been made and that working together we can keep and improve upon that worthy objective.

With God's help and blessing then, which we seek and so desperately need, let us continue to work together to further develop "Nebraska–The Good Life."

The Committee escorted the Governor from the Chamber.

Mr. Snyder asked unanimous consent to have the following amendments of Mr. Carpenter to LB 204 be printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

Section 1. The Legislature finds: (1) That it is necessary to provide the citizens of this state with greater and more convenient access to the processes of government, especially the legislative processes, in order that the citizen may more effectively carry out his constitutional right to petition the government; and, (2) that it is necessary to expand the scope of the work of the Legislative Council so that it can in a more comprehensive manner carry out its statutory duty to collect information concerning the government and general welfare of the state, to examine the effects of previously enacted statutes and recommend amendments thereto, and to gather information for committees of the Legislature and the Legislative Council.

Section 2. In order to carry out the provisions of Section 1, the Executive Board of the Legislative Council may, and at the direction of the Legislature or of the Legislative Council shall, establish not to exceed one office in each legislative district. For that purpose the Executive Board is authorized to lease such space as may be necessary, and may employ or otherwise contract for the services of necessary additional personnel, subject to the proviso contained in section 50-403. RESOLUTIONS

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 11.

Introduced by Dennis L. Rasmussen, 41st District.

WHEREAS the State of Nebraska recognized that agriculture is the keystone for the economic life and well-being of the nation; and

WHEREAS the Rural Environmental Assistance Program has allowed the orderly and effective development of the agriculture and environmental aspects of the state's economy; and

WHEREAS the Farmers' Home Administration has provided farmers the measure of security needed for them to face the many natural disasters inherent in the agriculture community; and

WHEREAS the Rural Electrification Administration has been the driving force in providing the power to satisfy the needs of this nation's most precious economic assets. . . our great food producing plan. . .; and

WHEREAS continuing such policies as providing hundreds of millions of dollars to bail out Lockheed Aircraft Corporation while denying such needed assistance to agriculture is, at best, inconsistent; and

WHEREAS there is currently under consideration plans to emasculate irrigation and water conservation practices and policies of the Federal government; and

WHEREAS the recently announced reductions in programs vital to the interests of rural America need careful review by Congress and the administration.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the President and members of Nebraska's Congressional delegation be formally notified of Nebraska's deep concern and fear for the devastating effect that elimination or reduction that these federal programs will have on our state's and the national economy.
2. That the members of Nebraska's Congressional delegation be formally advised that it is the Legislature's desire that every effort be made to have these programs restored with utmost dispatch, possibly financed by the millions that will be saved when the Vietnam War is terminated.
3. That the members of Nebraska's Congressional delegation immediately seek to join forces with the delegations of other farm bloc states in a united effort to restore these programs and prevent further erosion of the agricultural economy.
4. That a copy of this resolution be sent to the President of the United States and each member of Nebraska's Washington delegation.

SEVENTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, January 29, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Stulac from Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Lincoln.

> O God, we are thankful to you that you have answered our prayers to end a war. Truly you are the Prince of Peace, and we praise you for your mercy shown to us. With thankfulness to you for the peace that we have, and with awareness that we are still far from thorough peace and justice in this world, we begin this day by looking first to you. We are aware that it is not in us to make a world of peace and justice. We confess this, and we ask your forgiveness through Christ. We praise you as the only One who is perfectly good and loving and righteous—perfectly holy. That is why our hope is in you rather than ourselves. That is why we ask you to be powerfully active in the world today—active in events around the world to strengthen our peace and to purify our imperfect justice; active in our lives to teach us and to guide us along paths of righteousness. We acknowledge our need for this from you, and we ask for this in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Fellman who was excused until 10:20 a.m.

EIGHTEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, January 30, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Stulac from Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Lincoln.

> Our Father, we acknowledge you as our Father today. This is important to us because we need a Father such as you. We exercise authority in this world, but we too need to have someone in authority over us. We make decisions in this world which affect not only our own lives but also the lives of others. But it is often difficult to discern what the right decision would be. And yet you have declared in Scripture that all authority is from you and that you have a purpose in what we do with our authority. Somehow, therefore, you must be bound up in what we are doing, even when we don't recognize it. So we declare now our submission to your authority, and we do this with thankfulness. We ask you to fulfill in us the promises ofyour Fatherhood today– to assert your authority over us so that we can properly exercise our authority over others; and to teach us an accurate discernment of right and wrong so that we can make proper decisions today. You are the basis of all authority and you are the source of true wisdom. Therefore help us to be attentive to you today. In the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

The roll was called and all members were present except Mr. Fellman who was excused until 10:15 a.m. and Mr. Kime and Mr. Goodrich who were excused.

COMMUNICATION

January 29, 1973

Senator Bill Skarda
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

You request our opinion concerning the following questions:

> "Could the Metropolitan Utilities District as an institution, give away property owned by them to a civic group for use as a park facility? Could the Metropolitan Utilities District lease such property to a civic group for the purpose I have previously stated? And finally, could the Metropolitan Utilities District donate such property to the City for use as a park facility?"

While it is our opinion that the Legislature could authorize proprietary districts, such as the metropolitan utility districts, to donate lands for public purposes, such legislation would have to be extremely carefully drawn to pass constitutional scrutiny.

The basic question here seems to be whether a public body can donate money or property to a nonpublic body, in furtherance of a public purpose. This question was answered affirmatively in United Community Services v. The Omaha National Bank, 162 Neb. 786, 77 N. W. 2d 576 (a copy of which is enclosed for your examination).

As the court held in the United Community Services case, however, the legislation authorizing the donation must relate to the whole of a given class of public bodies–not just to one member of a logical class. Thus, if the metropolitan utilities districts are to be given the power to make donations, so must all similar public bodies. Public power districts, for example, might be comparable to utilities districts on the question whether the districts should be permitted to make donations.

In the same manner, the donees should be defined in a manner satisfactory to Art. III, Sec. 18, Constitution of Nebraska, which prohibits special and local legislation. Villages have as much interest in the right to accept gifts as do other municipal and nonprofit corporations. See the United Community Services case, supra.

A given piece of land may be subject to legal restrictions which would prohibit donation, as where the land was condemned. Such problems probably cannot be cured by legislation. This one issue might, as a practical matter, render impossible most donations of the type you propose.

Further, any donation would have to be for a truly "public purpose," and that term should be carefully defined in any legislation. A public park would possibly qualify as such purpose.

In summary of the above, it is our opinion that a metropolitan utilities district might be authorized, by statute, to donate land, for public park purposes, to a nonprofit or municipal corporation. Such legislation would need to consider the problems noted above, and undoubtedly, other problems which we have not attempted exhaustively to suggest.

Yours very truly,

Attorney General

EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE

NINETEENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Wednesday, January 31, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Stulac from Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Lincoln.

> Lord, when you lived and walked and spoke on this earth 2000 years ago, you gave such a revealing example of how we should live. When we would pursue personal greatness, you tell us that whoever would be great must be a servant. When we would protect our own rights, you tell us to give even more than people would take from us. When we would love those who support us and hate those who oppose us, you tell us to love our enemies as well as our friends. These seem to be such unnaturally high standards to set for human beings. But that reveals our sin—that they are unnatural standards for us. But you lived this kind of life even as you talked about it. So we look to you for forgiveness and for enabling. We acknowledge the rightness of your standards; help us to follow you today. We pray this with thankfulness for your love to us as we are, even as we seek to become more like you. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Keyes and Syas who were excused; Messrs. Goodrich and Snyder who were excused until 10:00 a.m. and Mr. DeCamp who was absent.

FIRST SESSION

TWENTIETH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 1, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:04 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Stulac from Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Lincoln.

> O God, there are many decisions to be made by us today. There will be decisions made here in this room by this group. We will also make countless decisions as individuals concerning the way we relate to people around us, how we spend our time, how we focus our attention and energies. Teach us to make these decisions by standards which are just. Grant us an accurate discernment of our own motives, and then teach us to choose alternatives of love rather than selfishness. We seek to live by faith today—faith that you are real and present and one to be obeyed in our decisions. Help us to see you and to hear you. We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ, that he might be better glorified in our lives. Amen.

RESOLUTIONS

Introduced by F. Lewis, 45th District.

WHEREAS, school districts in Nebraska for more than twenty years have provided educational services for dependents of Federally connected families; and

WHEREAS, prorations of Public Law 874 and Public Law 815 have occurred during the past several years, and the Federal Government has failed to provide any assurance of the amount of funding to be provided; and

WHEREAS, the citizens of Nebraska as well as those of the affected districts are proud to have Offutt Air Force Base located in Nebraska and are concerned with its vitality as it serves the entire country; and

WHEREAS, the Federal Government has a responsibility to the dependents of military personnel and those school districts which provide education to those dependents; and

WHEREAS, all children, including military dependents are entitled to a sound and stable educational program; and

WHEREAS, the budget recommendations for fiscal year 1974 are wholly inadequate to provide an equal educational opportunity for pupils attending districts affected by Federal activities; and

2. That the President is requested to review his recommendation regarding funding of impacted areas under Public Law 874 and Public Law 815 and to provide that such funding be continued at its present level.

MOTION—Rule Changes

Mr. Duis moved the adoption of the following rule change to Rule 7, Section 5, page 38 as referred to on page 234 of the Legislative Journal as follows:

A call of the Legislature may be made by any member in the manner following: "I move for a call of the Legislature". The presiding officer shall direct that the board be cleared and the members shall then vote on placing themselves under call. If a majority of the senators present and voting vote in favor of such a motion then the Legislature shall be deemed to be under call. Each member present shall indicate his presence upon the electric roll call system and shall remain in his seat during the call. After the Clerk shall note the names of the absentees, proceedings under the call may be suspended at any time by a majority vote of the members then present, and when so suspended shall not again be ordered on the proposition pending, except by a majority vote of the members elected. If all absentees were to vote on one side of the question, and if their combined vote would be insufficient to change the result of the vote, the President shall declare the call raised.

Mr. Carpenter requested a Call of the House. The Call showed 41 members present.

Mr. Hasebroock moved the Call be raised. The motion prevailed with 38 ayes, 0 nays and 11 not voting.

The Rule Change was adopted with 33 ayes, 6 nays and 14 not voting.

Mr. Duis moved the adoption of the following rule change to Rule 7, Section 9, page 40 as referred to on page 235 in the Legislative Journal as follows:

A motion to adjourn shall be in order, except:

a. While a member is speaking.
b. When a motion to adjourn has just been defeated.
c. After the Final Reading of a bill and during roll call thereon.
d. When the same is made for dilatory purposes.

A motion to adjourn takes precedence over all motions except a call of the house and shall not be subject to debate. A motion to adjourn to a time certain shall be subject to debate and amendment. A motion to recess shall take precedence over either of such motions.

Any motion to recess, to adjourn or to adjourn to a time certain may be adopted by a majority of those voting on the motion.

The Rule Change failed with 11 ayes, 18 nays and 20 not voting.

TWENTY-FIRST DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Friday, February 2, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. George Stulac from Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship of Lincoln.

> Father, we seek to be men and women of God as well as to do the work you desire in this world. In the midst of our work today, make us individuals who experience a fuller realization of what you intend us to be as your creatures. We cripple ourselves with self-centeredness and insecurity. We ask you to free us today to love other people rather than fear them, to act in creativity and wisdom rather than give up in selfish indifference, and to obey your commandments rather than try to manage our own lives. But you have demonstrated that this newness of life comes through Jesus Christ; so we pray in his name. Amen.

ROLL CALL

The roll was called and all members were present except Messrs. Carpenter, F. Carstens, Kennedy, Keyes and Waldron, who were excused; and Mr. DeCamp who was absent until 10:00 a.m.

The "A" bill accompanying the original shall include the funding required by the committee recommended amendments.

No vote, suspension of the rules, or unanimous consent shall be required for the introduction of an "A" bill. ~~No bill shall be advanced from Select File unless the "A" bill, if required, carries the necessary appropriations required by the bill.~~ All bills for which an "A" bill is prepared shall be bracketed on Final Reading until the "A" bill is advanced to Final Reading. The authorization bill shall first be considered and if it should be passed on final reading then the "A" bill shall be read and voted on for final passage.

LEGISLATIVE RESOLUTION 13.

Introduced by William H. Hasebroock, 18th District.

WHEREAS, the Federal Administration has impounded federal highway trust funds derived from special highway user taxes resulting in a seriously detrimental effect on state road construction programs; and

WHEREAS, the present and future revenues to the fund indicate a federal impoundment of some five billion dollars of highway trust funds; and

WHEREAS, this matter remains of great concern to the people of the State of Nebraska and to the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, this Legislature wishes to be placed on record in support of the action taken by the State of Missouri in their, thus far, successful challenge of the Administration's actions in impounding these funds.

January 18, 1971

Senator Ernest Chambers
Senator Wally Barnett
Senator John DeCamp
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senators:

You have asked for an opinion concerning the constitutionality of legislation requiring the election of city council members by districts in cities having home rule charters where such cities presently elect city council members at large. We would consider such legislation subject to attack on constitutional grounds, if it were limited to home rule cities.

In our opinion, any requirement of substituting at-large elections by elections from districts would be a matter of state-wide concern and hence a proper subject for legislation. However, limiting such districting requirements to home rule charter cities without making identical provision for cities of the same class operating without such charters would be questionable.

It would be well to state the principles which underlie these conclusions.

As you know, home rule charters are authorized by Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, which states in part: that

> "/a/ny city having a population of more than five thousand (5,000) inhabitants may frame a charter for its own government, consistent with and subject to the constitution and laws of this state. * * *."

Therefore, cities of the metropolitan, primary and first classes may become home rule cities.

The latter part of the quoted provision which states that the charter must be "consistent with and subject to the constitution and laws of this state" has been interpreted by our courts to mean that such cities have power over local concerns while the state continues in its paramount role over matters of state-wide concern. In a 1970 opinion, the Nebraska Supreme Court in City of Millard v. City of Omaha, 185 Neb. 617, 620, 177 N. W. 2d 576, reviewed the general proposition and case law in detail. The rule emerges that:

> " '* * *. /w/ here the legislature has enacted a law effecting municipal affairs, but which is also of state concern, the law takes precedence over any municipal action taken under the home rule charter. But where the legislative act deals with a strictly local > municipal concern, it can have no application to a city which has adopted a home rule charter. Whether or not an act of the legislature pertains to a matter of local or state-wide concern becomes a question for the courts when a conflict of authority arises.' * * *."

As a general proposition, matters pertaining to municipal elections are state affairs and pertinent legislation therefore is for the Legislature. Therefore a contest between two candidates for election in a home rule city was decided by state law, rather than by municipal ordinance, in McMaster v. Wilkinson, 145 Neb. 39, 15 N. W. 2d 348 (1944). This rests upon the legitimate concern of the state that the right to vote should be exercised in a manner consistent with constitutional principles. There exists no case in any jurisdiction, which has come to my attention, which has held that the state's legitimate interests extends to regulating the method and manner of exercising the franchise by requiring districting in municipalities. The agrument can be made that if no untoward bars to voter participation exists and if every vote is counted equally then it should be a matter of local concern whether to district or not. The answer to that argument was stated in Midwest Employers Council, Inc. v. City of Omaha, 177 Neb. 877, 887-88, 131 N. W. 2d 609 (1964):

> "This court in several opinions has stated that when the Legislature has enacted a law affecting municipal affairs, but which are also of statewide concern, such law takes precedence over any provisions in a home rule charter and the provisions of the charter must yield. * * *."

Of course the at-large election furnishes an area of state concern that in a municipality with a large population, some portions of the population may be benefited by electing their own representative from their own district who would be then charged to advance their particular interests. The state's concern in civil rights is apparent, and find express support in Midwest Employers Council, Inc. v. City of Omaha, supra, 177 Neb. 877, 887, insofar as fair employment practices. At-large elections have been critically mentioned in Lucas v. Colorado General Assembly, 377 U. S. 713, 731, 12 L. Ed. 2d 632, 644, 84 S. Ct. 1472 (1964) in which county apportionment was at issue:

> "* * *. One of the most undesirable features of the existing apportionment scheme was the requirement that, in counties given more than one seat in either or both of the houses of the General Assembly, all legislators must be elected at large from the county as a whole. Thus, under the existing plan, each Denver voter was required to vote for eight senators and 17 representatives. Ballots were long and cumbersome, and an intelligent choice among candidates for seats in the legislature was > made quite difficult. No identifiable constituencies within the populous counties resulted, and the residents or those areas had no single member of the Senate or House elected specifically to represent them. Rather, each legislator elected from a multi-member county represented the county as a whole. * * *."

In a footnote at this point, the opinion pointed to the diverse interests which might well be contained in a single large entity:

> "21. We do not intimate that apportionment schemes which provide for the at-large election of a number of legislators from a county, or any political subdivision, are constitutionally defective. Rather, we merely point out that there are certain aspects of electing legislators at large from a county as a whole that might well make the adoption of such a scheme undesirable to mant voters residing in multimember counties."

Therefore there are strong reasons to anticipate that our Court would uphold such legislation as being of state-wide concern, but in advance as you know, the matter is always subject to doubt.

The matter of class legislation is a different matter. The rule states that a law must operate uniformly upon the class "within the relations or circumstances provided for." When examining home rule charter cities to discover if they are a class, keeping in mind the circumstances which give rise to this legislation, it becomes apparent that any vice inherent in at-large elections remains the same in cities of the same size regardless of whether they have charters or not. Legislation was declared unconstitutional in Axberg v. City of Lincoln, 141 Neb. 55, 2 N. W. 2d 613 (1942) which concerned firemen's pensions which was by its terms to apply only to "metropolitan cities and cities of the first class * * * except any city of the first class that has heretofore adopted a charter for its own government." The Supreme Court held that such legislation "applies to cities governed by home rule charters the same as other cities in the designated class."

Nor can the proposed legislation which we are discussing be saved by a provision which would limit its applicability to Nebraska municipalities which presently have home rule charters, i. e., Lincoln and Omaha. The reason for this is that the class would be frozen and operate nonuniformly on future members of the class.

You have by now anticipated from what has been stated, that a proper class might contain metropolitan and primary cities, as the amount of population is the most simply devised classification and, the two home rule cities fall within such a class. A classification containing metropolitan, primary and first class cities would also clearly pass muster.

In view of the above, it is our opinion that legislation can be framed to accomplish the objectives you describe.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

February 6, 1973

Senator J. W. Burbach
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Burbach:

You have requested our opinion whether the "one-man, one-vote" rule would apply to the county officials advisory committee, as that body is proposed in legislation currently pending before the First Session of the 83rd Legislature. In our opinion, said rule would not apply to this body.

L. B. 19 provides for an Ad Valorem Advisory Committee to "consult with and advise the Tax Commissioner" on property tax matters, to make recommendations, and to make certain studies. The members are to be county board members and county assessors chosen by such officers within each of six districts in the state. No two members may be from the same county. Further, Section 4 of L. B. 132 would provide funds for the expenses of this committee.

An examination of L. B. 19 and L. B. 132 will reveal that this committee will have no real power. It can only advise, make recommendations, and conduct studies. The Tax Commissioner served by the Committee could ignore its advice, or he could follow the advice of a single member of the Committee.

In general, the apportionment rules apply to bodies which have significant powers (sometimes "legislative" powers, per se, are required). See Keane v. Golka (D.C. Neb.), 304 F. Supp. 331. We know of no case which holds that a mere advisory body, having no real powers, need be apportioned according to any particular formula or constitutional standard.

In our opinion, membership on the present body may be apportioned as the Legislature sees fit, even though that apportionment may involve both population imbalance and geographical discontinuity.

Yours very truly,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

February 7, 1973

Honorable John W. DeCamp
Member of the Legislature
Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

In your letter to this office you state that you are sponsoring a bill which, by constitutional amendment, would permit off-track wagering on horse races. You invite our attention to Article III, Section 24, Constitution of Nebraska, and suggest the possibility that by legislation the limitations of that constitutional provision can be avoided. You suggest specifically setting out in an act of the Legislature that "wagering parlors owned or leased by the race track are a part of the race track enclosure, even though said parlors may not be physically attached to the race track itself."

In general, Article III, Section 24 of the Nebraska Constitution prohibits the Legislature from authorizing any game of chance, lottery, or gift enterprise with certain exceptions. Prior to the amendment to this section in 1934 this language of the Constitution was held to prohibit parimutuel betting or any other kind of betting on horse races. See, State v. Aksarben Exhibition Co., 118 Neb. 851, 226 N. W. 705. Parimutuel betting was authorized in 1934 by this language:

> ". Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horse races by the parimutuel or certificate method, when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings,."

While the Legislature has the power and authority to define words used in any act, this power is limited and subject to a reasonable construction. It cannot be used to nullify and circumvent provisions of the Constitution by the simple expedient of defining terms used therein in an arbitrary, wrong and improper manner. Moeller, McPherrin & Judd v.

Smith, 127 Neb. 424, 255 N. W. 551. Attempting to authorize off-track parimutuel betting in the manner you propose by legislation rather than by constitutional amendment would, in our opinion, be clearly invalid.

Yours very truly,

FIRST SESSION

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, February 13, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rabbi Myer S. Kripke, Beth El Synagogue, Omaha, Nebraska.

> Our God and Father, our yearnings for a better future for thy children everywhere are brightened this day, as weapons are cast aside and prisoners of war strike off the bonds of the captured. Our hearts rise in thanksgiving.
> Help us now to strike off the shackles of mistrust and meanness of spirit that impoverish the human mind, blur the human vision, and corrode the supports of all human striving.
> Help us to turn the boldness of our restless American spirit and the fertility of our imagination "to bind up the nation's wounds", to bring justice and order to our country, and thus bring hope and resolution to our people.
> Our problems and failures are many and vexing; help us to evoke from the depths of our being the energy and the will to banish failure and achieve solution to our problems.
> Here in this heart of America and here in this House of the People of Nebraska, let all seek in their common brotherhood the good of the people; let us make the establishment of law the instrument of justice and truth, and the institution of sovereignty the guarantor of the rights of all citizens to life and learning, to security and advancement, to opportunity and to the invigorating and unhindered breath of freedom. Amen.

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Rev. George M. Stulac from the Inter-Varsity Christian Fellowship, Lincoln.

> O God, we acknowledge you as the only source of true life--not just existence as most of us experience it, but that quality of existence which you called "abundant life." We confess that we are not whole people; we make our lives motivated too much by selfishness and fear. In faith that you are the source of true life, we pray that you would free us today to be whole people, able to act on the basis of honesty rather than prejudice and love rather than self-interest. We have the confidence to ask for this from you only in the name of Jesus Christ. Amen.

February 12, 1973

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

President Nixon and Secretary Butz have asked us to reply to your letters with which you enclosed copies of Resolution No. 4 passed by the Nebraska Legislature concerning the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP).

An overwhelming problem that we all face is that of inflationary pressures on the economy. As we all can appreciate, government spending is one of the main causes of inflation. The Administration has announced that it intends to meet this national problem by restricting 1973 Federal budget outlays to $250 billion.

In order to do that, it is necessary to trim many programs, as good as they are, and eliminate some of lower priority. It isn't that these lower priority programs aren't useful, but we must terminate some programs in order to meet the budget limitation and successfully counteract the critical problem of inflation. Given that choice, you eliminate those programs of lower priority in Agriculture and in all Departments. On this basis, funding for the REAP was terminated.

We have made considerable progress in the last four years in increasing farm income, which has been a major objective. Realized net farm income in 1972 has risen to $18.9 billion, 28 percent higher than in 1968. The average net income per farm from farming in 1972 is 39 percent higher than in 1968. Those net income figures would be even higher were it not for the inflationary pressures that raised farm costs.

We will continue to concentrate on those programs that do enhance farm income—as well as accenting those programs and decisions that enable farmers to have more control over their own farm management decisions and to get more of their income from the marketplace.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Elvin J. Person
Acting Administrator

Standing Committee amendment to LR 11:

1. Strike the resolution as introduced and substitute the following language:

Introduced by Rasmussen, 41st District.

WHEREAS, the State of Nebraska is an agricultural state and the production of food and fiber is the keystone for the economic growth, health and welfare of the nation; and

WHEREAS, the Rural Environmental Assistance Program is of great economic significance and has provided for an orderly and effective development of agricultural and environmental controls to foster harmony between man and the soil; and

WHEREAS, this program, designed to preserve the natural resources so vital to the nation, was created by Congress for the benefit of future generations and is a sacred trust to the citizens of the nation and cannot be arbitrarily broken; and

WHEREAS, this program, and other programs created by the Congress for limited assistance to qualified REA districts and those designed to foster irrigation and water conservation for the protection of the water resources, are now threatened by inconsistent, unsound and totally arbitrary budget cuts by the President which will rob future generations of the benefits of the trust established for them by the Congress for the protection of the natural resources of the nation; and

WHEREAS, the immediate effect of the proposed budget cut will leave existing uncompleted projects and will seriously damage the agricultural interests of Nebraska, the economy of the nation and will impede and stymie environmental control efforts to reverse the degradation of our rivers, streams and lakes; and

WHEREAS, the Congress should stand committed to these programs and give careful review to the budget cut proposals of the administration.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

Friday, February 16, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by Rev. Alfred Ernst of Trinity Luthern Church, Lincoln.

> O Lord, our God, Creator of the universe, and the One in whom rests the destiny of men and of nations. We are thankful for the kindnesses You show us in so many ways. We are grateful for the gift of Jesus Christ, in whose life and death your love is perfectly made known. He did not set out to be served, or to lord it over others: His greatness was exercised in service, even to the furtherest point of self-sacrifice. We thank you for His work. Long ago in the flesh and ever since through the Holy Spirit, for searching out those who are off the path, urging men on, and giving the unruly a center for their lives.
> Father, in all these things it matters greatly to know you are in command. Make us all to serve your purposes, so that when we come to the end of our lives, it may be said of us "Well done, good and faithful servants." We ask all this in Jesus' name and for His sake. Amen.

Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Keyes:

In your letter of February 14, 1973, you ask whether the state by statute has the right to set the value of livestock at anything but 100 per cent of its actual value, or assess at anything other than 35 per cent of its actual value. Article VIII, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution provides that taxes shall be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property. That section also provides that the Legislature may provide that livestock shall constitute a separate and distinct class of property for purposes of taxation. However, the requirement of uniformity would apply within the class consisting of livestock, so that all livestock must be taxed uniformly and proportionately. Section 77-201, R. R. S. 1943, provides for assessing property at 35 per cent of actual value. Our answer to your question, therefore, must be that the state must treat all livestock, as a class, uniformly for purposes of taxation. Livestock, however, as a class, could be treated differently from other classes of taxable property.

You have enclosed with your letter a copy of L. B. 367. You have not asked any specific questions about this bill, but we assume from the fact of your having enclosed a copy that you wish our comments on it. L. B. 367 amends Section 77-1262, R. S. Supp., 1972, by providing that registered herd bulls shall be assessed at one and one-half times the value of range and commercial bulls, striking the provision that this should be the minimum valuation, and apparently providing that it should be the value used in all situations. We believe there is serious doubt as to the constitutionality of such an amendment. The present statute obviously contemplates that a registered herd bull whose actual value is in excess of one and one-half times the value of range and commercial bulls shall be assessed at its actual value. L . B. 367 would provide that its assessed valuation would be at the figure designated, irrespective of the actual value of the bull. It would appear that this would violate the uniformity provision of Article VIII, Section 1 of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

THIRTY-SECOND DAY

Monday, February 19, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 10:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

The Chaplain read a letter written by George Washington to his wife.

> We recognize, our Father, as George Washington saw so clearly, that "no people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand which conducts the affairs of men more than those of the United States. Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency."
> Believing that the hand that has brought us thus far will not forsake us now, but if we are willing will lead us on into further inspiration and service to all mankind, we would join our prayers this day with those of men and women all over the world who pray for order and peace.
> We pray therefore for some evidence in what is said and done here that thou hast been permitted a vote, and that these men and women have yielded their lives to Thee. In Jesus' name. Amen.

COMMUNICATION

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State of Nebraska

State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Brown:

Thank you for providing me with a copy of Legislative Resolution 12, declaring the concern of the Nebraska Legislature over P. L. 874 and P. L. 815 funding levels for Federally-impacted school districts to my attention.

Senator Hruska and I have been in contact with the Federal agency and also with the Senate Appropriations subcommittee handling this matter. I note you have sent copies of the resolution to the President and heads of two executive departments involved. I assure you I will do everything possible to secure funding at the level of full entitlement provided by law for the affected Nebraska school districts.

With very best regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

February 19, 1973

Senator Terry Carpenter
State Legislature
State House
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator Carpenter:

Your letter points out that the Legislature has for some time required additional office space in the state capitol building so that it can properly carry on its functions; that the State is already paying a substantial amount for office rental outside this building, and that unless an office building is built a great deal more money will have to be paid out for rental of space, with nothing to show for its except a stack of rent receipts. You also point out that L. B. 447 was introduced with the hope that a building could be started soon to meet the problem of office space for the Legislature and for state government generally. You then state:

> "Since that bill was introduced, a suggestion was made that a different approach could be used more effectively. That suggestion was that the Legislature build the building. In that way, we could proceed with construction at a pace, and in a manner, most acceptable to the representatives of the people of > this state, and not have to rely on someone else to get the job done."

Your principal question is whether the Legislature can itself build such a building or whether it must rely on the executive branch to carry forward this project.

Except as limited by the Constitution, the Legislature has broad powers. The only Constitutional provision we find which could conceivably be applied to this particular situation as the basis for a claim that the Legislature did not have the power to build a building is Article II of the Nebraska Constitution which provides for the separation of powers. The claim would be that the building of a building is purely executive function which could not be performed by the legislative branch. But, in this connection, it has been said that: "Although the performance of administrative duties is characteristically the function of the executive branch, administrative duties are frequently required to be performed in order to give full operation to, and to make effective the respective powers of, the legislative and judicial as well as the executive department." (16 Am. Jur. 2d 459)

Here we have a situation where the Legislature feels that it needs additional space, and in order to achieve this objective it proposes to build an office building which will take care of the space needs of the Legislature and of state government. Even if this were held to be a non-legislative function, we think that the building of a building comes within the principle that the Legislature may properly engage in the discharge of such functions to the extent that their performance is reasonably incidental to the full and effective exercise of its legislative powers. (Spartanburg County v. Miller, 132 S. E. 673) And, as stated by our Court in the case of State v. Neble, 82 Neb. 267, with reference to the doctrine of the separation of powers:

> "Thus, it often becomes necessary to the full and proper discharge of the duties imposed upon an official belonging to one class to perform an act the function of which, strictly speaking, belongs to another. The performance of such duties being, to some degree at least, essential to the full discharge of the duties imposed and properly within the power of the actor, the power conferred must be held to be valied; otherwise a condition of chaos would arise. We therefore conclude, as all have done, that the constitution must receive a liberal and general, rather than a strict, construction and application, and that every case must stand or fall relying upon its own merits. In theory the constituion is accepted as stating the one inflexible and unbending rule; yet in practice it is found impossible to obey its every mandate."

The building of a building for the purpose of providing adequate space for the Legislature and state government involves only two functions: the preparation of plans and specifications, and the letting of a contract. These are functions which the Legislature itself carries out every day in order to take care of its needs. If the Legislature needs office equipment or supplies of any kind in order to properly carry out its function, it prepares plans and specifications, and then lets a contract for them. We see no reason why it cannot also carry on these two functions with respect to a building which it needs for its purposes.

You also ask for suggestions on possible procedure. The Legislature would have broad authority in this area. It would be necessary to select some permanent officer, employee, or Committee of the Legislature to carry forward the project. Neither the Legislature nor the Legislative Council is in continuous existence, so it would be necessary to select a person or committee which is in continuous existence so that it could prepare the plans and specifications and sign the contract at any time. The Legislature could, of course, lay down such conditions for approval of the plans, specifications, and contract as it saw fit to impose.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Clarence A. H. Meyer

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print in Journal

Mr. Whitney asked unanimous consent to have the following report printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

February 19, 1973

To The Members Of The Nebraska Retirement Systems Committee:

Supplementary Report on the Financial Condition of the Major State Retirement Systems

The purpose of this report is to provide the 1973 session of the Legislature with the most recent financial condition of the major state retirement systems. The previous report of the financial condition of these systems was presented in a report dated January 12, 1972 and in supplementary reports dated January 31, 1972 and February 25, 1972 from the actuaries to the committee.

A. Unfunded Liabilities

Unfunded liabilities represent the present value of future benefits to be paid out under a retirement system for service which has already been rendered less the accumulated value of the retirement fund which has been built up to offset these liabilities. To the extent that the accumulated fund is less than the value of the benefits already accrued, the retirement system is in debt and this debt is termed the unfunded liability.

The most recent previously reported figures supplied to the committee are those contained in the January 12, 1972 and February 25, 1972 reports to the committee. They are as follows:

System	Calculation Date	Unfunded Liability
State Colleges	6-30-70	-0-
University of Nebraska	6-30-70	7,074,417.00
State Employees Retirement System	12-31-71	252,277.00
School Employees Retirement System	12-31-70	15,933,568.00
Judges Retirement System	6-30-70	1,229,946.00
State Patrol Retirement System	6-30-70	5,440,310.00
TOTAL		$29,930,518.00

The following are the most recent figures available:

System	Calculation Date	Unfunded Liability
State Colleges	6-30-72	-0-
University of Nebraska	6-30-72	6,195,331.00
State Employees Retirement System	12-31-72	-0-
School Employees Retirement System	6-30-72	7,573,380.00
Judges Retirement System	6-30-72	1,297,638.00
State Patrol Retirement System	6-30-70	5,359,540.00
TOTAL		$20,425,889.00

The following are some comments on the above figures:

State Colleges

The State Colleges Retirement System has never had any unfunded liability.

University of Nebraska

This unfunded liability arises from the old retirement system in effect for service prior to 1961 at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. No unfunded liability is in existence for the system at the University of Nebraska at Omaha. This liability is not being amo rtized and benefits are being paid directly from current revenues with no prefunding. The primary factor in the $879,086 decrease in the unfunded liability between June 30, 1970 and June 30, 1972 was the increase in the valuation interest rate for the active life portion of the valuation from 4½% to 5%. More details on this unfunded liability are contained in a report to the committee dated August 21, 1972.

State Employees Retirement System

The most recent valuation performed by Bankers Life Nebraska as of December 31, 1972 shows that the State Employees Retirement System was fully funded as of December 31, 1972. This was slightly earlier than the previously estimated date in early 1973 because of an unusually high level or recaptures of non-vested employee terminations during 1972. The attainment of full funding makes it imperative that the 1973 Legislature take action to direct the disposition of non-vested employee terminations.

School Employees Retirement System

This unfunded liability showed a dramatic decrease of $8,360,188 or 52.5% between December 31, 1970 and June 30, 1972. This rather incredible improvement in the unfunded liability arises from two sources:

1. The primary factor is the elimination of incorrect records being maintained in the manual filing system which were discovered upon the conversion to a partially automated system. The number of excess records being maintained was substantially greater than anyone had anticipated.

2. A secondary factor is a significant improvement in investment performance from the poor results experienced in 1969-1971 when the fund was heavily invested in equities. The previous unfunded liability as of December 31, 1970 had been inflated on this account.

State law required full funding of this liability by January 1, 1994. More details on this unfunded liability are contained in a report made to the Public Employees Retirement Board by their consulting actuary.

Judges Retirement System

This unfunded liability showed a very slight increase of $67,692 between June 30, 1970 and June 30, 1972. This increase is the result of two major changes in the system since June 30, 1970 which worked in opposite directions and largely offset each other:

1. The June 30, 1970 valuation incorrectly ignored matching contributions by counties and municipalities for county and municipal judges. This factor decreases the unfunded liability to the state.

2. The consulting actuary to the Public Employees Retirement Board has supplied revised estimates based on the impact of the court reform bill (LB 1032) enacted in 1972. Thus, although LB 1032 did not become effective until January 4, 1973 and the actuarial valuation was performed as of June 30, 1972, the effect of LB 1032 has been taken into account. This factor increases the unfunded liability to the state.

State law requires full funding of this liability by January 1, 1994. More details on this unfunded liability are contained in a report made to the Public Employees Retirement Board by their consulting actuary.

State Patrol Retirement System

This unfunded liability showed an expected slight decrease of $80,770 between June 30, 1970 and June 30, 1972. State law requires full funding of this liability by January 1, 1994. More details on this unfunded liability are contained in a report made to the Public Employees Retirement Board by their consulting actuary.

B. Indicated Cost to the State for 1973-1974

State Colleges

The state matches employee contributions.

University of Nebraska

The state matches employee contributions. In addition retirement benefits under the old retirement system at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln are paid direct from current revenues with no-prefunding. This annual cost based on June 30, 1972 data is $336,555.

State Employees Retirement System

The state pays 104% of employee contributions. This amount may be partially offset by recovery of non-vested employee terminations now that past service is fully funded, depending upon legislative action in 1973.

School Employees Retirement System

The recommended state contribution for 1973-1974 is $2,124,516 which is a substantial reduction from the recommendation for 1972-1973 of $2,979,917. This dramatic improvement is the result of the same factors discussed above in Section A of this report.

Judges Retirement System

The recommended state contribution for 1973-1974 is $161,902 which is a substantial increase from the recommendation for 1972-1973 of $102,008. This increase is entirely due to the impact of the court reform bill (LB 1032).

State Patrol Retirement System

The recommended state contribution for 1973-1974 is $430,066 which is a slight increase from the recommendation for 1972-1973 of $413,306. In addition, the state matches employee contributions.

Summary

The supplemental contributions for the school employees, judges and state patrol for 1973-1974 total $2,716,484. The Governor's budget has requested only $2,570,017, apparently in error. It is anticipated that the full $2,716,484 will be included in the final budget bill. It should be noted that this figure represents a reduction from the $3,285,017 appropriated for 1972-1973.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

May I courteously request once again your speedy approval of LR 11. This resolution of support for our No. 1 industry, agriculture, was introduced by Senator Rasmussen, in cooperation with this office and has not been given the priority consideration that it deserves. It has been debated on the floor, referred to committee, re-written and enjoyed wide approval at the public hearing.

The Legislature has previously rushed through resolutions supporting establishment of the National Rifle Association headquarters in Nebraska and the problems attendant with federal cuts in impacted school aid. In concurring completely with these resolutions I suggest you have not been as expeditious on LR 11. I respectfully urge your favorable action on LR 11 immediately.

Yours very truly,

MR. WHITNEY PRESIDING

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OPINIONS

February 16, 1973

Senator Richard F. Proud
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Proud:

You have requested our opinion on two closely related issues. Our discussion of these issues follows.

1. You ask, where the Legislature's ratification of a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States has been certified to the Administrator of General Services, whether such purported ratification would be voided by the fact that in passing the resolution, the Legislature allegedly failed to follow procedures provided.

Both L. R. 83 and L. R. 86, Eighty-Second Legislature, Second Session (1972), purported to ratify the "Equal Rights Amendment" to the Constitution of the United States. You suggest that neither resolution was printed prior to the vote thereon, and the Legislative Journal does not suggest otherwise. We assume that, in fact, neither was printed.

Article III, Section 14, Constitution of Nebraska, provides:

> "Every bill and resolution shall be read by title when introduced, and a printed copy thereof provided for the use of each member, and the bill and all amendments thereto shall be > printed and read at large before the vote is taken upon its final passage . . . ."

If our assumption is correct, that neither of the subject resolutions was printed, then Article III, Section 14, has not been complied with. Although we have found no Nebraska cases on the effect of such failure to print, there is authority, in other states, to suggest that constitutional printing requirements are mandatory, and that failure to comply therewith will render the bill or resolution void. See the dictum in Andrews v. People, 33 Colo. 193, 79 P. 1031, 108 Am. St. Rep. 76; and the discussion at 50 am. Jur., Statutes, Sections 77-78, pp. 91-92. The validity of either L. R. 83 and 86 is, therefore, doubtful, if neither was printed as required by Article III, Section 14, Constitution of Nebraska.

The Nebraska Legislative Journal, Eighty-Second Legislature, Section Session (1972), at pages 1568 and 1569 shows that the Nebraska Secretary of State reported that he had certified to the Administrator of General Services that L. R. 83 had passed, ratifying the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States. Further, although no such report from the Secretary of State is shown concerning L. R. 86, that resolution does direct the Secretary of State to so certify.

In Leser v. Garnett, 258 U. S. 130, 137, 66 L. Ed. 505, 511, the court stated:

> "The remaining contention is that the ratifying resolutions of Tennessee and of West Virginia are inoperative, because adopted in violation of the rules of legislative procedure prevailing in the respective states. The question raised may have been rendered immaterial by the fact that since the proclamation the legislatures of two other states – Connecticut and Vermont – have adopted resolutions of ratification. But a broader answer should be given to the contention. The proclamation by the Secretary certified that, from official documents on file in the Department of State, it appeared that the proposed Amendment was ratified by the legislatures of thirty-six states, and that it 'has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States.' As the legislatures of Tennessee and of West Virginia had power to adopt the resolutions of ratification, official notice to the Secretary, duly authenticated, that they had done so, was conclusive upon him, and being certified to by his proclamation, is conclusive upon the courts . . . ."

In Leser, a separate issue was whether a Legislature, in a state which permitted only males to vote, could ratify the Eighteenth Amendment, where the effect thereof would be to invalidate the provisions of the state constitution by giving women the right to vote. The Court stated, 258 U. S. at 137, 66 L. Ed., at 511:

> ". '. . But the function of a state legislature in ratifying a > proposed Amendment to the Federal Constitution, like the function of Congress in proposing the Amendment, is a Federal function, derived from the Federal Constitution; and it transcends any limitations sought to be imposed by the people of a state. . . ."

In Chandler v. Wise, 307 U. S. 474, 83 L. Ed. 1407, 59 S. Ct. 992, the Kentucky Legislature adopted a resolution purporting to ratify the "Child Labor Amendment." A state court action was commenced to enjoin the Governor's certificate of the amendment, but before he was served, the Governor forwarded the certification to the Secretary of State of the United States. The Court held that, at this point, the matter was no longer a controversy susceptible of judicial determination, reversing the state's highest court, which had held both that it had jurisdiction, and that the purported ratification was not in conformity with the Federal Constitution and was void. The state court, incidentally, had held that once a constitutional amendment has been refused by the Legislature, it cannot later be ratified.

In Chandler the state court held that the ratification was void as a matter of federal constitutional law. The Supreme Court did not pass on the question of the validity of the ratification, holding that the courts had no jurisdiction to do so. In our opinion, where the alleged taint derives from provisions in the State Consitution, the courts would similarly be without jurisdiction.

Under 205 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (Comp. St., section 303), the Secretary of State performed functions comparable to those now performed by the Administrator of General Services. The Court, in United States ex rel. Widenmann v. Colby, 265 F. 998, error dismissed, 256 U. S. 619, 66 L. Ed. 400, 42 S. Ct. 169, considered a petition for mandamus to require the Secretary of State to cancel his proclamation and certificate that the Eighteenth Amendment had been ratified and was effective. The Court stated, Id., 265 F., at 999-1000:

> "It will be observed that by this section [205 of the Revised Statutes] it was the duty of the Acting Secretary of State, upon receiving official notice from three-fourths of the several states (Constitution, art. 5) that the proposed amendment had been adopted, to issue his proclamation. He was not required, or authorized, to investigate and determine whether or not the notices stated the truth. To accept them as doing so, if in due form, was his duty. As soon as he had received the notices from 36 of the states that the amendment had been adopted, he was obliged, under the statute, to put forth his proclamation. No discretion was lodged in him. The act required was purely ministerial. Now, there is no allegation in the petition of Widemann that the Acting Secretary of State did not receive official notice from the requisite number of states, nor does the > petitioner in argument claim that he did not. In fact, as we understand it, he admits that he did. His insistence is that the officials of the several states should not have issued the notices; but, as we have said, the Acting Secretary had no authority to examine into that matter, to look behind the notices. From these considerations it follows that the Acting Secretary, instead of failing to perform a duty imposed upon him by statute, the performance of which should be coerced by mandamus, performed a duty enjoined upon him by statute in issuing the proclamation in question. . . ." (Bracketed phrase supplied.)

In summary of the above authorities, we are doubtful that alleged procedural defects, although constitutional in nature, can be raised either in the courts or before the Administrator of General Services, to challenge a certification of ratification. We know of no authority, either statutory or otherwise, which would indicate whether alleged procedural defects can be considered by Congress in its general supervision of the amendment process.

2. You also ask whether your L. R. 9, in the current session of the Legislature, must be printed before it is "placed on final passage." You suggest that the resolution is being treated as a bill. As such, Rule No. 6, section 6(c) of the Rules of the Nebraska Unicameral (1973), require that the bill be printed. We cannot advise you that such rule would not comply with relevant statutory and constitution nor that to follow a less restrictive procedure would necessarily be of such certain validity.

Yours very truly,

Senator John W. DeCamp
Nebraska State Legislature
State House

Dear Senator:

Your February 8 letter questions an opinion of this office to you on February 7 in which we concluded that it would be constitutionally improper to proceed by statute to legalize off-track betting in the manner proposed by the following paragraph from your February 6 letter:

> "I am wondering if, in designating in the law that I propose, I specifically set out that wagering parlors owned or leased by the race track are a part of the race track enclosure, even though said parlors may not be physically attached to the race track itself."

As we stated, it is our opinion that such a proposal would be invalid under that part of our Constitution which prohibits gambling, but then provides that, "Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horse races by the pari-mutuel or certificate method, when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings, * * *."

You state that it was your understanding that there was case law to the effect that such a definition was considered reasonable; that our February 7 opinion "has totally unanswered the question," which you restate as being: "Why and for what legal reason is my definition of 'within the enclosure' improper?"

I found no case law which would support your position in a Nebraska courtroom, and I also feel that our February 7 opinion did answer your question. In the case we cited in our earlier opinion, the Nebraska Court summed up the issue in this manner: "May a legislature, under the guise of defining a word, do so with a definition which contravenes our Constitution, and which is not true or legal in fact?" They answered the qeustion in the negative.

Our Constitution does not authorize betting "within the enclosure" as you quote the term in your letter. It only authorizes it "within the race track enclosure". The Legislature has itself recognized since passage of the constitutional amendment that betting can only take place at the track itself, and its interpretation is entitled to weight in court. At the very outset the Legislature provided that: "Within the enclosure of any race track where is held a race or race meeting licensed and conducted under sections 2-1201 to 2-1218, but not elsewhere, the pari-mutuel or certificate method or system of wagering on the results of the respective races may be used and conducted by the licensee in connection therewith."

We adhere to our February 7 opinion.

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, February 22, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Speaker Proud presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Great unseen Spirit, eternal and majestic, ruler of the heavens and the earth, before whom a thousand years are as a watch in the night; yet ever mindful of even the small things of the earth–the sparrow that falls from the skies in death; the cup of cold water given to one in need:
> We prepare now to invest another day of public trust in the service of those who have entrusted much to us. Grant that we may do nothing to weaken their trust in us, and may they do nothing to betray our confidence in them.
> So may we be especially alert at this time to the frustrations and sensitivities of those who somehow feel that we can dispense easy answers to their complex problems.
> Guard us against the ever present inclination to over-react when we feel a cause is being over-demonstrated.
> Do not permit us to confuse the authentic promptings of the Divine voice with the noisy chatter of other voices we are hearing.
> Give us strong backbones that will not sag under the weight of any amount of pressure from man, but will yield only to the guiding spirit of the God and Father of us all. Amen.

"Section 1. The Legislature finds and declares that the election of the city council at large in cities of the primary class results in a concentration of representation from certain areas and socio-economic segments of the population while denying representation to other areas and socio-economic segments of the population. The Legislature finds that adequate representation of all areas and all socio-economic segments of the population of cities of the primary class is a matter of general statewide concern, the provisions of any home rule charter to the contrary nonwithstanding.

Sec. 2. The members of the city council in cities of the primary class shall be elected from districts, with one member being elected from each district. The election commissioner of any county in which a city of the primary class is located shall divide the city into as many election districts as there are members of the city council. Such districts shall be of compact and contiguous territory, shall be as nearly as may be practicable of the same population, and shall be drawn so as not to favor any area or any socio-economic segment of the population of the city. Members of the council shall be nominated and elected on a nonpartisan ballot. Members of the council serving on the effective date of this act shall continue to serve until the expiration of their term. Their successors shall be elected from districts as designated by the election commissioner so as to assure representation of all areas and all socio-economic segments of the population at the earliest practicable date.

Sec. 3. Each candidate seeking nomination by district shall have been an actual resident thereof for at least one year immediately preceding the primary election. The term of office of any member elected by district shall terminate if he changes his residence to a point outside the district. Councilmen shall serve for a term of four years.

Sec. 4. If any territory is annexed to a city of the primary class, the election commissioner shall assign such territory to existing districts so as to maintain, as nearly as may be practicable, equal population within each such district. The election commissioner shall adjust the boundaries of such districts after each federal decennial census so as to maintain equal population within each such district.".

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

February 22, 1973

Senator George Syas
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

In connection with L. B. 195 you have asked us several questions concerning the existing rights of a private citizen to institute legal action in the courts when his interests have been affected by pollution. You explain that in our response you would like some description of what legal procedures are available under the present state of the law.

The Department of Environmental Control, like its predecessor pollution regulatory agencies, is authorized to promulgate laws which restrict the emissions of polluters. The legislative scheme is that the agency will not only make the law, it will investigate and if it finds violations, it will enforce the law. L. B. 195 is designed to authorize the so-called citizen suit, which would generally give to a private citizen the same type of right of enforcement which has been entrusted by law to the regulatory agency.

The present law in Nebraska, set forth in the Administrative Procedure Act, Section 84-901 et seq., which is applicable to the Environmental Control Department as an act establishing minimum administrative procedures for all agencies, provides the following rights to a person who wishes to affect the actions of a regulatory agency.

> "84-910. Agency; promulgation, amendment, or repeal; petition. Any interested person may petition any agency requesting the promulgation, amendment, or repeal of any rule. Each agency shall prescribe by rule the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition."
> "84-911. Agency; validity of rule; declaratory judgment; procedure. (1) The validity of any rule may be determined upon a petition for a declaratory judgment thereon addressed to the district court of Lancaster County if it appears that the rule or its threatened application interferes with or impairs or threatens to interfere with or impair the legal rights or privileges of the petitioner. The agency shall be made a party to the proceeding. The declaratory judgment may be rendered whether or not the petitioner has first requested the agency to pass upon the validity of the rule in question.
> "(2) The court shall declare the rule invalid if it finds that it violates constitutional provisions, exceeds the statutory authority of the agency, or was adopted without compliance with the > statutory rule-making procedures."

> "84-912. Agency; applicability of rule; declaratory ruling; review of ruling. On petition of any interested person, any agency may issue a declaratory ruling with respect to the applicability to any person, property, or state of facts of any rule or statute enforceable by it. A declaratory ruling, if issued after argument and stated to be binding, is binding between the agency and the petitioner on the state of facts alleged unless it is altered or set aside by a court. Such a ruling is subject to review in the manner provided in the code of civil procedure. Each agency shall prescribe by rule the form for such petitions and the procedure for their submission, consideration, and disposition."

You will note that the rights granted under these provisions are given to "any interested person" or one with "legal rights or privileges". This means that in order for the person to initiate any action he must have suffered damages to a legally protected interst. This is a major difference from rights authorized by citizen suits, which authorize a suit by one who has no property right or other recognized legally protected interest which has been invaded, but who asserts as a citizen of the state that the natural resources of the state are adversely affected.

That is not to say that the private citizen is denied access to the courts. He may bring a private lawsuit against the polluter complaining that his rights have been adversely affected by the defendant polluter. This may be a suit for money damages or an action to enjoin the polluter from continuing his conduct. There are four recognized legal theories of liability in pollution cases, nuisance, trespass, negligence, and strict liability. To sustain a nuisance theory it is necessary to prove that the pollution complained of is so frequent and noxious that it has a propensity to cause harm and that it caused the plaintiff damages. In a trespass suit it is necessary to demonstrate that the polluter is interfering with the enjoyment of the victim's property as a result of the escape of pollution from the polluter's property to the victim's. Negligence theory is the basis of a suit where the polluter is doing something which is likely to cause harm to others and where he has a legal duty to refrain from causing that harm. Strict liability is the basis for an action in which the law places upon the polluter the duties in the nature of an insurer. These types of lawsuits are brought by a private individual, generally but not necessarily represented by counsel, in the courts of the county in which the damage took place.

L. B. 195 as written would not limit access to the courts by a private individual for an invasion of his rights, but rather would extend to private individuals the right to complain that an emission limitation, set by the regulatory agency, was exceeded and not excused. Further, it would force the Director of the Environmental Control Department into court to explain the reasons which prompted his administrative decisions concerning enforcement, in the particular case. The resolution of these conflicting points of view are essentially political in nature, and we are therefore refraining from any judgment concerning their respective political merits.

Yours very truly,

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

February 21, 1973

Senator Steve Fowler
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Fowler:

You have requested our interpretation of Sec. 23-113, R.R.S. 1943, as pertains to Indian burial grounds. That section of the statutes authorizes county boards to expend money from the county general fund for the "care and maintenance of each abandoned and neglected cemetery." Legislative Bill 277, introduced at the current session, would effect no change in the law other than to specify what shall constitute care and maintenance.

You inquire as to the validity and propriety of applying the statute with respect to Indian burial grounds. It is true that the federal government, generally speaking, has exclusive jurisdiction over native American Indians and Indian Country, to the exclusion of any incompatible regulation or control by any branch of state government. However, it seems to us that a matter such as care and maintenance by a county of abandoned and neglected Indian burial grounds would not constitute regulation or control; but, rather, it would be in the nature of granting aid.

Since, in effect, the federal government has established a guardian-ward relationship with respect to Indians and their property, it might appear appropriate that the care and maintenance of abandoned and neglected Indian burial grounds is something for which it should assume responsibility. However, be that as it may, in the absence of federal action, we feel that it is within the power of a county within which an abandoned and neglected Indian burial ground may be located to provide care and maintenance for the same.

Your final question goes to whether the present statutory language would include Indian burial grounds or if additional language should be enacted specifically making the statute applicable to Indian burial grounds. The statute simply uses the general term, "cemetery," without any restriction or limitation whatever. We believe that the terms "cemetery" and "burial ground" are essentially synonymous and that there is no necessity to specifically refer to Indian burial grounds in order to render the law applicable thereto. This is not to say, of course, that it would be improper to incorporate into the statute a specific reference to Indian burial grounds.

However, we should point out that simply because in a given area there may be located a few random, scattered Indian graves is insufficient basis for declaring the area to be a burial ground. In Town of Sudbury v. Department of Public Utilities, 218 N. E. 2d 415, 424, an objection was urged to the attempted taking of an easement by eminent domain through a parcel of land, on the grounds that the land constituted an Indian burial ground. The following appears in the opinion in that case:

> "The department concluded that the remains of one human being and the possibility of others scattered throughout the area were not, in its opinion, a basis for designating the land as a burial ground within c. 114, Section 17, which 'plainly refers to a tract of land definable and readily identifiable as a burying ground.' The department inferred from Smith's testimony that 'Indian burial was random in nature.' The decision further stated, 'There is certainly no evidence of an area or tract of land specifically defined as such.'
> "The department's finding was clearly right. * * *."

Similarly, in Village of Villa Park v. Wonders' Rest Cemetery, Co., 147 N. E. 104, 105, the court said that a cemetery is a place or an area of ground formally set apart for burial of the dead and that a cemetery is created by the act of setting apart the ground for burial, marking, and distinguishing it from adjoining ground as being a place of burial.

Very truly yours,

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print In Journal

Mr. Stahmer asked unanimous consent to have the following letter printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

The Honorable Dave Stahmer
State Senator
Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Stahmer:

In the interest of eliminating the furor and discontent that has been created by your introduction of LB 300, I respectfully request that you withdraw this measure from legislative consideration.

I note with understanding the legitimate concern of the people affected by this proposal including the mass circulating of petitions and even legal actions.

I suggest all of this bitterness is not in the best interest of education nor the students affected.

Regardless of what I am sure were your good intentions, forcing District 66, Millard, and parts of the Ralston area into the Omaha school district is so frought with problems that further considerations now cannot possibly be justified.

In my opinion, all of this is unfortunately "much ado about nothing," because it is difficult to imagine how you could possibly muster 25 votes for passage of LB 300.

While I customarily reserve my decisions on legislative initiated measures until and if they are passed and forwarded to me, I feel that I have an obligation to inform you now that if LB 300, as drawn, is passed and presented to me, it will receive my prompt veto.

Before any more time, effort or bitterness is wasted on this effort, I hope you will reconsider.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

Mr. Carpenter asked unanimous consent to have the following statement and amendment printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

STATEMENT OF INTENT TO LB 396

The Legislature finds that the Education Amendments of 1972 to the Federal Higher Education Act of 1965 provides that the Office of Education, Department of Health, Education and Welfare will fully insure student loans for the payment of both the principal and interst for all student loans made after March 1, 1973, so that the credit of the United States is pledged; the Legislature further finds that during the past 14 three-month periods the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, after consultation with the Secretary of the Treasury, has set the special interest allowance rate to which holders of student loans are entitled in addition to the fixed interest return established by law, at a rate of return which is equitable considered in the light of the then current economic conditions and the particular relevant money market (fluctuating between 9 1/4% and the present 7 3/4%) and is charged by law to continue this duty; further that it will foster the investment in student loans and return to the state funds the fullest yield if all interest payments shall be credited to the fund from which the investment was made, without deductions for administrative expenses and without commercial enterprises profiting from servicing arrangements; that in view of the policy of this state contained in the 1968 amendment to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, in Article XIII, section 3 that the state may guarantee or make student loans to Nebraska residents, that the state should foster this object by providing that state funds shall be invested in fully insured student loans, so long as they remain a prime investment, that the state investment office shall continue to make student loans with the assistance provided by the Board of Regents, and that the expenses of administration, expected to amount to the salary of three persons, shall be borne by the General Fund.

AMENDMENT TO LB 396:

Section 1. That section 72-1241, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

72-1241. The state investment officer shall devote his entire time and attention to the duties of his office. He shall not engage in any other occupation or profession or hold any other public office, appointive or elective. If for any reason the state investment officer is unable to perform the duties of his office, or the office is vacant due to death, resignation or otherwise, the council shall designate an acting state investment officer to serve until the state investment officer is able to act or the vacancy is filled. With the approval of the council, the state investment officer ~~may~~ shall designate ~~a deputy to perform such acts and duties as the state investment officer shall authorize, subject to the same restrictions as apply to the state investment officer~~ an assistant to assist him in administering the student loan programs. The deputy shall furnish bond in the face amount and conditioned as the bond of the state investment officer. The state investment officer shall be responsible for all official acts of his deputy.

Sec. 2. That section 72-1246, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

72-1246. All money made available to the state investment officer for investment may be invested in the following classes of securities after proper consideration of the requirements for the availability of such money: (1) Notes, bonds, or other obligations of the United States, or those guaranteed by or for which the credit of the United States is pledged for the payment of the principal and interest or dividends thereof or student loans fully insured by the United States for the payment of the principal and interest thereof; (2) bonds or other evidences of indebtedness of the State of Nebraska and full faith and credit obligations of, or obligations unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by, any other state of the United States; (3) notes, bonds, or obligations of any municipal or political subdivision of the State of Nebraska which are general obligations of the issuer thereof and revenue bonds or debentures of any city, county or utility district of the State of Nebraska where the earnings available for debt service have, for a five-year period immediately preceding the date of purchase, averaged not less than two times such debt service requirements; (4) bonds and debentures issued either singly or collectively by any of the twelve federal land banks, the twelve intermediate credit banks or the thirteen banks for cooperatives under the supervision of the Farm Credit Administration; (5) certificates of deposit of banks which are members of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation except that whenever the amount deposited exceeds the amount of insurance available thereon, the excess shall be secured in the same manner as for the deposit of public funds; (6) accounts with building and loan associations or federal savings and loan associations in the State of Nebraska to the extent that such accounts are insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation; (7) bonds or other interest-bearing obligations of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof, except that (a) at the time the purchase is made, they are given, by at least one statistical organization whose publication is in general use, a rating of AAA, AA or A, and (b) not more than five per cent of the total investment fund shall be invested in the obligations of any one issuer; (8) direct short-term obligations generally classified as commercial paper of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or any state thereof with a net worth of ten million dollars or more; (9) long-term, low-interest loans to Nebraska residents seeking adult or post high school education at any public or private institution in this state; and (10) any security of any corporation organized under the laws of the United States or of any state thereof with a net worth of ten million dollars or more, except that (a) not more than forty per cent of the total money available for investment at the time such investment is made shall be in this class and not more than five per cent shall be invested in each of the first eight years, and (b) not more than five per cent thereof shall be invested in the securities of any one corporation. Notwithstanding the aforesaid percentage limits, the cash proceeds of the sale of such securities of any corporation may be reinvested in any securities authorized under this subdivision. The state investment officer may invest money available for investment in any fund with one or more primary carriers which shall invest such money in a manner authorized by the state investment officer.

Sec. 3. (1) The general supervision of student loan programs established under sections 72-1246 to 72-1246.05 and this section is hereby vested in the Nebraska Investment Council and the council shall provide for the administration of such loans. The council shall adopt by-laws and establish rules and regulations, from time to time, not inconsistent with the provisions of sections 72-1246 to 72-1246.05 and this section and applicable federal requirements for the administration and transaction of the student loan programs, and shall perform such other duties as may be required to administer the provisions of sections 72-1246 to 72-1246.05 and this section. It shall be the duty of the council to maintain its status as a lender eligible to administer student loans from the federal Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The state investment officer shall be charged with the duties of administering the provisions of sections 72-1246 to 72-1246.05 and this section. The council may by contract with the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska for services in connection with the administration of such programs.

(2) The Nebraska Investment Council, out of funds available to it, shall invest in student loans fully insured by the United States for the payment of the principal and interest thereof, authorized by sections 72-1246 to 72-1246.05 and this section, so long as the investment in such securities does not impair its obligation as trustee of state funds. Should the Nebraska Investment Council conclude that it cannot lawfully invest in such securities, it shall file a report with the Clerk of the Legislature stating its reasons for such conclusion. Such student loans shall be made to Nebraska residents attending Nebraska institutions and the Nebraska Investment Council shall give preference to such loans when an investment in such loans would be equally as good as any other investment.

(3) The council shall file a report with the Clerk of the Legislature in May and November of each year, stating the number of applications for student loans and the dollar amounts requested in the previous six-month period, the number of loans granted, and the dollar amounts disbursed. Each report shall include, when the demand for student loan applications is not met by the Nebraska Investment Council, information concerning the reasons therefor and investments which were made during that period, a summary of investment, reinvestment, purchase, sale, and exchange transactions, setting forth the investments bought, sold, and exchanged, the dates of the transactions, the prices paid and obtained, stated yield and anticipated yield, maturity dates when applicable, and the probable safety of capital thereof.

Sec. 4. That section 72-1249, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1972, be amended to read as follows:

72-1249. Any expenses with respect to the purchase, sale, or exchange of any security shall be charged to the fund or funds on behalf of which such purchase, sale, or exchange was made. ~~All expenses incurred in the management of long-term investment funds shall be paid from the State Investment Officer's Cash Fund established by section 72-1249.01~~. All other expenses of the state investment officer, including the expenses of administering the student loan programs, shall be paid out of appropriations from the General Fund for the office of the state investment officer.

Sec. 5. Notwithstanding any provisions of section 3 of this act, the Nebraska Investment Council may continue to hold and administer student loans authorized by subdivision (9) of section 72-1246 prior to the effective date of this act.

Sec. 6. That original sections 72-1241 and 72-1246, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, and section 72-1249, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1972, and also section 72-1249.01, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1972, are repealed.

Sec. 7. Since an emergency exists, this act shall be in full force and take effect, from and after its passage and approval, according to law.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT—Print in Journal

Mr. Stahmer asked unanimous consent to have the following letter printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

February 27, 1973

Honorable Members of the Nebraska Professional Practices Commission
233 South 10th Street
Lincoln, Nebraska 68508

Dear Members:

I, Senator David H. Stahmer of the 8th Legislative District of the State of Nebraska, do hereby file an official complaint against Mr. H. Vaughn Phelps, Superintendent of Schools, School District 66, Douglas County, Nebraska.

On or about February 9th, 1973 said Mr. Phelps did request of Mr. Ed Fischer, Editorial Cartoonist of the Omaha World Herald, the original drawing of a cartoon depicting me in a very uncomplimentary light. When I asked Mr. Fischer personally for the original of the cartoon, he said he would have been glad to give it to me, except that said Mr. Phelps had requested it, and that it was delivered to Mr. Phelps.

I believe it is beneath the dignity of the teaching profession of this state to allow a person held out to be a professional to display in his office or in his home so that he might join together with whomever he associates with to laugh at my expense.

As a duly elected State Senator, it is a difficult enough decision trying to vote on the merits of legislation concerning children, schools, and professions without having ones mind unnecessarily and additionally agitated by what I consider to be an unprofessional act.

I believe said cartoon rightfully belongs in my home for my own amusement.

Sincerely,

(Signed) David H. Stahmer
Senator, 8th District

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

February 27, 1973

Senator Herbert J. Duis
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Senator Duis:

In your letter of February 26, 1973, you state that a non-profit organization in Gothenburg is purchasing vacant land in order that it may be used to promote industry within the community. You state that the organization is required to pay taxes on the vacant land which it owns, and that this is a burden on it, since it is a non-profit organization. You ask whether legislation could be introduced which would make such land owned by a non-profit development corporation tax exempt. We conclude that such a statute would be in violation of Article VIII, Section 2 of the Nebraska Constitution.

This section of the constitution provides in part:

> "* * *. The Legislature by general law may exempt property owned by and used exclusively for agricultural and horticultural societies, and property owned and used exclusively for educational, religious, charitable, or cemetery purposes, when such property is not owned or used for financial gain or profit to either the owner or user. * * *. No property shall be exempt from taxation except as provided in the Constitution. * * *."

The property in question, as you have described it in your letter, would not be used for financial gain or profit by either the owner or user. However, by no stretch of the imagination could the holding of this land by the non-profit organization be described as being for educational, religious, charitable, or cemetery purposes, which is a requisite for a tax exemption under this provision of the constitution. We therefore conclude that any attempt to exempt such real estate from taxation while it was being held for development in the manner outlined in your letter would be in violation of the above quoted section of the Nebraska Constitution.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

Assistant Attorney General

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Almighty God, before whose face the generations of men rise and pass away, we thank you this day for the opportunity of celebrating the birthday of our State. We remember in gratitude this native land–and all who have sacrificed so much to keep her strong and right.
> We are thankful that our land was born and nurtured in liberty, and that those who settled on these plains were men and women who desired the opportunity to build here a better place in which all could live together in harmony and justice.
> We are thankful that when there have been dangers before our State there have been those who have risen to defend her–placing their State's welfare above private gain.
> So may this Nebraska celebration remind us anew of the importance of a continuing heritage, served by the Senators here and those who assist them, and by all the people of the State, that together we may have a sense that this land is not only our land, but your land, of the people, for the people, and by the people. Amen.

Friday, March 2, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: we in this Legislature want to become friends and advocates of every plan and program which will enable men and women and children to live better, easier, fuller lives; therefore we ask for imagination able to interpret statistical records and research papers in terms of the sufferings, the longings, the real life needs of human beings.
> May it become the personal creed of each legislator never to seek anything for self which might short-change others, but always to seek for others the same good life that is sought for self. Our prayer is offered in the name of Jesus—our Friend, our Saviour, our Example, our Guide. Amen.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 2, 1973

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol Building
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I wish to advise you that pursuant to Article 4, Section 15, of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska, as amended in 1972, I have signed LB 40 into law, but have reduced LB 40A from the amount of $59,971 to the amount of $25,000 per line one and two in the title and per line two in section one.

I believe such reduced sum is sufficient to carry out the provisions of LB 40 as amended.

Very truly yours,

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

March 2, 1973

Senator David H. Stahmer
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Stahmer:

You have inquired as to the holding of the court in Ratigan v. Davis, with specific reference to whether or not the court ruled in that case on the constitutionality of School District Number 66 of Douglas County and whether or not the holding in that case would support the proposition that L. B. 300 is or is not constitutional.

Ratigan v. Davis is reported at 175 Neb. 416, 122 N. W. 2d 12 (1963). In that case the court stated:

> "The contention here made is that, as the petitioners reside and own property within the city of Omaha but do not reside or > own property within the school district of Omaha, and as the regents of the municipal university are selected by the school board of the school district of Omaha, the petitioners are being taxed without representation and in violation of various sections of the state and federal Constitutions." (175 Neb. at 418.)

Upon analyzing that contention, the court stated that the maxim that taxation without representation "does not mean, as many seem to think, that no person can be taxed unless, in the body that determines the amount of the tax to be levied, he is represented by someone for whom he has a right to vote." In concluding its analysis the court stated:

> "We do not deem it necessary to discuss other questions raised. No constitutional provision stands as a bar to the levy of two mills on the dollar on assessed value of the tangible property in the annexed areas for the support of the municipal university. The trial court correctly sustained general demurrers to the petition of the plaintiffs and its judgment is affirmed." (175 Neb. at 423.)

The court did not discuss the constitutionality of the organization of School District Number 66 of Douglas County in that case. Nor would the holding in that case, in our opinion, support the proposition that L. B. 300 is or is not constitutional.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

March 2, 1973

Senator Gary L. Anderson
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Anderson:

In your letter of inquiry you note that L.B. 197 provides, inter alia, that "Educational Service Units may purchase, lease, or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to member school districts." You also note that Senator Waldron's amendment, adopted 23 February 1973 provides that "Any equipment purchased or lease-purchased under the authority of this section shall not be resold to any other government subdivision unless it is no longer functional." You then state that Education Service Units have been conducting cooperative purchasing programs to provide equipment to member schools at lower cost and ask our opinion as to whether the language of L.B. 197 can be construed in anyway as to preclude these cooperative purchasing programs.

Senator Waldron's amendment, adopted 22 February 1973, would add one sentence to the end of section 3 of L.B. 197 which had been amended the previous day by Senator Barnett's amendment. Consequently section 3 of L.B. 197, as of 22 February 1973, would read as follows:

> "79-2201.01. In order to carry out the purposes provided in section 79-2201, educational service units may purchase or lease-purchase real estate and may purchase, lease, or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to member school districts. The lease or purchase agreement for equipment shall not extend beyond 10 years. Any equipment purchased or lease-purchased by the ESU's shall not be resold to other governmental subdivisions, unless the equipment is no longer functional."

As amended above, the statute is somewhat ambigious. On the one hand it purports to grant educational service units the power to "purchase, lease, or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to member school districts" and on the other hand it states that "[a]ny equipment purchased or lease-purchased by the ESU's shall not be resold to other governmental subdivisions, unless the equipment is no longer functional." We also wish to advise you that an E & R amendment to L.B. 197 of 23 February 1973 would modify Senator Waldron's amendment. Consequently section 3 of L.B. 197, as of 23 February 1973, would read as follows:

> "79-2201.01. In order to carry out the purposes provided in section 79-2201, educational service units may purchase or lease-purchase real estate and may purchase, lease, or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to > member school districts. The lease or purchase agreement for equipment shall not extend beyond 10 years. Any equipment purchased or lease-purchased under the authority of this section shall not be resold to any other governmental subdivision unless it is no longer functional."

As amended above, the statute is also somewhat ambigious. On the one hand it purports to grant educational service units the power to "purchase or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to member school districts" and on the other hand it states that "[a]ny equipment purchased or lease-purchased under the authority of this section shall not be resold to any other governmental subdivision unless it is no longer functional." It could, of course, be argued that the phrase "any other governmental subdivision" refers to and means a governmental subdivision other than a school district. If that is the legislative intent, then section 3 of L.B. 197, as of 23 February 1973, could be construed to authorize educational service units to purchase, lease, or lease-purchase equipment necessary for providing services to member school districts but any such equipment could only be resold to member school districts and to no other governmental subdivision unless it is no longer functional. We suggest that this matter be clarified.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

March 2, 1973

Senator Maurice A. Kremer
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Kremer:

In your letter of February 27, 1973, you ask whether the provision of L. B. 332 allowing historical or special interest vehicles of an historical nature to be registered and license plates furnished for a flat fee of fifteen dollars without payment of any additional fee, tax or license violates the provisions of Article VIII, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution. We conclude that it does not.

L. B. 332 defines a historic or special interest vehicles. No minimum age is required for a vehicle to be classified as an historic or special interest vehicle. However, the provision of Section 2 of the bill, giving historic or special interest vehicles special treatment with respect to licensing and taxation applies only to such vehicles which are 20 years or more old at the time of making application for registration or transfer of title. This section provides that such a vehicle may be registered upon payment of a fee of $15.00 and furnished license plates of distinctive design in lieu of the usual license plates. This registration shall be valid while the vehicle is owned by the applicant without payment of any additional fee, tax, or license.

Section 3 of the bill provides that such vehicles may be used for the same purposes as other motor vehicles of the same type except that such vehicles may not be used to transport passengers for hire, with some exceptions spelled out in the bill.

Article VIII, Section 1 of the Constitution provides that taxes shall be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property, and your question is whether L. B. 332 violates this provision. In spite of the language requiring uniform and proportionate taxation, numerous exceptions have been added to Article VIII by amendments. One of these is found in Article VIII, Section 2, which provides that the Legislature may classify personal property in such manner as it sees fit, and may exempt any of such classes, or may exempt all personal property from taxation. L. B. 332, in effect, exempts historic and special interest vehicles over 20 years of age which are registered in the manner prescribed by the act from ad valorem taxation, since the registration fee prescribed by the act is in no sense an advalorem tax. Since the Legislature is authorized to classify personal property for purposes of taxation, the basic question is whether the class described as historic or special interest vehicles over 20 years of age is a reasonable one, since it is basic constitutional law that it is competent for the Legislature to classify for purposes of legislation, if the classification rests on some reason of public policy, some substantial difference of situation or circumstances, that would naturally suggest the justice or expediency of diverse legislation with respect to the objects to be classed. See Shear v. County Board of Commissioners of Rock County, 187 Neb. 849, 195 N. W. 2d 151.

We are not prepared to say that is unreasonable for the Legislature to classify the types of motor vehicles covered by the act differently from other motor vehicles, or other personal property. Most motor vehicles are kept and used for utilitarian purposes of transportation, while the vehicles in question would, for the most part, be kept as hobbies and for showing to the public. The requirement that such vehicles be more than 20 years of age provides some protection against abuse of the registration provision, so that few attempts would be made to register a vehicle which was to be used for transportation as an historic or special interest vehicle. No doubt the argument has been made that it is important that some samples of such vehicles be preserved for future generations for historic purposes. Under these circumstances, we cannot say that classifying such vehicles for purposes of taxation differently from other motor vehicles or from other personal property has no rational basis. Since the Legislature has been given authority to classify personal property for purposes of taxation, we therefore conclude that L. B. 332 is not in violation of the uniformity provision of Article VIII, Section 1 of the Constitution.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER

March 6, 1973

Senator Terry Carpenter
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Carpenter:

In your letter of March 1, 1973, you ask whether state building and loan laws will take precedence over federal legislation and prevail over federal law when concerned with federally chartered savings and loan associations, and whether the State of Nebraska can currently pass new laws which will govern federally chartered institutions as well as state chartered institutions.

In answer to your first question, state law cannot take precedence over federal law pertaining to federal savings and loan associations. Federal savings and loan associations are created by federal statutes, and are subject to federal regulations and to supervision and control by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. In the case of Ochs v. Washington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, 215 N. E. 2d 485, 17 N. Y. 2d 82, 268 N. Y. S. 2d 294 (1966), the court held that since a federal savings and loan association was an instrumentality of the United States, no New York statute was directly applicable to the supervision and control of its internal management, but that such a federal association was subject to the law of the state unless it conflicted with a federal law, policy or preemption by Congress. There is therefore no question that, in case state law conflicts with federal law dealing with the control and management of federal savings and loan associations, federal law will prevail.

It is difficult to give a categorical answer to your second question in general terms. It is possible that the state might pass some laws which might, at least indirectly affect federal savings and loan associations in areas which have not been preempted by the federal government. Before we could give you a definite answer to your question, we would have to look at specific legislation, to see whether it was in such a non-preempted area. We believe, however, that such areas are rather small, as the Federal Home Loan Bank Board pretty thoroughly supervises and controls the operations of such associations. There are some areas in which the federal act defers to state statutes, as for example, in 12 U. S. C. A. section 1464, in which the federal associations are authorized to invest in or lend money to business development credit corporations in the same manner and to the same extent as the statutes of the state in which the association is located authorize a state association to invest in or lend money to such corporations. Also, the federal regulations provide that the board will permit branches and mobile facilities by federal savings and loan associations if the state law or state practice permits state chartered associations to establish branches in the state. To this extent, federal associations are indirectly controlled by state law.

You will note, however, that the examples we have given in the preceding paragraph are dependent upon express federal statutory law or regulation. As a general proposition, we can say that the answer to your second question, whether the state can pass a new law which will govern federally chartered institutions as well as state chartered institutions is that it cannot.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 7, 1973

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 14 and its companion LB 14A, the sixty thousand one hundred twenty one dollar spending measure, with my objections and without my signature.

Section One provides that the Superintendent of the Nebraska State Patrol shall employ three attorneys to assist County Attorneys in the "preparation and prosecution" of cases. In theory, I believe it to be improper to have enforcement and investigative personnel directly involved in prosecution. That is a legitimate function of duly elected prosecuting attorneys separate from investigative officers.

I believe that the Attorney General should be involved in such matters and would support and increase in the Attorney General's budget for one attorney under that department to furnish information to the Patrol and other law enforcement personnel in the state on drug enforcement matters. As you know, such a practice is currently followed with Deputy Attorney Generals assigned to departments of Roads, Welfare, and the Liquor Commission. It seems consistent to keep such authority centered under the Attorney General.

LB 14 provides a great deal of unnecessary language regarding duties of the Attorney General which are already spelled out in existing statutes.

There is a suggestion that such language was deemed necessary because of the change in the name of the Railway Commission to the Public Service Commission. If that was the intent of that portion of LB 14, then it would be better to enact a simply stated statute to accomplish that end.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> We feel a sense of the history and heritage of this House each time we stand for prayer, O Lord, our God: so many others have stood here where we now stand. So much has transpired here before we came along. And we know that some of the things we now do will also become part of that continuing stream of history--destined, perhaps, to be remembered even when our names are long since forgotten. Inspire us day by day, O God, by an understanding of the history of which we are a part. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

Senator David H. Stahmer
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Stahmer:

You have inquired as to the holding of the court in School Dist. No. 54 v. School Dist. of Omaha, with specific reference to whether or not the court ruled in that case on the constitutionality of School District No. 66 of Douglas County and whether or not the holding in that case would support the proposition that L. B. 300 is or is not constitutional.

School Dist. No. 54 v. School Dist. of Omaha is reported at 171 Neb. 769, 107 N. W. 2d 744 (1961). The purpose of that action was for an accounting of money collected by the municpal court of the city of Omaha as a result of prosecutions brought therein for violation of the general laws of the State and whether the same should be distributed to all the school districts of Douglas County or should it be distributed only to the school districts in the city of Omaha. The court did not discuss the constitutionality or the organization of School District No. 66 of Douglas County in that case. Nor would the holding in that case, in our opinion, support the proposition that L. B. 300 is or is not constitutional.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER

Senator Roland A. Luedtke
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

You have asked our opinion concerning the possible effect that L. B. 261 would have on the exercise of the pardoning power by the Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State granted in Article IV, Section 13 of the Constitution of the State of Nebraska. L. B. 261 provides that, upon conviction, certain classes of narcotics offenders are to receive a mandatory life sentence, without possibility of parole. The issue is then whether a life sentence issued under such a law would prevent the Board of Pardons from commuting it to a term of years.

Because the Board of Pardons is granted the power to grant pardons and commutations by the Constitution, legislation cannot impair the exercise of that power, either directly or indirectly, and therefore if L. B. 261 were to be enacted into law, it would not restrict the pardoning power of the board over this class of offenders. In our opinion the language of the constitutional provision fixes absolutely the power to pardon in the Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State. The pertinent language appears in Article IV, Section 13:

> ". . . . The Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State, sitting as a board, shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures and to grant respites, reprieves, pardons, or commutations in all cases of conviction for offenses against the laws of the state, except treason and cases of impeachment. The Board of Parole may advise the Governor, Attorney General and Secretary of State on the merits of any application for remission, respite, reprieve, pardon or commutation but such advice shall not be binding on them. The Governor shall have power to suspend the execution of the sentence imposed for treason until the case can be reported to the Legislature at its next session, when the Legislature shall either grant a pardon or commute the sentence or direct the execution, or grant a further reprieve."

Except for the express restriction concerning treason and impeachment the grant of pardoning power to the board is absolute, and such unlimited language has been historically so construed. A leading case is Ex parte Garland, 4 Wall. (U. S.) 333, 18 L. Ed. 366. in that case the United States Supreme Court held that once the President of the United States had granted a full pardon in the Civil War that Congress could not abridge that power by legislation requiring attorneys who desired to practice before federal courts to swear that they had never borne arms against the United States:

> "The Constitution provides that the President 'shall have power to grant reprieves and pardons for offenses against the United States except in cases of impeachment.' Art. II. Section 2.
> "The power thus conferred is unlimited, with the exception stated. It extends to every offense known to the law, and may be exercised at any time after its commission, either before legal proceedings are taken, or during their pendency, or after conviction and judgment. This power of the President is not subject to legislative control. Congress can neither limit the effect of his pardon, nor exclude from its exercise any class of offenders. The benign prerogative of merch reposed in him cannot be fettered by any legislative restrictions."

In 1949 legislation was introduced into the Nebraska Legislature which attempted directly to impose upon the Board of Pardons the condition that no life termer might be considered for executive clemency before he had served at least 20 calendar years of his sentence. At that time Article IV, Section 13 of the Constitution contained a provision which was susceptible of the interpretation that the Legislature might prescribe limitations upon the pardoning power. The pertinent language was as follows:

> "Said board, or a majority thereof, shall have power to remit fines and forfeitures and to grant commutations, pardons and paroles after conviction and judgment, under such conditions as may be prescribed by law, for any offenses committed against the criminal laws of this state except treason and cases of impeachment." (Emphasis supplied)

In Opinions of Attorney General 1949-1950, page 100, the issue of whether the Legislature thereby was granted the power to limit the pardoning power was considered, and rejected.

> "We think it plain that the people did not vest in the Legislature the power to determine upon what conditions the power to pardon should come into existence. That the Legislature may, under such conditions as it may prescribe, regulate the exercise of the power we think equally plain, but there is a necessary limitation upon the power of the Legislature thus to prescribe rules. And we are of the opinion that the phrase 'under such conditions as may be prescirbed by law' refers simply to setting up the method of procedure under which the board would act. The conditions, however, cannot be such as, under pretense of regulation, divest the board of, or preclude its exercising, the constitutional power, itself. In the case of State v. Jenkins, 20 Wash. 78, 54 P. 765, the court in interpreting the phrase in the Washington Constitution 'under such regulations and restrictions as may be prescribed by law' said, 'The authority to regulate and restrict does not confer the power to abrogate the executive function of pardon.'
> "Those matters which the people have specifically confided to the board, the Legislature cannot, directly or indirectly, take from its control. . . ."

Modern case law on this subject demonstrates near unanimity of view.

It is our conclusion therefore that should L. B. 261 be enacted into law that the Board of Pardons may exercise in its discretion executive clemency toward the class of offenders which the act would touch.

Yours very truly,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER

COMMUNICATION

March 2, 1973

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature

State of Nebraska
State House
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

Thank you for sending me a copy of Legislative Resolution No. 11.

I am in complete disagreement with this resolution. With constant deficits facing us, it is either cut the cost of federal government, or increase taxes. Cuts are being made in over 100 federal grant programs and all across the board in all departments of government. I support cutbacks in federal expenditures, rather than increase taxes, but evidently the Nebraska Legislature, by this resolution, supports increased spending.

With best regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Dear Mr. Brown:

Dear Senators:

This is to inform your honorable body that I am changing my budget recommendations for the Department of Public Institutions on two areas and at the University Medical Center. The budget committee was informed of both of these changes this past Tuesday by Dr. Jack Anderson, the Director of the Public Institutions.

When the construction budget for institutions was prepared and my recommendations were made we had assumed that the normal enrollment pattern at the Youth Development Center at Kearney would continue. Since that time it has become obvious that the population is substantially declining and may continue to do so. In view of this trend I am deleting my recommendations for additional remodeling money until the enrollment stabilizes. There are present accomodations that have been remodeled for about 60 boys. It appears that this may be an adequate number for the future.

The second change in recommendations is at the Norfolk Regional Center. When Dr. Anderson became Director in December he began to review the decisions that had been made by the previous director. In doing so he discovered that the previous plan had called for razing of a majority of the patient care facilities at the Norfolk Regional Center. He brought this to my attention and recommended that only Buildings number 6 and 24 be razed and that the remaining facilities be continued. In addition, of course, once the new food service facility is completed there will be no need for the present kitchen and its associated storage and these can also be razed. I totally agree with his recommendation. The effect of these changes is to lower my construction recommendation by $229,600 at Kearney and by $66,600 at Norfolk.

At the Medical Center I am increasing my recommendation by $150,000 General Funds for the Children's Rehabilitation Institute. In my original budget I had recommended the $43,000 required by the University. As a result of Senator Savage's L.B. 102, I became aware of the great need for the multi-handicapped. As a result in addition to L.B. 102A, I am recommending the above amount. I feel that the University budget to take care of the needs of the multi-handicapped was not sufficient. In other areas their request was more than adequate.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) J. James Exon

Dear Senator:

My letter of January 8 to Col. Kruger, a copy of which went to you, accurately expresses my views on the use of legal advisors by the State Patrol, and I have found no reason to change that opinion since that time.

Col. James E. Kruger
Nebraska State Patrol

Dear Colonel:

The introduction of L. B. 14 in the present Session brings up a matter which I discussed at length last summer with Lt. Rowe. As you know, I was rather cool toward the approach used in the last Session on this subject, but as Lt. Rowe will tell you, I am very strongly in favor of the State Patrol having their own lawyers as legal advisors and would be glad to testify before a legislative committee to that effect. Full time legal advisors have become a practical necessity for larger law enforcement agencies. In "The Challenge of Crime in a Free Society", the President's Commission on Law Enforcement and Administration of Justice more than five years ago recommended that, "Every medium- and large-sized department should employ a skilled lawyer full time as its legal advisor." In addition, the American Bar Association project on Standards for Criminal Justice within the last few months has recommended the following:

> "7.12 Need for in-house police legal advisor.
> "Given the nature of the police function, police administrators should be provided with in-house police legal advisors who have the personal orientation and expertise necessary to equip them to play a major role in the planning and in the development and continual assessment of operating policies and training programs.
> "7.13 Relationship of legal advisor to police administrator.
> "In view of the important and sensitive nature of his role, a police legal advisor or the head of a police legal unit should report directly to the police administrator. The relationship of a police legal advisor to a police department should be analogous to that of house counsel to a corporation. The police legal advisor should provide independent legal advice based upon his full understanding of the police function and his legal expertise, and should anticipate as well as react to legal problems and needs.
> "7.14 Priority tasks for legal advisor.
> "Among the range of tasks that may be performed by police legal advisors, priority should be given to assisting police administrators in:
> > (i) formulating the types of administrative policies that are recommended in these standards;
> > (ii) developing law-related training programs pertinent to increased understanding of the nature of the police function, of departmental policies, of judicial trends and their rationale, and of the significant role of the police in preserving democratic processes;
> > (iii) formulating legislative programs and participating in the legislative process;
> > (iv) maintaining liaison with other criminal justice and municipal agencies on matters primarily relating to policy > formulation and policy review, and assessing the effectiveness of various agencies in responding to common legal problems, and

In addition to the foregoing, you have some specialized needs for a legal advisor. Your new Criminalistics Laboratory will soon be ready and this will greatly expand your work in the field of criminal evidence, and your technicians will be faced with expanded needs for legal guidance in the areas of gathering, preserving and interpreting evidence and in making certain that is is properly prepared for introduction in evidence. Also, you should be aware that a completely revised Code of Laws on Evidence is being prepared and will be introduced either at this Session of the Legislature or in the 1974 Session.

Within the next year or two a new Criminal Code very probably will go into effect in this State, and this will require that specialized legal services be readily available to you. Also, sixteen committees of volunteer lawyers are reviewing all of our criminal procedures in Nebraska, and the first of their bills will come before this Legislature.

There are many other areas in which you can use a competent legal advisor. One of these days I am going to want to quit preparing that weekly memorandum which I have prepared for the Bulletin each week for the last 8 or 10 years, and I think your man should prepare himself to take over that job.

I think you are using the wrong approach to solving your problem in L. B. 14. For reasons which follow, I recommend that you strike all of subsection (10) in section 1 of the bill, and then add a new section which provides: "The Nebraska State Patrol shall employ one or more legal advisors whose primary responsibility shall be the proper preparation and presentation for prosecution of illegal drug cases."

The way L. B. 14 is set up, your legal advisor would be under my direction and control, and that is not right. You are going to have to live with him, not me. You should be the one to supervise him, to fire him, and to fix his salary. Not me. You need a man on a permanent basis, and if he is an Assistant Attorney General he would have no assurance of continuity of employment. You should not provide in the statute that he is to "assist county attorneys in the preparation and prosecution of cases." Most prosecutors are opposed to police legal advisors, and you are simply waving a red flag when you put something like that right in the statute. If your man turns out to be good enough, they will ask for his help without a statute. Furthermore, good trial lawyers are a scarce and expensive commodity. If your man is good enough so that he can tip off a part time prosecutor about some of the problems he may encounter, your purpose will be served. And I might add the observation that in a majority of these cases the defense lawyer does a worse job than the prosecutor.

My observation over the past few years is that the real problems in drug cases is in acquiring the evidence in a lawful manner. The court decisions since June of 1961 have made the officer's job in gathering evidence a real headache. In drug cases, officers need help in two areas, and they always need it in a hurry. First is the decision on whether or not a search warrant is necessary or should be used. The second problem arises when it is decided that a search warrant should be used, because this requires one or more affidavits and our experience here in the office shows that there are more deficiencies in the affidavit procedure than anywhere else. Right now we get phone calls in which proposed affidavits are read to us, and frequently we can be quite helpful. If your man becomes proficient in this field, I am sure he will develop a large following among the law enforcement officers in this State who are trying to do something about the drug problem.

I do want to assure you that I will be glad to help in any way to obtain legal advisors for the Patrol. I have always worked very closely with your Criminal Division and have the highest regard for their work, and I want them to progress even more.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) Clarence A. H. Meyer

Honorable Richard D. Marvel
Member of the Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

You have requested our advice on a number of questions pertaining to appropriation bills and the Governor's disapproval or reduction of an item or items therein. Your questions and our answers thereto are set forth in order.

1.(a) If the Legislature is in Session and sends to the Governor an appropriation bill having passed with three-fifths vote of the Legislature, can the Governor, having chosen to reduce or disapprove items of appropriation, not return the bill for reconsideration by the Legislature?

Section 7 of Article IV provides:

> "* * *. No appropriations shall be made in excess of the recommendation contained in such budget including any amendment the Governor may make thereto unless by three-fifths vote of the Legislature, and such excess so approved shall be subject to veto by the Governor."

Obviously, even though the Legislature approves an increase in the Governor's budget by a three-fifths or larger affirmative vote, the excess is still subject to veto by the Governor.

The veto provisions and requirements are contained in Section 15, Article IV, Constitution of Nebraska. This provides that the Governor may disapprove or reduce any item or items of appropriation contained in bills passed by the Legislature, and the item or items so disapproved shall be stricken therefrom, and the items reduced shall remain as reduced unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed in cases of disapproval of bills. This section further provides if the Governor approves a bill he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become law, but if he does not approve or reduces any item or items of appropriations, he shall return it with his objections to the Legislature, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider the bill. Any bill which is not returned by the Governor within five days (Sunday excepted) after it has been presented to him, unless the Legislature by their adjournment prevents its return, shall become a law in like manner as if he had signed it. If the Legislature by adjournment prevents its return, then the bill must be filed with the Governor's objections in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after the adjournment or it becomes a law. Assuming that the Legislature has not adjourned, then the bill must be returned to the Legislature for their reconsideration.

1.(b) You then ask "If the Legislature passes an appropriation bill, sends it to the Governor, and then adjourns prior to the five-day limit for the Governor's consideration, what is the disposition of that appropriation bill if the Governor chooses to reduce or not approve items of appropriation?

As stated in the answer to Question No. 1(a) and if the Legislature has passed the bill by a three-fifths vote, then the Governor must file the bill with his objections in the office of the Secretary of State within five days after such adjournment or it becomes a law as passed by the Legislature. If he files the bill with objections in the office of the Secretary of State in time, then the bill becomes law with the disapproved items eliminated and the reduced items in the amounts as reduced.

2. You refer to Article IV, Section 15, Constitution of Nebraska, and ask "considering the general characteristics of past appropriation bills, define and give examples, if possible, of what 'item or items of appropriation' could mean."

In Commonwealth v. Dodson, 11 S. E. 2d 120, 176 Va. 281, the Virginia Supreme Court stated that an "item" in an appropriation bill is an indivisible sum of money dedicated to a stated purpose. In State ex rel.

Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 176 N. W. 2d 920, the court referred to and noted certain appropriation items. It also referred to five appropriation items, one of which was, for example, land acquisition (Medical Center, University of Nebraska) in the amount of one million dollars. This is certainly a clear example of an item of appropriation. It has been held that the power to veto "item" does not carry with it the power to strike out conditions or restrictions. Commonwealth v. Dodson, 11 S. E. 2d 120, 176 Va. 281. Under a Massachusetts constitutional provision which authorized the Governor to disapprove or reduce items or parts of items in any bill appropriating money the fact that the section relates solely to appropriation bills in conjunction with the word reduce shows that the expression "items or parts of items" refers to separable fiscal units and under such section, power is conferred on the Governor to reduce the sum of money appropriated or to disapprove the appropriation entirely, but no power is conferred on him to change the terms of an appropriation except by reducing its amount. In re Opinion of the Justices, 2 N. E. 2d 789, 294 Mass. 616.

3. You call our attention to Article IV, Section 15 of the Constitution which states: "The Governor may disapprove or reduce any item or items of appropriation contained in bills passed by the Legislature, and the item or items so disapproved shall be stricken therefrom, and the items reduced shall remain as reduced unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed in cases of disapproval of bills." You then ask if "the underlined portion can mean that if the Governor strikes an item, it cannot be restored by three-fifths of the members voting to pass the bill, notwithstanding the Governor's objections?

While this language does appear to be somewhat ambiguous, we are of the opinion that either the disapproval or reduction of any item or items of appropriation is subject to reconsideration by the Legislature which may, by the necessary affirmative vote, override the Governor's veto. We have reviewed the report of the Constitutional Revision Commission and the proceedings leading to the adoption of this amendment in the Legislature and the statement to the voters in reaching this conclusion.

4. You ask "If the Governor objects to an item in the appropriation bill and thus returns the bill to the Legislature for reconsideration, does the Legislature vote on the entire bill for purposes of passage notwithstanding the objections of the Governor or is it necessary to vote on each objected item?" Section 15, Article IV, provides in part:

> "* * *. If he approves he shall sign it, and thereupon it shall become a law, but if he does not approve or reduces any item or items of appropriations, he shall return it with his objections to the Legislature, which shall enter the objections at large upon its journal, and proceed to reconsider the bill. * * *."

We note also that this section states that the items disapproved are to be stricken from the bill and the items reduced shall remain as reduced "unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed in cases of disapproval of bills."

Insofar as applicable, the constitutional provision involved provides that "every bill" passed by the Legislature must be presented to the Governor and if he approves it he signs it. If he does not approve or reduces any item or items of appropriation, "he shall return it" with his objections to the Legislature which then proceeds "to reconsider the bill." "If then three-fifths of the members elected agree to pass the same it shall become a law, notwithstanding the objections of the Governor." We note that the final section reads: "The Governor may disapprove or reduce any item or items of appropriation contained in bills passed by the Legislature, and the item or items so disapproved shall be stricken therefrom, and the items reduced shall remain as reduced unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed in cases of disapproval of bills." You will note that the bill must be presented to the Governor; and the Legislature, if any objections are received, proceeds to reconsider the bill. If the necessary majority approves, then it (the bill) shall become a law. Finally, the Governor has the authority to disapprove or reduce any item or items of appropriation contained "in bills" passed by the Legislature, and the item or items so disapproved shall be stricken therefrom and the items reduced shall remain as reduced "unless repassed in the manner herein prescribed in cases of disapproval of bills."

As pointed out by the court in State ex rel. Meyer v. State Board of Equalization and Assessment, 185 Neb. 490, 495, 176 N. W. 2d 920, an appropriation is a law and may be adopted only through a bill. A bill is not passed until it receives the necessary affirmative vote on final passage. An appropriation bill is no different in this respect than in any other bill. The court has specifically held that to be effective as to an item increasing the amount proposed for any department in the Governor's budget, the bill must receive a two-thirds vote on final passage. We think the language of the court in that case is equally applicable to the override of the Governor's veto under the conditions you have outlined in your question. The Legislature proceeds to reconsider the bill containing the disapproved and reduced items; and if three-fifths of the members elected agree to pass the bill, it becomes a law notwithstanding the objections of the Governor.

5. Your final question refers to the language in Section 7 of Article IV which reads:

> "* * *. No appropriations shall be made in excess of the recommendation contained in such budget including any amendment the Governor may make thereto unless by three-fifths vote of the Legislature, and such excess so approved shall be subject to veto by the Governor."

You ask if this language means that the Governor cannot amend his budget bill without a three-fifths vote of the Legislature and whether or not each amendment as submitted by the Governor be voted on separately and at what point must the amendment receive a three-fifths vote?

We might point out that once the Governor has submitted his budget bill and it is introduced in the Legislature he alone cannot amend the bill. Any amendment to the bill must be made by the Legislature in accordance with their rules. Certainly, the Governor, by message, can submit suggested amendments to the budget bill, and review of the Minutes of the Constitutional Revision Commission and the floor debate on this subject reveals that this provision was intended to restrict appropriations to those recommended in the budget including any amendments the Governor himself might make thereto with a three-fifths vote of the Legislature required to exceed the amount suggested by the Governor. Thus, if amendments were made to the budget bill, at the request of the Governor by a formal message to the Legislature, then such amendments would not need a three-fifths vote of the Legislature but such a three-fifths vote would be needed to increase any amounts contained in his budget or the changes he recommended. The intent of the Constitutional Revision Commission as evidenced in its report dated September 24, 1970; the testimony before the legislative committee considering this amendment; and the report of that committee together with the floor debate and the explanatory statements to be included on the ballot as same appear on page 12 of "A Summary of Constitutional Amendments Proposed by the Nebraska Legislature," "Prepared by the Nebraska Legislative Council, March, 1972," supports this conclusion.

Yours very truly,

LEGISLATIVE JOURNAL

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Tuesday, March 13, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

Prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> We give thanks for nature's beauty shining through a spring-like day; for the spiritual illumination of this season of Lent now advancing toward Easter, and for all else that helps us to look upon the brighter side of life.
> So often we encounter things that are not beautiful, and we are tempted to forget. We need to be reminded that this is our Father's world, and that for every act of hatred committed by man against man, there are thousands of acts of love performed.
> When life grows dark, and the way ahead becomes uncertain, lift our thoughts to see Divine brightness reflected in a good world, and the love of God reflected in the lives of men and women and children. Somehow let a bit of the glory of this day and of this season rub off on each member of this House. Amen.

FORTY-NINTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Thursday, March 15, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by Rev. Rolf Langendoerfer, Student Chaplain at Bryan Hospital, from Southern Germany.

> Lord, our heavenly Father,
> We come to you to begin this day's work in your name. We thank you for the gifts you have granted us, the ability to make free and good decisions, the promise of forgiveness and the chance of a new beginning where we have failed and where we might fail. Let us begin this day with the question in mind what you want us to do.
> We ask you to help these men and women to see their responsibility for the people of this state, to make decisions for the well-being of all citizens. Let us be aware of the needs of the people who are not powerful and verbal enough to speak for themselves, the poor, underprivileged, the weak and sick. Let them find speakers and representatives in this house.
> Where decisions have to be made, there are differences in opinion, there is struggle and fight for every ones own position. Help that these differences do not overshadow the issues and do not break people apart and create enemies. Help us all to respect each other as persons and co-workers, to be in dialogue with each other and able to listen to each other.
> Lord, help us to be creative, to take risks, give strength and courage, so that we can be good householders of your creation. Amen.

RESOLUTION

Introduced by Carpenter, 48th District.

RESOLVED, By the Legislature of the State of Nebraska, That the Legislature, hereby and pursuant to Article V of the Constitution of the United States, makes application to the Congress of the United States to call a convention for the proposing of the following amendment to the Constitution of the United States:

ARTICLE

No student shall be assigned to nor compelled to attend any particular public school on account of race, religion, color or national origin; and be it further

RESOLVED, That this application by the Legislature of the State of Nebraska constitutes a continuing application in accordance with Article V of the Constitution of the United States until at least two-thirds of the legislatures of the several states have made similar applications pursuant to

Article V, but if Congress proposes an amendment to the Constitution identical with that contained in this resolution before January 1, 1974, this application for a state application shall no longer be of any force or effect; and be it further

RESOLVED, That since this method of proposing amendments to the Constitution has never been completed to the point of calling a convention and no interpretation of the power of the states in the exercise of this right has ever been made by any court or any qualified tribunal, if there be such, and since the exercise of the power is a matter of basic sovereign rights and the interpretation thereof is primarily in the sovereign government making such exercise and since the power to use such right in full also carries the power to use such right in part the Legislature of the State of Nebraska intreprets Article V to mean that if two-thirds of the states make application for a convention to propose an identical amendment to the Constitution for ratification with a limitation that such amendment be the only matter before it, that such convention would have power only to propose the specified amendment and would be limited to such proposal and would not have power to vary the text thereof nor would it have power to propose other amendments on the same or different propositions; and be it further

RESOLVED, That a duly attested copy of this resolution be immediately transmitted to the Secretary of the Senate of the United States, the Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, to each member of the Congress from Nebraska and to each House of each State Legislature in the United States.

Mr. Carpenter requested the Resolution be referred to a committee. No objections. So ordered.

Dear Senator Curtis:

I am replying to your letter of February 2 relating to regulations and reporting requirements of the Environmental Protection Agency published in the Federal Register, under the title "Proposed Forms and Guidelines for Acquisition of Information From Owners and Operators of Point Sources", with which you enclose a resolution of the Nebraska State Legislature dated January 5, 1973. The resolution addresses itself particularly to the regulations and reporting requirements as they relate to farmers.

This Office has reviewed the reporting requirements associated with the regulations as required by the Federal Reports Act and has indicated no objection to the use of "National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System–Application for Permit to Discharge–Short Form" for use by Municipal Treatment Plants, Manufacturing Establishments, and Services, Wholesale and Retail Trade and Other Establishments" and "Monitoring Reports" for use by permit holders.

The proposed "Application–Short Form" for use by agricultural procedures has not been approved for use. It is my understanding that the Environmental Protection Agency plans an extended review of this proposed application form. At such time as the Agency develops an application form which it believes to be necessary, it will submit the proposed application for clearance by this Office under the Federal Reports Act. You may be sure that any request for clearance of a revised application will be most carefully reviewed.

If I can be of further help to you in this matter, please let me know.

Sincerely,

(Signed) Frederic V. Malek
Deputy Director

March 12, 1973

Honorable Carl T. Curtis
United States Senate
Washington, D. C. 20510

Dear Senator Curtis:

Thank you for sending us a copy of the comments you made to the Office of Management and Budget regarding the proposed forms and guidelines for the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System (NPDES) as it applies to agriculture.

With regard to the Nebraska State Legislature's Resolution 6, I would first like to explain that the NPDES will not apply to "all classes" of agricultural prooducers. The definition of "point source" has been widely misinterpreted, however we intend to clarify this matter by reproposing agricultural discharge regulations which clearly indicate that general growing and farming operations are not included in the permit program. We expect that the program's agricultural coverage will be generally limited to the larger irrigation and confined animal feeding operations, and commercial fish production facilities having a continuous discharge. Further, the new proposal, which should be ready for publication in the Federal Register by early March, will include a revised permit application form which does not request data on fertilizers or pesticides.

I will be happy to send you a copy of the Federal Register as soon after publication as it is available. In the meantime, I hope I have adequately explained our present thinking.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) John R. Quarles, Jr.
Assistant Administrator for Enforcement and General Counsel

Tuesday, March 20, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> O Lord our God: even as we dash madly to meet our deadlines, remind us that all of life is a solemn trust – that no part of life is without significance – that every moment has its very special meaning. Help us to understand that because we represent others here, we are stewards for them both of time and of life. May we count ourselves successful stewards not in what we are able to keep for ourselves of life's blessings, but in what we succeed in making more available to others. This is the way the Master went; should not the servant tread it still! Amen.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

March 19, 1973

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State House
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 13 and LB 13A without my signature and with my objections.

These acts, authorizing an additional $216,000 expenditure of funds, are unnecessary and ignore the most adequate expenditures in this field in my budget, totaling an additional $284,037 already submitted to the Legislature in my budget message which is under consideration by the Appropriations Committee with later review by the entire Legislature.

The promiscuous and ever increasing tendency to spend huge sums of tax dollars through "A" bills should be kept within due bounds. If this trend is allowed to proceed without reasonable curtailment, the Legislature is, in effect, bypassing the customary and more thoughtful procedure of careful study and review by your Appropriations Committee of expenditures and their efforts to establish priorities within the framework of existing revenues.

I recognize that it takes courage to act and vote against every "do-gooder" piece of legislation that someone dreams up. Unfortunately, there is an old convienent political axiom that cautions against voting "no" on bills cloaked in the garb of "motherhood." I am for mothers and against the illicit drug pushers, but I suggest that such criteria is no sound reason to accept LB 13 or LB 13A, and I enlist your courageous support accordingly.

While illegal drugs remain a tremendous problem in our entire society and in Nebraska, we should recognize that we are already acting responsibly.

With your help, we have drastically expanded our efforts in drug enforcement.

We added six investigators in 1971, ten more in 1972, and I have recommended eight more this year, including six investigators, one chemist and one criminologist.

We are able to employ Federal Crime Commission funds for such needed personnel as I have outlined. This is not possible, as I hope Senator Schmit will explain, if you enact these measures, despite his attempts to secure such financing.

If your honorable body will agree with me that LB 13 and LB 13A are not necessary and adopt my proposals, we will enjoy a total force available in the drug criminal area in the State Patrol of 28, including a criminologist and a chemist, in addition to the three attorneys you approved over my veto.

In addition to the 28 man force that I have mentioned primarily totally committed to drug investigation, we have an additional force of general criminal investigators, if my recommendations are followed, of 20 which could be employed also as needed at the direction of the Governor through the Patrol Chief.

This is sufficient to do the job for the present, and we can be assured of an aggressive and sound state commitment in this vital area.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) J. James Exon
Governor

March 20, 1973

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker,
and Members of the Legislature
State House
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Mr. President and Senators:

I return herewith LB 453 without my signature and with my objections.

LB 453 is a further step in the wrong direction because it abrogates the people's right to vote on issues that under existing law is reserved exclusively to them.

It is my understanding that this legislation was introduced to correct a situation for only one community.

However, I would call your attention to the fact that in so doing, you have passed a law that could and undoubtedly would have a far-reaching impact clear across the state in regard to increased local budgets and taxation.

I believe that the matter of authorizing purchase and construction of local facilities should be left in the hands of the voters under present statutes.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) J. James Exon

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

March 20, 1973

Senator E. Thome Johnson
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Johnson:

You have asked whether valid legislation can be passed, taxing motor vehicles on a twelve month, rather than calendar year, basis. You further ask whether such legislation could provide that the unused portion of the tax on that vehicle, if it was sold before the expiration date of the period for which taxes had been paid, could be refunded to the taxpayer. We can see no constitutional reason why this could not be done.

Article VIII, Section 1 of the Nebraska Constitution provides in part:

> "* * *. Taxes shall be levied by valuation uniformly and proportionately upon all tangible property and franchises, except that the Legislature may provide a different method of taxing motor vehicles * * *."

In State ex rel Meyer v. Story, 173 Neb. 741, 114 N. W. 2d 769, the Nebraska Supreme Court, citing Boyd Motor Company v. County of Box Butte, 159 Neb. 514, 67 N. W. 2d 774, held that the above constitutional provision authorized motor vehicles to be placed in a separate class, but that the people who owned motor vehicles could not be divided into two classes. In view of the very broad discretion given to the Legislature with respect to taxation, except as expressly limited by the Constitution, we can see no particular reason why the Legislature, in the taxation of motor vehicles, is limited to a calendar year period. The only real question, then is whether a provision making the taxes on motor vehicles payable at varying times of the year constitutes discrimination among the class of motor vehicle owners. We do not believe that a provision that motor vehicle taxes are payable for a twelve month period beginning with the date of registration of the motor vehicle, and payable on the same date each succeeding year thereafter, constitutes discrimination among taxpayers. As a matter of fact, under the provisions of Sections 77-1240.01 and 77-1240.02, the initial payments of taxes on motor vehicles are made at various times of the year, depending upon the date of initial registration of the vehicle. The only difference under your proposal would be that the taxes would be paid for a full twelve month period, rather than simply for the balance of that calendar year. We can see no particular significance in this difference.

With respect to the propriety of a refund of a portion of the taxes when the vehicle is disposed of before the expiration of the period for which taxes have been paid, no significant difference appears between the situation you inquire about and that which exists under the present statutes. Section 77-1240.03 now provides for credit or refund of taxes based upon the unexpired months remaining in the registration year at the time of transfer of ownership of the motor vehicle. As a matter of fact, that section could remain substantially unchanged under the system you propose.

You understand that in rendering this opinion, we are not looking at any specific legislation, but are simply discussing the general power of the Legislature to enact legislation along the general lines you have outlined. There may be practical difficulties with respect to such a system, which we have not considered. We are simply saying that, in our opinion, valid legislation could be drafted to accomplish the results you have inquired about.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

WHEREAS, the sweeping judgment of the United States Supreme Court in the Texas and Georgia abortion cases expressly deprived the unborn of legal and constitutional protection during their gestation; and

WHEREAS, such judicial holding condones the destruction of an entire class of live human beings; and

WHEREAS, in states in which abortion laws have recently been relaxed or repealed, professional medical ethics and respect for unborn human life has proved to be wholly inadequate for the reasonable protection of the lives of the unborn; and

WHEREAS, a legal threat to the right of life of any individual member of a society imperials the right to life of every other member of that society; and

WHEREAS, human life in all stages is entitled to the protection of the laws and may not be abridged by act of any court or legislature or by any judicial interpretation of the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the issue is of such great magnitude – the extent to which human life itself is protected under the Constitution; and

WHEREAS, the Legislature of this state believes it to be in the best interest of the people of the United States that an amendment to the Constitution of the United States be adopted to protect unborn human lives.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MEMBERS OF THE EIGHTY-THIRD LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA, FIRST SESSION:

1. That the Congress of the United States take appropriate action to adopt a Constitutional Amendment that will guarantee the explicit protection of all unborn human life by extending the same constitutional rights, including due process of law, which apply to the unborn in the same manner and to the same extent as all other citizens of the United States, and will guarantee that no human life will be denied protection of law or deprived of life on account of age, sickness, stage of development, or condition of dependency or wantedness.
2. COMMUNICATION

Acknowledged receipt of Senate Resolution 493 from the State of Rhode Island regarding "Meatless Day".

RETIREMENT SYSTEMS REPORT

March 23, 1973

TO THE MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE:

This is a report by the Retirement Systems Committee relative to the following approved motion by the Legislature made by Senator George Syas: "I move that the Retirement Committee review the law pertaining to the Retirement Program of State Senators with the possibility of bringing a court suit."

The Retirement Committee held a meeting with Mr. Ralph Gillan of the Attorney General's office, with members of the Public Employees Retirement Board, and with Senator George Syas.

Senator Syas stated:

(1) That it was the intent of the Legislature that State Senators were to be included in a retirement program with other state employees when the law became effective in 1964.

(2) That the motion approved by the Legislative Council to the effect that the Public Employees Retirement Board return the Senator's share of the retirement withholdings with interest, should not have been considered effective because it was not affirmed by the Legislature while it was in session and the Board did not pay interest on the money as requested.

(3) That in his judgement the courts would find the retirement program for State Senators constitutional as was so determined of the Retirement System for Judges who are also elected officials.

(4) The retirement program for Senators should be reinstated.

Senator Syas recommended that the Legislature pass a Resolution initiating a friendly lawsuit to determine the constitutionality of including State Senators in a retirement program whereby both the employees' and employers' contributions would be considered as a portion of the retirement program.

A member of the PERB replied that the money was returned without interest because of the Attorney General's opinion. He said that the Senators were not entitled to the employers contributions because they represented an addition to their salary which was prohibited in the Constitution and that interest could not be paid because it cannot be paid unless specifically authorized by statute and there is a question if a law could be enacted in this regard and be constitutional.

The Attorney General said that if PERB had not accepted the advice of the Attorney General they may be personally liable if the retirement system were found for Senators unconstitutional and if any of the state's retirement contributions had been paid out.

The Director of PERB said no Senators were receiving any retirement benefits, implying that so far no liability had to this date been created and there would not be unless the state's share was paid out.

The Attorney General felt that the Legislature had the right to authorize expenditures for a friendly lawsuit. It could be done by Resolution. It would not be necessary to reinstate the retirement program to test the constitutionality of the retirement system for state Senators.

The Attorney General didn't know of any legal way the Board could accept a reinstatement of the retirement system for Senators.

The Attorney General also said that under no circumstances could the retirement program be constitutional for an elected official during his term of office when the retirement program was first put into effect.

Obviously, only the court could determine if inclusion of the Senators in the retirement program were constitutional after that.

A question arose as to where the state matching funds went that were not returned to the Senators? The answer was, it was returned to the state.

Another question was, where did the interest from the Senators contributions go? The answer was the interest was used to fund prior service benefits for other state employees.

Another question was how much interest was lost by Senators with greatest length of service? The answer was $97.25 for the Senators contributions and $277.10 on the employers contributions or a total of $374.35 for those Senators in the Legislature since 1964 provided the Senator's participation were constitutional. The total interest lost by all the Legislators' amounted to $1700.00. I have calculated the approximate amount of interest on the employers share and it is about $4800.00. This makes a possible total of $6500.00, the maximum employee – employer dollars involved.

If a friendly lawsuit were to be brought it could probably be against PERB or it could be brought by an individual against PERB.

The committee was at a loss to determine exactly what grounds could be used for filing a lawsuit. It was felt that the loss of image of the Legislature may be greater than the dollar value of the potential winnings.

Therefore a motion was made as follows, "The committee has thoroughly reviewed the entire matter including a review with the Attorney General and Senator Syas and we feel that it would be inappropriate to take any further action."

The motion was approved by Senators, Whitney, Hasebroock, Goodrich and Luedtke; with Senators Marvel and F. Lewis not voting because of absence.

1. Strike sections 1 to 8 and insert the following new sections 1 to 7:

"Section 1. It is the intent and purpose of this act to establish a uniform procedure to be used in acquiring private property for a public purpose by the State of Nebraska and its political subdivisions and by all privately-owned public utility corporations and common carriers which have been granted the power of eminent domain; Provided, that this act shall not apply to:

(1) Gas and water transmission and distribution pipe lines and their appurtenances, common carrier pipe lines and their appurtenances or to public utilities when acquiring property for a proposed project involving the acquisition of rights or interests in ten or fewer separately-owned tracts or when the acquisition is within the corporate limits of any city or village;

(2) The proposed location of electric pole lines or underground lines with a voltage capacity of less than thirty-four thousand five hundred volts;

(3) Counties and municipalities which acquire land for widening or straightening a road or highway;

(4) Common carriers subject to regulation by the Federal Railroad Administration of the United States Department of Transportation; or

(5) The Department of Roads when acquiring property for highway construction or improvements.

Sec. 2. As used in this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Agency shall include the State of Nebraska and any department, board, commission, or similar entity thereof which possesses the authority to acquire property either with or without the use of eminent domain, any political subdivision of the State of Nebraska, and any privately-owned public utility corporation or common carrier which possesses the authority to acquire property through the use of eminent domain; and

(2) Property shall include any right or interest in real property, including, but not limited to, easements but shall not include easements for public utilities located adjacent to and within ten feet of a public road right-of-way.

Sec. 3. Any agency which proposes to acquire private property for a public purpose shall give notice of such proposed acquisition at least ninety days before beginning negotiations for such acquisition. The notice shall be directed to each owner of property over or across which any right or interest is to be acquired, and shall be deemed properly given if delivered personally or mailed by registered or certified mail addressed to the property owner and to the address shown on the tax records in the office of the county treasurer; Provided, that such notice shall be sufficient if given to the administrator or executor of the estate of a deceased person, the trustee of a trust estate, the guardian of the estate of a minor or incompetent person, or a conservator. The notice shall describe the property proposed to be acquired and, where the acquisition involves a highway, power line, or similar project, shall include a map showing the proposed route to be followed by the project.

Sec. 4. After giving notice pursuant to section 3 of this act, the agency shall hold a public hearing on the proposed project and acquisition at least thirty days before beginning negotiations for such acquisition.

Where the proposed acquisition consists of property from more than one county, the hearing shall be held in a central location. Where the proposed acquisition is county-wide in scope, the hearing shall be held at the county seat. Where the proposed acquisition involves a lesser area, the hearing shall be held in a location convenient to the property to be acquired.

At the hearing, the agency shall explain the nature of and necessity for the project for which it seeks to acquire property, the reasons for selecting the particular location or route, and the right of each owner of property to be represented by an attorney and to negotiate and accept or reject the offer of damages which will be sustained by the proposed acquisition, and the right to require that such damages be determined pursuant to the procedures for acquisition by eminent domain. The agency shall hear and consider any objections from the persons to be affected.

If the agency relocates the proposed project following such hearing and such relocation would require the acquisition of rights or interests in the property of more than ten additional owners of separately-owned tracts to whom notice was not previously given, the agency shall give notice as provided in section 3 of this act to such additional owners and shall hold a public hearing as provided in section 4 of this act with reference solely to that part of the project which has been relocated; Provided, that the time restrictions in sections 3 and 4 of this act shall not be applicable to any such additional notice, hearing or negotiations.

Sec. 5. Sections 1 to 5 of this act shall be construed to be cumulative, and independent legislation, and complete in themselves.

Sec. 6. That section 70-301, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

70-301. Any public power district, corporation, or municipality that is now or may hereafter be engaged in the generation or transmission, or both, of electric energy for sale to the public for light and power purposes, may acquire right-of-way over and upon lands, except railroad right-of-way and depot grounds, for the construction of pole lines or underground lines necessary for the conduct of such business, and for the placing of all poles and constructions for the necessary adjuncts thereto, in the same manner as railroad corporations may acquire right-of-way for the construction of railroads. Such district, corporation or municipality shall give public notice of the proposed location of such pole lines or underground lines with a voltage capacity of thirty-four thousand five hundred volts or more which involves the acquisition of rights or interests in more than ten separately-owned tracts by causing to be published a map showing the proposed line route in a legal newspaper of general circulation within the county where such line is to be constructed at least thirty days before negotiating with any person, firm, or corporation to acquire easements or property for such purposes, and shall consider all objections which may be filed to such location. After securing approval from the ~~State Railway Commission~~ Public Service Commission and having complied with the provisions of sections 86-301 to 86-332, such public power districts, corporations, and municipalities shall have the right to condemn a right-of-way over and across railroad right-of-way and depot grounds for the purpose of crossing the same. FIRST SESSION

FIFTY-SIXTH DAY

Legislative Chamber, Lincoln, Nebraska
Monday, March 26, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., President Marsh presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Father Almighty from all eternity:
> In whose eyes a thousand years are but as yesterday when it is past, and as a watch in the night: guide and direct the Nebraska legislature as we prepare now to invest yet another of the segments of time entrusted to our use.
> The needs of the moment are many and pressing, and we may be inclined to forget that current needs seem always of such magnitude; therefore we would ask that they might not seem so overwhelming in our thoughts as to obscure the more distant goals toward which we should be advancing.
> We feel that we might become better equipped to handle the pressures of the present, if our roots are sent deep into the soil of eternal values.
> This is why we pray just now. Not because of any worthiness on our part; not because of any inherent right to special privilege or favor; but simply because we want to do our part to improve the allotment of time which is uniquely our own.
> So hear us, and help us today—and throughout this week. Amen.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINIONS

March 23, 1973

Senator Fred W. Carstens
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator:

In your letter of March 16, 1973, you request an opinion as to the constitutionality of the provisions of lines 21 to 26 of Section 14, on page 15 of the amendments to L. B. 164. Section 14 of L. B. 164 amends Section 8-148, R. R. S. 1943, which deals with loans and investments by state banks. Lines 21 to 26 of this section, which you inquire about, provide as follows:

> "Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, any bank may invest in the shares of any savings and loan association in an amount not exceeding that insured by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation or in noninsured savings and loan associations as the Director of Banking may approve."

We see no difficulty with respect to the authorization to invest in such associations up to the amount of federal insurance. However, we believe that the authorization to invest in noninsured savings and loan associations as the Director of Banking may approve constitutes an unconstitutional delegation of legislative authority to the Director of Banking.

In Lincoln Dairy Co. v. Finigan, 170 Neb. 777, 104 N. W. 2d 227, the court said:

> "It is fundamental that the Legislature may not delegate legislative power to an administrative or executive authority. Smithberger v. Banning, 129 Neb. 651, 262 N. W. 492, 100 A. L. R. 686. The Legislature does have the power to authorize an administrative or executive department to make rules and regulations to carry out an expressed legislative purpose, or for the complete operation and enforcement of a law within designated limitations. Such authority is administrative in its nature and its use by administrative officers is essential to the complete exercise of the powers of all departments. State ex rel. Martin v. Howard, 96 Neb. 278, 147 N. W. 689. It is fundamental, > also, that in the Legislative grant of power to an administrative agency such power must be limited to the expressed legislative purpose and administered in accordance with standards prescribed in the legislative act. * * *."

We find absolutely no standards to guide the Director in determining whether or not investments in noninsured savings and loan associations shall be authorized, or in determining the limitations of such investments. This section, as amended, would apparently give him carte blanche authority to make any decisions he wished in the field. The determination of authorized investments for state banks is a legislative function, and cannot be delegated to the Director of Banking without adequate standards to guide him in the exercise of this authority. For this reason, we believe that the amendment you inquire about may be vulnerable to constitutional attack.

Dear Senator Schmit:

You have asked our opinion relative to a problem existing in your legislative district and which pertains to students who attend a non-public school and who take certain classes in the public school on a part-time basis. Upon giving due consideration to your request we regret that we cannot specifically answer your question in connection therewith as it would violate established policy. In our letter to Mr. Vincent D. Brown under date of December 28, 1972, which is published on pages 36 and 37 of the Legislative Journal, we stated in part as follows:

> "* * * . Also, we will not give an opinion to an individual senator on the constitutionality of or interpretation of a bill which has already become law. If there is a question as to its interpretation, we will be glad to work with the senator and the bill drafter in developing clarifying legislation."

COMMUNICATION

U. S. Department of Transportation
Federal Highway Administration
Washington, D. C. 20590

March 22, 1973

Mr. Vincent D. Brown
Clerk of the Legislature
State of Nebraska Legislative Council
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska 68509

Dear Mr. Brown:

This is in reply to your letter of March 8 to Secretary of Transportation Claude S. Brinegar enclosing a copy of Nebraska Legislative Resolution No. 13 relating to the Highway Trust Fund. I am responding to your comments because the Federal Highway Administration, an agency of the Department of Transportation, has direct responsibility for the Nation's highway construction program.

Certain Federal highway funds are now being withheld by the Office of Management and Budget as part of Government efforts to reduce inflationary pressures. They constitute temporary controls of funds authorized by the Congress, and remain available for release at a later date. It is not possible at this time to estimate when the funds will be released.

Additional bus and rail mass transit facilities will benefit all Americans–including those who drive cars–by reducing traffic congestion, lowering air pollution and conserving our limited energy resources.

Acting on this conviction, the Administration is sponsoring legislation now before the Congress to permit State and local officials to use a limited portion of highway trust funds for bus and rail transit. However, all of such funds could be used for highways if a State wished.

As in the past, the bulk of trust funds would still be reserved solely for highway construction purposes. The Administration bill requests funding toward completion of the Interstate System, as well as for other elements of the Federal-aid highway program. It specifies apportionment formulas for various elements of the Federal-aid highway system.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) R. R. Bartelsmeyer
Acting Federal Highway Administrator

Any money in the Special Highway Transportation Needs Fund available for investment shall be invested by the state investment officer pursuant to sections 72-1237 to 72-1259.

Sec. 2. That section 39-847, Reissue Revised Statutes of Nebraska, 1943, be amended to read as follows:

39-847. (1) ~~The~~ Any county board ~~or boards of any county or counties~~ may apply ~~make application~~, in writing, to the Department of Roads for state aid in the ~~construction or purchase~~ replacement of any bridge ~~across any stream of the width of one hundred feet or more,~~ under the jurisdiction of such ~~county~~ board. ~~or boards.~~ The application shall contain a description of the ~~proposed~~ bridge, with a preliminary estimate of the cost of ~~construction or purchase~~ replacement thereof, and a certified copy of the resolution of such board, ~~or boards,~~ pledging such county ~~or counties~~ to furnish ~~one half~~ fifty per cent of the cost of ~~construction or purchase~~ replacement of such bridge. The county share of replacement cost may be from any source except the State Aid Bridge Fund: Provided, that where there is any bridge ~~are bridges over streams~~ which ~~divide~~ is the responsibility of two counties, either county may make application to the department and, if the application is approved by the department, such county and the department may build such bridge ~~it shall be lawful for such county and the department to build or purchase the same~~ and ~~to~~ recover, by suit, ~~one-fourth~~ one half of the county's cost of such bridge from the county failing or refusing to join in such application. ~~Where any state aid bridge is constructed or purchased, under the provisions of this section, and any county liable for a share of the cost thereof shall be unable to pay its share out of the regular levy for bridge funds, the county board therein is hereby authorized and required to make an annual levy, in addition to other levies authorized by law, of one-fifth mill on the dollar upon the assessed value of all the taxable property in such county, except intangible property, for such period as may be necessary to pay such county's share of the cost of the bridge. Any amount realized by the one-fifth mill levy, in excess of the requirements for such state aid bridge, may be transferred to the general road and bridge~~

~~fund of the county. Provided, in lieu of the one-fifth mill levy, such bridge may be operated as a toll bridge under rules and regulations prescribed by the Department of Roads until such time as the county or counties interested shall collect funds equal to one half of the cost of construction or purchase and maintenance of such bridge.~~ All requests for bridge replacement under this act shall be forwarded by the department to the Board of Public Roads Classifications and Standards. Such board shall establish priorities for bridge replacement, based on critical needs. The board shall, in June and December of each year, consider such applications and establish priorities for a period of time consistent with sections 39-2115 to 39-2119. The board shall return the applications to the department with the established priorities.

(2) The plans and specifications for each bridge shall be furnished by the Department of Roads and replacement shall be under the supervision of the department and the county board.

(3) Any contract for the replacement of any such bridge shall be made by the Department of Roads consistent with procedures for contracts for state highways and federal aid secondary roads.

(4) After the replacement of any such bridge and the acceptance thereof by the Department of Roads, any county having jurisdiction over it shall have sole responsibility for maintenance.

Sec. 3. That section 39-2223, Revised Statutes Supplement, 1972, be amended to read as follows:

39-2223. Under the authority granted by Article XIII, section 1, of the Constitution of Nebraska, the Legislature hereby authorizes the issuance of bonds in the principal amount of twenty million dollars in 1969 and in the principal amount of ten million dollars ~~in 1971~~ on or before June 30, 1975, with the proceeds thereof to be used for the construction of highways in this state, the Legislature expressly finding that the need for such construction requires such action. When the sale in Nebraska of gasoline containing such a blend exceeds ten million gallons per year, an adjustment in the tax may be considered by the Legislature. (1) Each month sixty-four thousand dollars from the Special Highway Transportation Needs Fund shall be allocated to the State's share of the cost of replacing bridges under this act; and

(2) The balance of funds remaining after the allocations for the state's share of the cost of replacing bridges under this act shall be expended for the improvement of the remaining mileage of gravel-surfaced state highways to adequate standards. Fund surplus to this need shall be expended for highway improvement projects for which federal aid matching funds are not available.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

March 27, 1973

Senator Fred W. Carstens
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Carstens:

In your letter of March 21, 1973, you ask whether an amendment to L. B. 312 is unconstitutional, or makes the entire bill unconstitutional. L. B. 312 amends Section 8-157, R. R. S. 1943, to increase from one to two the number of detached auxiliary teller offices a bank may maintain. The amendment you inquire about would limit the maintenance of such detached auxiliary teller offices to banks located in cities of not less than ten thousand inhabitants, and would also limit the maintenance of attached auxiliary teller offices to banks located in cities of that size.

The first question that must be answered is whether restricting the maintenance of such attached or detached auxiliary teller offices to cities having a population in excess of ten thousand is reasonable classification. In Dorrence v. County of Douglas, 149 Neb. 685, 32 N. W. 2d 202, a statute provided for different rules for boarding prisoners in county jails in counties having populations in excess of 200,000. The court, in upholding the statute, said:

> "All reasonable doubts must be resolved in favor of constitutionality in construing a legislative act. Sommerville v. Johnson, ante p. 167, 30 N. W. 2d 577. For purposes of legislation the Legislature may classify counties when the classification rests upon reasonable differences of situation or circumstances which call for distinctive legislation for the class. State ex rel. Cone v. Bauman, 120 Neb. 77, 231 N. W. 693. Where a class of counties is established on the basis of population in such a manner that other counties may in the future enter the class without additional legislation, the law is considered to be general in its nature. State v. Frank, 61 Neb. 679, 85 N. W. 956. The present act is not unconstitutional because of the fact that it is presently applicable to Douglas County alone. Where reasons exist for a legislative classification, which are not superficial or baseless, the courts may not properly interfere. Such classifications do not violate constitutional provisions against local and special legislation. Allan v. Kennard, 81 Neb. 289, 116 N. W. 63. While such classifications are necessarily somewhat arbitrary, they have been uniformly upheld by the courts. The care and feeding of prisoners in the various counties of the state is a matter which is affected by the population of the county. The evidence shows different conditions existing in the various counties of the state. The number of prisoners to be fed varies, generally in proportion to the population of the county. The facilities provided are not uniform and the labor contributed by the sheriffs and their families is a variable factor. The record shows that the classification of counties on a population basis is reasonable under the existing situation and that the Legislature was warranted in making such a classification for the purposes of the act. Under these circumstances it is not the province of the court to re-examine the evidence upon which the Legislature acted. If the > Legislative classification is upon a rational basis, and consequently not unreasonable or arbitrary, it meets the requirements of the Constitution."

We believe that the Legislature could validly determine that more reason exists for permitting the types of auxiliary teller offices involved herein in larger cities than in smaller ones. In larger cities parking problems are likely to be more acute. Inhabitants of larger cities are more likely to live greater distances from the banks, and greater public convenience may be served by permitting the types of drive-in facilities contemplated by the auxiliary teller offices. These are at least some of the reasons the Legislature could conclude that such offices should be permitted in larger cities, but not in smaller ones, where the need was less pressing. We are not able to say that this classification is completely arbitrary, and therefore conclude that this legislation would be constitutional in that restpect.

The next question is whether the withdrawal of authority for the maintenance of such facilities by banks in cities having populations of less than ten thousand is a deprivation of property without due process of law as to banks in such cities now operating such facilities. We have checked with the Banking Department, and there is apparently at least one bank in a city of less than ten thousand which now operates a detached facility, and apparently several which operate attached facilities. The act contains no grandfather clause, so it would appear that such facilities would be required to be discontinued. The banks involved would, no doubt, content that this deprived them of property without due process of law.

In 10 Am. Jur. 2d 35, Banks, Section 10, we find:

> "Banking is a business peculiarly affected with a public interest and is therefore subject to reasonable regulations. Banks are indispensable agencies through which the industry, trade, and commerce of all civilized countries and communities are carried on; the business which they transact, though for private profit, is of a pre-eminently public nature, and is therefore universally recognized as a proper subject of legislative regulation under the police power of the state. Unlike other commercial or manufacturing corporations, banks are quasi-public in nature, and the legislatures have in the public interest exercised a careful supervision over them. The power of the legislature in this regard is supreme, subject only to such limitations as are imposed by the fundamental law. So it is that the obligations of the contracts between savings banks and their depositors are not unconstitutionally impaired by a subsequent proper exercise of the police power. Nor are contract obligations under a banking corporation's charter which is subject to alteration and repeal unconstitutionally impaired by the regulation of their business under the police power of the state. Moreover, the failure of a bank charter to reserve to the state the right of amendment, while preventing an enactment of legislation transgressing or infringing > the rights secured to the bank by its charter, does not protect it against a valid exercise of the police power. Nor is such power of regulation subject to limitation so far as the Fourteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution is concerned, except that such regulation must be reasonable."

In 9 C. J. S. 32, Banks and Banking, Section 5, this language is found:

> "A bank being of a quasi-public character (supra Section 1), the banking business is properly subject to reasonable legislative regulation under the police power of the state because of its nature and the relation which it bears to the fiscal affairs of the people and the revenues of the state, banks being the depositories of the money of the country. The rights of all persons having a direct contact with the business may be altered and changed in a reasonable manner, so that if, in the opinion of the proper authorities, a banking business can no longer be continued with safety the state may order it to cease, as the police power of a state extends even to the prohibition of engaging in the business of banking except upon such conditions as the state may prescribe."

If this legislation is passed, we must assume that the Legislature believes that the operation of these detached facilities is an undesirable practice which jeopardizes the safety of the bank, and is permitted in the larger cities simply because of the public convenience and necessity. The validity of this belief is a matter for determination by the Legislature, and certainly not by us. Assuming the premise of the undersirability of these facilities being maintained in the smaller cities, we believe the Legislature has the power to require discontinuance of even those already established. If the Legislature believes that in the smaller cities this is a bad banking practice, it has a right, in the exercise of its police powers, in view of the quasi-public character of the banking business, to order the discontinuance of the practice. We therefore believe that this would not be held to be a deprivation of property without due process of law.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

March 27, 1973

Senator Steve Fowler
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Dear Senator Fowler:

L. B. 271 would establish a state housing authority which is to be financed by the issuance by the authority of notes and bonds. These are to be the obligations of the housing authority and not of the State and are to be payable out of the revenue of the housing authority and any appropriations which future legislatures may provide. As the income of the housing developments and the proceeds of the sale of notes and bonds would be pledged to the repayment of the authority's obligations and these revenues would not be subject to legislative reappropriation there is raised the question of the constitutionality of the bonded indebtedness provisions.

The Nebraska Supreme Court has held analogous bonded indebtedness provisions invalid in State ex rel. Meyer v. Steen, 183 Neb. 297, and State ex rel. Meyer v. Duxbury, 183 Neb. 302, in 1968. The constitutional limitation upon state indebtedness appears in Article XIII, Section 1 of the Constitution of Nebraska.

> "The state may, to meet casual deficits, or failures in the revenue, contract debts never to exceed in the aggregate one hundred thousand dollars, and no greater indebtedness shall be incurred except for the purpose of repelling invasion, suppressing insurrection, or defending the state in war, and provision shall be made for the payment of the interest annually, as it shall accrue, by a tax levied for the purpose, or from other sources of revenue, which law providing for the payment of such interest by such tax shall be irrepealable until such debt is paid; Provided, that if the Legislature determines by a three-fifths vote of the members elected thereto that the need for construction of highways in this state requires such action, it may authorize the issuance of bonds for such construction, and for the payment of the interest and the retirement of such bonds it may pledge any tolls to be received from such highways or it may irrevocably pledge for the term of the bonds all or a part of any state revenue closely related to the use of such highways, such as motor vehicle fuel taxes or motor vehicle license fees; and provided further, that the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, the Board of Trustees of the Nebraska State Colleges, and the State Board of Education may issue revenue bonds to construct, purchase or otherwise acquire, extend, add to, remodel, repair, furnish and equip dormitories, residence halls, single or multiple dwelling units or other facilities for the housing and boarding of students, single or married, and faculty or other employees, buildings and structures for athletic purposes, student unions or centers, and for the medical care and physical development and activities of students and buildings or other facilities for parking, which bonds shall be payable solely out of revenue, fees and other payments derived from the use of the buildings and facilities constructed or acquired, including buildings and facilities heretofore or hereafter constructed or acquired, and paid for out of the proceeds of other issues of revenue bonds, and the revenue, fees and payments so pledged need not be appropriated by the Legislature, and any > such revenue bonds heretofore issued by either of such boards are hereby authorized, ratified and validated. Bonds for new construction shall be first approved as the Legislature shall provide."

This provision has been interpreted by the court in Duxbury as a "limitation upon indebtedness . . . to prevent the anticipation of revenue by the creation of obligations to be paid from revenue to be received in future periods."

As the act would make the state housing authority an instrumentality of the State established for a public purpose, it would follow then that its revenue would be "public revenue," which must constitutionally be available to the Legislature for reappropriation. As the bonded indebtedness provisions of the act would pledge these funds for repayment of the authority's obligations and thus place them beyond the plenary control of the Legislature they violate the constitutional limitation upon indebtedness.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General

A BILL FOR AN ACT to appropriate five thousand six hundred fifty-two dollars from the state General Fund for the period of July 1, 1973 to June 30, 1974 to the Commission on Mexican-Americans, Agency No. 506 for Program 537, Mexican-American Commission, to aid in carrying out the provisions of Legislative Bill 506, Eighty-third Legislature, First Session, 1973.

UNANIMOUS CONSENT–Print in Journal

Mr. Syas asked unanimous consent to have the following Committee Statement on LR 19 printed in the Journal. No objections. So ordered.

CONSTITUTIONAL REVISION AND RECREATION COMMITTEE

LR 19

The original Resolution called for a Constitutional Convention by the various states. There has been only one Federal Constitutional Convention before and that was the original one. The Committee felt that it was doubtful that if a Constitutional Convention were called by the states, and even if the specific reason for its calling was cited, that the delegates would stay within that format. Knowledgeable people in this field indicate that regardless of the reason the Convention was called the Convention could go into anything and rewrite the Federal Constitution. Therefore, to forestall that from happening the Committee amended the Resolution to urge Congress to pass this Constitutional Amendment and give it to the states for ratification. This is the usual method by which amendments to the Federal Constitution have been handled. This has been a safe and sound method.

In order to clarify further a suggestion might be made to amend the Resolution using the word bussing, which is what the amendment is all about, but doesn't specifically say so.

Appearing in favor of LR 19 was its introducer, Senator Terry Carpenter.

Appearing in opposition to LR 19 were Tereas K. Jackson, Nebraska League of Women Voters and Kappie Weber, Nebraska League of Women Voters.

It was moved and seconded that LR 19 as amended be advanced to General File. Motion passed: 6 Ayes, 1 Nay, 0 Not Voting and 0 Absent. Voting Aye were Senators Syas, Anderson, Burbach, Carstens, Kelly and Snyder. Voting Nay was Senator Keyes.

MOTION—State Office Building

This body and the Governor have agreed that the construction of a State Office Building is imperative. Accordingly, we have passed LB 447 and the Governor has signed it into law. 2) completion of building plans
3) construction start time
4) building completion and occupancy.

Tuesday, April 3, 1973

Pursuant to adjournment, the Legislature met at 9:00 a.m., Mr. Whitney presiding.

PRAYER

The prayer was offered by the Chaplain.

> Take resentment out of our thoughts and actions today, O Lord our God, even though things may occur which annoy or hurt us . . . even though we may feel ourselves being misjudged or overlooked or underestimated.
> Too often our speech and actions come as the release of pent-up emotions which burst out uncontrolled—and how can we be right in our actions when we are not right in our attitudes? Prove to us the foolishness of resentment, and the wisdom of forgiveness. Help us to understand that if we can be proud of our innermost motives and attitudes, we will have no reason to be ashamed of the record of this Legislature. Amen.

STANDING COMMITTEE REPORTS
Miscellaneous Subjects

LEGISLATIVE BILL 212. Placed on General File as amended.
Standing Committee amendments to LB 212:

1. Strike sections 1 to 10, and insert the following:

"Section 1. For purposes of this act, unless the context otherwise requires:

(1) Home solicitation sale shall mean a sale, lease, or rental of consumer goods or services with a purchase price of twenty-five dollars or more, whether under a single or multiple contract, in which the seller or his representative personally solicits the sale, including those in response to or following the invitation by the buyer, and the buyer's agreement or offer to purchase is made at a place other than the place of business of the seller. The term home solicitation sale does not include a transaction:

(a) Made pursuant to prior negotiations in the course of a visit by the buyer to a retail business establishment having a fixed permanent location where the goods are exhibited or the services are offered for sale on a continuing basis;

(b) In which the consumer is accorded the right to rescission by the provisions of the Consumer Credit Protection Act (15 U. S. C. 1635) or regulations issued pursuant thereto;

(c) In which the buyer has initiated the contact and the goods or services are needed to meet a bona fide immediate personal emergency of the buyer, and the buyer furnishes the seller with a separate dated and signed personal statement in the buyer's handwriting describing the situation requiring immediate remedy and expressly acknowledging and waiving the right to cancel the sale within three business days;

(d) Conducted and consummated entirely by mail or telephone; and without any other contact between the buyer and the seller or its representative prior to delivery of the goods or performance of the services;

(e) In which the buyer has initiated the contact and specifically requested the seller to visit his home for the purpose of repairing or performing maintenance upon the buyer's personal property. If in the course of such a visit, the seller sells the buyer the right to receive additional services or goods other than replacement parts necessarily used in performing the maintenance or in making the repairs, the sale of those additional goods or services would not fall within this exclusion; or

(f) Pertaining to the sale of securities or commodities by a broker-dealer registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission;

(2) Buyer shall mean both actual and prospective purchasers or lessees of any goods or services offered through home solicitation selling;

(3) Seller shall mean a person or organization who advertises, offers, or deal in goods or services for the purpose of home solicitation selling or provides or exercises supervision, direction or control over sales practices used in the home solicitation sale, but shall not include banks, savings and loan associations, insurance companies, public utilities, licensed motor vehicle dealers, licensed real estate borkers or salesmen with respect to real estate listings or the sale or leasing of real estate, but the term shall include a supplier or distributor if:

(a) The seller is a subsidiary or affiliate of the supplier or distributor;

(b) The seller interchanges personnel or maintains common or overlapping officers or directors with the supplier or distributor; or

(c) The supplier or distributor provides or exercises supervision, direction or control over the selling practices of the seller.

Sec. 2. In a home solicitation sale the seller shall, at the outset, clearly and expressly disclose the seller's individual name, the name of the business firm or organization he represents, and the identity of the goods or services he offers to sell.

Sec. 3. (1) In addition to any right otherwise to revoke an offer, to rescind the transaction or to exercise any remedy for the seller's breach, a buyer may cancel a home solicitation sale until midnight of the third business day after the seller has given notice to the buyer in accordance with section 4 of this act.

(2) Notice of cancellation shall be by mail addressed to the seller and shall be considered given at the time mailed.

(3) Notice of cancellation by the buyer need not take a particular form and is sufficient if it indicates by any form of written expression the intention of the buyer not to be bound by such home solicitation sale.

Sec. 4. (1) Whenever a buyer has the right to cancel a home solicitation sale, the seller's contract shall contain a notice to be printed in capital and lowercase letters of not less than ten point boldface type and appear under the conspicuous caption: BUYER'S RIGHT TO CANCEL; which shall read as follows: You may cancel this agreement or purchase by either mailing a written notice to the seller postmarked not later than the third business day after the date you signed this agreement or purchased the goods or services, or by delivering such written notice to the seller, by 5 p.m. of the third business day after you signed this agreement or purchased the goods or services. If you wish, you may use this page as that notice by writing "I hereby cancel" and adding your name and address.

(2) A home solicitation sales contract which contains the "Notice of Cancellation" form and content provided in the Federal Trade Commission's trade regulation rule providing a cooling-off period shall be deemed as complying with the requirements of subsection (1) of this section, so long as the Federal Trade Commission language provides at least equal information to the consumer conerning his right to cancel as is required by this act.

(3) A seller who in the ordinary course of business regularly uses a language other than English in any advertising or other solicitation of customers or in any printed forms for use by buyers or in any face-to-face negotiations with buyers, shall give the notice described in this section to a buyer whose principal language is such other language, both in English and in the other language.

(4) The notice required under this section shall be delivered either after all the credit cost disclosures have been made to the buyer as required by the federal Consumer Credit Protection Act and the buyer has signed the writing evidencing the transaction, or contemporaneously therewith, but not before.

(5) Until the seller has complied with this section the buyer may cancel the home solicitation sale by notifying the seller in any manner and by any means of his intention to cancel. The three business day period prescribed by this act shall begin to run from the time the seller complies with this section.

ATTORNEY GENERAL OPINION

April 3, 1973

Senator Robert L. Clark
Nebraska State Legislature
State Capitol
Lincoln, Nebraska

Re: L. B. 36

Dear Senator Clark:

This is in reply to your inquiry concerning the constitutionality of L. B. 36, as amended on March 29, 1973, which would grant to the State and counties, without compensation to the School Trust, an easement for a public road or highway along the side of a school section, or on any part of a section that has an established meandering road.

The lands with which the provisions of L. B. 36 are concerned were acquired by the State of Nebraska by the Enabling Act of Congress adopted April 19, 1864. Section 7 of this act provides as follows:

> "And be it further enacted, that Sections 16 and 36 in every township, and when such sections have been sold or otherwise disposed of by any act of Congress, other lands equivalent thereto, in legal subdivisions of not less than one-quarter section, and as contiguous as may be, shall be, and are hereby, granted to said state for the support of the common schools."

With regard to the use to which these lands must be put, Article VII, Section 9 of the state constitution provides:

> "The following funds shall be exclusively used for the support and maintenance of the common schools in each school district in the state as the Legislature shall provide:
> "* * * * *.
> "C. All other grants, gifts and devises that have been or may hereafter be made to the state which are not otherwise appropriated by the terms of the grant, gift or devise; * * *."

In 1966 the State of Arizona, on the relation of its highway department, sued its state land commissioner to prohibit the commissioner's application of his rule that in acquiring rights of way over federally donated lands held in trust by the state, the highway department must pay the appraised value of the property taken. The Supreme Court of Arizona ordered the commissioner to grant such rights of way upon trust lands without compensation. On certiorari to the Supreme Court of the United States a unanimous court held that in acquiring rights of way in federally donated lands held in trust under the New Mexico-Arizona enabling act, Arizona must actually compensate the trust in money for the value of any rights of way which it obtains over the trust lands. Lassen v. Arizona, 386 U. S. 939, 17 L. Ed. 2d 515, 87 S. Ct. 584.

Considering the provisions of L. B. 36, as amended, in light of the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, it is doubtful that the constitutionality of L. B. 36 could be upheld.

Very truly yours,

CLARENCE A. H. MEYER
Attorney General
